LOCAL AND PERSONAL

The Misses Rose Wickman and Lous Dunlap walked to Medford Sunday, leaving this city at 5:15 in the morning and arriving at the Jackson county metropolis at 6:15 in the evening, with a stop of two hours at Gold Hill at noon. With other stops counted out, the total walking time was ten hours, or the remarkable time of 5.3 miles per hour. The ladies returned home on No. 54.—Grants Pass Courier.

J. H. Linville, who recently arrived in Medford from Portland, accompanied by Mrs. Linville, has purchased the Centers ten-acre farm, about a mile and a half north of the city, and will take possession of the home the latter part of this week. Mrs. Linville, by the way, is a sister of Evan Reames, now of Klamath Falls, but formerly a resident of Jacksonville, and resided in this county during her younger womanhood days. She is glad to return to this valley as a permanent home place. Mr. Linville is much pleased with the prospects of the valley and says he has no desire to go further.

Arthur Brown, who returned from the Klamath country a few weeks ago, says there isn't enforcedly an idle man in that region; that the sawmills are busy on full time, some of them having enlarged their plants for additional output because of the extraordinary demand for lumber, and that new mills are being erected. The last one of large capacity is now being constructed at Modoc Point on the lake. It will have to obtain its force from outside districts, for there are no idle men locally for its crew. This is the nature of the story from all of the lumber districts of the northwest.

He was so pleased with the general appearance of the valley and the apparent substantiality of its resources that he has long desired to visit it again. On his return from Portland he will stop long enough to make a further investigation of the business situation here. "I am making a fair income where I am," said Mr. Chinnamin, "but I am not satisfied with the climate. From what I read and see, I believe Rogue river valley has the choicest brand of climate, from one year to another, on the Pacific coast."

Development beyond the dreams of your most sanguine optimist will follow a road to the coast through the vast mineral and timber resources in the mountains it would necessarily traverse."

Orchardists generally in this valley are willing to concede the damaging effects of the oil smudge as practiced here and elsewhere, and a majority of them say that they will hereafter prepare to use a substitute next year. A number of them have a supply of oil on hand and they express a desire to save loss of the money invested in it by using it this season. Almost without exception, however, they are agreed that a less hurtful substitute must be found. Many of them believe that they have found it in wood, others in a device that produces perfect combustion of the oil and a few in the irrigation process. The latter, however, presupposes the existence of irrigation facilities. These are yet lacking on a large area of the orchard districts of the valley.

"Matrimony," which opened at the Page yesterday, carries the Triangle-Ince stamp commendably.

"Matrimony," for which Julia Dean posed, makes a plea for fair play in the marital relation and, in a satire, seeks to answer the query, "How to Hold a Wife."

The comedy was the dessert of the film. "Stolen Magic" gives Raymond Hitchcock even greater opportunities than his first Triangle-Keystone comedy, "My Valet."

These Triangle plays will be repeated again tonight.

Frost Warnings

The weather forecasts issued by the U. S. weather bureau for the benefit of the fruit growers in the valley during the frost season will be obtainable through the courtesy of the telephone company's "central" operators, as was the custom last year. These forecasts will be given the operators usually about 8 o'clock in the morning, though occasionally when special weather changes are probable, an additional forecast will be issued about 9 o'clock in the evening.

This work is in charge of Edward A. Beals, district weather forecaster at Portland, who, with the assistant forecaster, T. Francis Drake, is making the predictions for this office. Amplifications of the forecasts will be made for various parts of the valley when conditions warrant, by J. Cecil Alter, observer, temporarily stationed at Medford, in this office.

PRESIDENT GIVEN CONTROL OVER ARMY RESERVE

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The house today continued work on the Hay army reorganization bill with about two-thirds of the measure remaining to be disposed of. Among the sections awaiting consideration were those relating to the National Guard, the industrial reserve and providing for a nitrate plant.

The first action of the house today was to adopt without debate an amendment to give the president absolute control over the reserve of 60,000 men.

The bill originally provided that authority must be granted by congress before the reservists could be mobilized. An amendment offered by Representative Kahn of the committee and accepted by Chairman Hay, puts reservists under the orders of the secretary of war to be sent to any point when the call to the colors goes out.

The amendment is the most important to the bill yet made. As the measure now stands the president would have authority without consulting congress to increase the army from 140,000 fighting troops to 175,000 and also to summon to the colors the 80,000 reservists which the bill contemplates will be provided within four years.

The house rejected a proposal by Representative Anthony, republican, of Kansas, to recruit an additional infantry regiment in Porto Rico for service in the Panama canal zone or elsewhere.

TRYING TO SPEED-UP PREPARATION BILLS

WASHINGTON, March 21.—To speed up the administration's legislative program Democratic Leader Kitchin at the house caucus tomorrow, will urge every chairman to report his bills as quickly as possible and will give notice that the minimum of time will be permitted for general debate.

President Wilson is urging short debate and frequent use of special rules to hurry legislation.

ENTENTE ALLIES WILL FIGHT UNTIL BELGIUM RESTORED

LONDON, March 21.—The entente allies have promised Belgium she will be invited to participate in the peace negotiations.

The announcement regarding Belgium was made by Sir Edward Grey, the minister of foreign affairs, who informed the house of commons today that Great Britain, France and Russia had made the declaration to Belgium that when the time came she would be invited to participate in the peace negotiations.

A guarantee was given to Belgium, Sir Edward Gray said, that the powers would not cease hostilities until she had been reinstated in her political and economic independence and largely indemnified "for the wrongs she had suffered."

The entente allies, the secretary added, would also lend their aid to help her financially.

LOCAL GYP THE BLOOD SKIDOOS FOR GOOD

Constable Al B. Hammond has carried about with him for a month or more a warrant for the arrest of young Turpin, who in recent months has been known as "Gyp the Blood," because of his apparent admiration for the criminal adventures of that character as one of New York's gunmen. Finally the officer has concluded that "Gyp" has skidooed for good and expresses relief, for young Turpin was lately under police surveillance most of the time whole here. The charge against him in this warrant case is that of a gun play against two young men with whom he associated betimes, one of whom being known by the sobriquet "Letty Louie," another New York character. These names are applied more in burlesque than otherwise.

All trace of Turpin is lost, however, and the police department is glad of it, for "Gyp the Blood" was a nuisance, sometimes going so far in his "bad-man adventures as to invite serious disorder and possible tragedy. Should he ever return to Medford, however, the warrant will be applied.

MOTHER! DON'T TAKE CHANCES IF CHILD'S TONGUE IS COATED

If Cross, Feverish, Sick, Bilious, Clean Little Liver and Bowels.

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, Mother! If coated or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat hearylit, full of fold or has sore throat or any other children's ailments, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is oftimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the California Fig Syrup Company."—Adv.
