BENTON BOWERS.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY
The records of the county clerk at this time show a saving of $4599.00 in the administration of this office as compared with the previous term. This has been accomplished by transacting the same amount of business before grand juries in no day that has formerly required five or six days, and by eliminating many petty matters, and without any sacrifice to law enforcement in the county. I feel that this saving and my experience entitles me to a second term. I am therefore a candidate for reelection to the office of district attorney.
E. E. KELLY.

DESIGNED TO KEEP YOU JOYFUL UNTIL MONDAY.

EDITORIAL

The fire department has been called out for six false alarms in the last week—and all four of them are getting mighty tired of it.

If the scoundrels who have been fooling with the bell knew how much trouble they caused, perhaps they wouldn't be so fresh.

He and the other three went everywhere in town looking for the fire. The last place the chief visited was O'Toole's cafe which he inspected so thoroughly that he didn't remember about the deacon till four hours later, thereby losing as good a patient as ever sat in a barber's chair.

So, villains, you see how your pranks interfere with the commerce and trade of our rising community. Beware!

All Briggs, our talented local barber, has got a new funny magazine in his studio for the use of his patients who wait for him to begin operations. We don't know how funny it is ourselves, because we didn't get shaved last week.

John Cummings of Barlows Corners came to town last night to start buying a sewing machine for Mrs. Cummings on the installment plan. He said he hoped to get it all paid for if he lived that long.

I have held the position of deputy sheriff during the past four years. It is unanimously conceded that a marked improvement has been made in all departments of the sheriff's office during the incumbency of the present sheriff, the records in the office at the beginning of the present administration were considered the worst in the state—these are now

THE GREAT HEADACHE MYSTERY

"Hangover!" shrieked Pete Pook the chief detective. "You're a bonehead!" Slowly Pete walked to the wide-open window and opened it. He drew from his hind pocket a gyro santly phycology, his own invention, and then attached it to his head like a feedbag.

"Even if you are a bonehead, even" mused Pete, "you'll make a great sleuth."

Pete looked out the window through his machine at the now-fallen snow. "Of course there are no footprints."

"Hangover, you poor hambone," sneered Pete, "how could there be? The crime was committed by a mad clam!"

"A mad clam!" screamed Hangover. "How do you make that out?" "Why, you crawfish, it must have been made by a clam," Pete answered. "Since a clam has no feet it couldn't leave any footprints, could it?" And the great chief chuckled as he took off the harness. "Hangover, you're a bonehead!"

In addition to my efforts to raise the standard of teaching and improve the physical conditions at school I have labored to promote the welfare of the boys and girls through industrial clubs, school fairs, school credits for home work, parent-teacher conferences, spelling and arithmetic contests, and other activities.
