EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

By A. C. Howlett

Last Tuesday evening there was a spelling contest between the fifth and eighth grades of our school and the grown-ups. The children had a very decided advantage over the grown-ups, as they had been drilling on the list of 1000 words for some time, but the contest was quite spirited and the children held their own up to the very last.

An amusing incident occurred in the course of the contest. Miss Taylor gave out the word "rational," and as quick as a flash the little hands went up with the exclamation that the word was not in the list. She had made a mistake and pronounced rational instead of national, and the children had had the words so well memorized that they detected the change in a moment. The result was at the end of the contest that among the children, Misses Nellie Coy, Helen Holt and Stella Betts, and Master Roland Stowell remained, while Dr. W. W. P. Holt was left along with the adults. They ruled out all who are now engaged in teaching, but admitted some who have been engaged in that profession. Everything passed off very pleasantly and no doubt the contest will be of lasting benefit to the children and may stimulate the older ones to rub off the rust and revive some of the thoughts of our youthful days.

Harry Loflund, one of the candidates, was out Wednesday trying to influence the people to vote for him at the primary for sheriff.

Lee Farlow of Lake Creek came out Thursday, took dinner with us and went on out to Medford on the P. & E. to have an pleasured tooth treated.

S. P. Mathews of Butte Falls came out Thursday and stopped off to see Dr. Holt with regard to his troubles.

Corbin Edgell was among the business callers Thursday, and so was A. N. Hildebrand. He was out introducing himself to the voters of our town as one of the candidates for the nomination for county clerk. He seemed to make a very favorable impression while here. While he was in Butte Falls one of the voters asked him if he was a lawyer, if he had ever held office, etc., and wanted to know all about him.

R. F. Robinson camped here Thursday night with his family. He was from Siskiyou county, California, on his way to the Gresham school district to teach. He had traded for a farm in Siskiyou county, and last winter the snow fell six feet deep on his land, so while the snow is going off he is going to teach school and thus utilize his time. He has a wife and seven children.

A. F. Brown of Medford came out Friday and took the Eagle Point-Perist stage for Elk creek, where he is going to do some surveying on the old Traylor place.

Carl von der Hellen, Richard Thomas, Sam Courtney, George Austin, the Eagle Point-Climax mail contractor and carrier, and Ed Walker were here for dinner Friday.

The Eagle Point basketball team was to have gone over to Applegate to play against the Applegate team Saturday, but the continued storm has been such that Professor W. O. Wheeler, the leader of the Eagle Point team, notified the Applegate folk that they would not come at that time, but some time in the near future. And he further told me that the people of Applegate were very much hurt on account of the statement made in the article to which I referred a short time ago, and that there was the kindest of feelings on their part toward the citizens of Eagle Point.

J. P. Hughes, one of the leading business men of Butte Falls, and S. P. Mathews, also of Butte Falls, came out from Medford Friday evening, spent the night at the Sunnyside and Saturday morning took the P. & E. for Butte Falls.

G. W. Wheeler, recent from Massachusetts, where he went intending to remain permanently, but found the winter too severe for him, called on his son, Professor W. O. Wheeler, on his way to Fresno, Cal., last Friday.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tanager of Butte Falls, March 23, twin boys, Dr. Holt reports.

John Owens of Wellen was smiling on his friends here Saturday morning.

I noticed eight rolls of wire fencing on the depot platform this (Saturday) morning for Lemmon Charley of Brownsboro.

Among the arrivals on the P. & E. this morning was William Gieves, our county assessor, and a very prominent candidate for the nomination for sheriff at the primary. He stopped off just long enough to shake hands with about a dozen friends who met him at the depot and went on to Butte Falls. J. Terrill of Talent was with him, but he stopped off here and went to the Sunnyside and so did E. W. Lemming, also of Talent. Also J. J. Conway, a salesman representing Peet Bros. Co. of Kansas City, Kan. Miss Pearl L. Gould, who is teaching in the Antelope district, and J. J. Spitzer.

Six months ago E. J. Ayres, who owns a fine farm on the Eagle Point-Derby road, took a notion to make a change in his paper and ordered, through me, his Daily Mail Tribune discontinued and paid me for a year's subscription to the weekly, and last winter I saw him and he said that he thought that he had missed it in making the change, but he would let it go for a while, but today he called on me to make the change and paid me the balance, $4.25, over the 75 cents he had paid on the subscription to the weekly, making it $5, and took his receipt for a year's subscription to the Daily Mail Tribune—a sensible move.

ENTENTE FINDS CACHE OF TEUTON SUBMARINES

LONDON, Mar. 29.—Allied warships have declared a blockade of the Grecian coast," says the Times Athens correspondent, "and are allowing no vessels to enter or leave port. This step was taken following the alleged discovery in Crete by landing parties from French and British ships that German agents were actively storing and shipping supplies to Austro-German submarines.

"Advices from Paris say that sailors who landed from an allied warship arrested the skippers of a German salvage boat and an Austrian schooner in the harbor and conveyed them to the warship.

Built like a Safe

Steel-and-Asbestos construction of "Y and E" STEEL Filing Cabinets provides real fire protection.

In one vital respect, "Y and E" STEEL Cabinets aren't built like other steel cabinets; they are built with two steel walls instead of one, and with dead air space and sheet asbestos between them walls.

Take no chances when buying new cabinets. Buy "Y and E" STEEL and thus protect your records from loss by fire. Prices no higher. Automatic latches prevent drawers from opening accidentally, and special suspension slides facilitate their operation.

This is the most approved type of construction for use in modern fire-proof safes. And it is used in all exterior parts of every "Y and E" STEEL Cabinet—top, bottom, sides, back and drawers—fronts. It gives real protection against fire.

Single-wall construction gives only a "veneer" of safety which is doubly a non-sense because it is often mistakenly represented as fire-proof. Build a lighted match
