TIME TO SPRAY FOR DANDELIONS

The beautiful and well kept lawns in Medford have been a matter of pride as well as a subject of favorable comment by visitors to the city, and it has become a matter of no small concern to know how to combat the rapidly increasing crops of dandelions that have become so numerous the past two years, and which are showing up in still increasing numbers this spring. It has been only in the past two or three years that dandelions have been in evidence in Medford, but they are increasing in such numbers that prompt measures should be taken to entirely eradicate them, or they will eradicate the lawns.

Experiments made by the Colorado Agricultural college in the destruction of the dandelions prove that they can be quickly and permanently killed with very little trouble or expense. It was found that with three applications at short intervals of a 20 percent solution of iron sulphate the yellow plants were completely eradicated. After the first application the dandelions turn black and apparently die, but it was found necessary to repeat the dose to complete their destruction. In the college campus, which had practically been taken by the dandelions, not a survival was left after the third application. It is suggested that the iron sulphate be put on with a force spray. The solution does not injure the grass in any manner.

The above is commended to the many property owners of Medford who find their lawns about to be obliterated by dandelions.

THOMAS ACCUSED OF BIGAMY BY MEDFORD WIFE

Mrs. Frank Thomas, who came from California and located in Medford with her husband last August, charging her husband with non-support. The husband went to Eugene after a residence in this city of two weeks, last August. On serving the warrant in Eugene yesterday, the officer discovered that Thomas was living with another woman whom he called wife. He said he was never married to the "Medford woman."

Married in California

Wednesday morning Mrs. Thomas presented her marriage certificate to Prosecuting Attorney Kelly, showing that she and Frank Thomas were married in California on August 5, 1913. She is the mother of a babe by Thomas nearly two years old. They lived at Livermore, Cal., nearly a year following their marriage and at Dunsmuir, Cal., and Klamath Falls, this state, before coming to Medford last fall.

Two weeks after their arrival in this city Thomas left, locating in Eugene. He is a laundryman, car driver and works at many other things when he is pressed for money, the wife says. Generally, she avers, he is a ne'er-do-well, although a man 31 years old and of attractive personality.

Mrs. Thomas, who is willing to go to Eugene and appear against her husband, who will be charged with bigamy, says she discovered from a letter written by her husband's sister some months ago, that he was a married man when he pretended to be a single man. The sister wrote to make inquiry about his wife and children, not knowing that he was living with a wife in Oregon. Thomas explained this inquiry by saying that he was not married to the woman about whom the sister asked.

Wife Supported Self

Mrs. Thomas says she has supported herself, as she is doing now, ever since they were married. Sometimes, she says, she supported the husband, also. In answer to the question by Judge Kelly as to whether or not she is willing to prosecute her husband, she answered very positively that she is. The case will probably be heard in Lane county where the alleged crime of bigamy is said to have been committed.

Mrs. Thomas' father lives near Sacramento, Cal. Her mother died about a month ago. She is making her home here with Mrs. L. Ward, 318 E. Main street.

Mrs. Thomas, an attractive brunette, will be 22 years old next July.
