

"PIGMY ZEPPELIN" TO CLASH WITH GERMANY'S AIR-MONSTERS BUILDING IN AMERICA TO GUARD BRITAIN!

COUNTY PIONEER DISFRANCHISED BY CLERK GARDNER

John Ashpole, pioneer of Jackson county, for over half a century one of its most substantial citizens, holder of a donation land claim, twice county assessor, and a voter since his majority is among the many disfranchised by County Clerk Gardner, who refuse him registration.

Mr. Ashpole came to the United States when a babe in arms seventy odd years ago from England, where he was born. His father was naturalized while Mr. Ashpole was a child and no question was ever raised as to his citizenship. He does not know where his father was naturalized, but the federal government accepted his own citizenship and gave him a homestead. Jackson county accepted his citizenship and honored him with office before the great citizenship denier at the court house was born.

Owney Patton is another of the legion of Gardner's disfranchised. Owney came from Iceland an infant in his mother's arms and grew up to be a famous ball player. While he was a child, Owney's father was naturalized and fought through the Civil war as defender of old glory. No question was ever raised as to Owney's citizenship before and naturally he was not posted on the details of his father's registration some sixty years ago. Over thirty years he has voted and even been elected to public office. For 8 years Owney has voted in Jackson county.

Although congress, during the war, passed an act conferring citizenship upon the foreign born who were enlisted in the army defending the union, Mr. Gardner does not recognize their citizenship, and veterans who for several decades have helped the development of Jackson county are finding themselves disfranchised in their old age by our smart young county clerk who refuses to follow the advice of the county's legal advisor, and insists upon the narrowest possible construction of the law.

Section 2 of the registration law was designed to cover just such cases, not to disfranchise respectable citizens. It reads:

"Provided, however, that all persons heretofore registered in said county as fully naturalized citizens, shall not be required to exhibit their citizenship papers when registering under this act."

So there are plenty of authorities for accepting registrations. If the county clerk desired to, instead of hunting up technicalities to deny worthy citizens their rights.

Macklyn Sennott has set another notch in novelty by the extraordinary offering at the Page theater today and tomorrow. This is a roaring burlesque on the daily life at Keystone itself. It is entitled "Fatty and the Broadway Stars," from the circumstance that Fatty portrays the humble sweeper out of this Triangle film establishment and Willie Fielder, Sam Bernard, Weber and Fields and Joe Jackson are the luminaries for whom he cleans up and runs errands.

The Triangle Griffith dramatic feature "Jordan is a Hard Road" is a dramatization of Sir Gilbert Parker's novel of the great northwest. It has a story which is clearly told and rich in incident. Its pathos rings true and its humor is delicate and spontaneous. Above all, it has two fine characters which are splendidly portrayed by Frank Campbell and Dorothy Gish. As Billy Minden, the converted landlubber, Campbell's acting has both strength and subtlety; his impersonation is a study of the emotions of an unemotional man. As for Dorothy Gish, she proves herself a real emmettine. She plays the role of a romantic and religious young girl without making her sentiment seem ridiculous or her indolism insincere.

Why Smoke Ed Cigars When La Gondas are only 15c.

A "pigmy Zeppelin" has been born—a little fellow weighing only 2300 pounds.

It is the progeny of American genius—the invention of T. Rutherford MacVeechen, president of the Aeronautical Society of America, and Walter Kamp, prominent American aeronautical designer.

The Zeppelin is one-tenth the size of the latest model of German Zeppelin and has been built at the order of the British government. The flier has a speed of 70 miles an hour, 10 miles faster than the giant German Zeppelin.

To reduce weight and thereby raise speed was the purpose of the two Americans who built the British airship.

PLAN TO START LUMBER OPERATIONS NOW UNDERWAY

The sawmill and box factory proposition of local growth has attained a maturation that justifies public discussion. A committee will probably be appointed in a few days by the Commercial club to help in its promotion. S. S. Bullis, president of the Southern Oregon Tractor company, will probably be at the head of it. Mayor Emerick is the first to offer a substantial purchase of stock in it. Other local capitalists, having been interested in the plan, will probably follow with equally liberal contributions in the way of stock purchases. S. S. Bullis, it is believed, will take care of the remainder of the sum necessary to finance the institution.

It is hoped that the mill may be given an capacity of 100,000 a day. Whether or not it may be sufficiently financed for a plant of that size remains to be determined.

Local capital, it is said, will probably own it. The positive need, more and more apparent every day, of a mill and box factory in this valley, thus saving for home use tens of thousands of dollars sent away each year for fruit boxes and crates and for lumber for local consumption in every form of use, has driven local business men to conclude that they ought not longer to delay the organization of a company that will take care of this important business.

Considerable progress is being made today in enlisting local encouragement and help.

A Little Blossom To Delight the Home

When it is known that in the near future the home is to be blessed with a new arrival the first thought should be "Mother's Friend." This is an extract recently gently applied over the stomach of the mother. It makes the firm and plants, they expand naturally without undue strain. It soothes the nerves, soothes the stomach, which are so susceptible, for each of the pains incident to the period of expectancy. It is for this reason that much of the distress such as morbid sickness is avoided. All prospective fathers should see to it that the expectant mother is provided with a bottle of "Mother's Friend."

The benefits are simple, that if at any time she is oppressed by the expectant mother herself, it penetrates deeply and acts quick and substantial relief in a most gratifying manner and relieves a physical ailment in the nervous disposition of the baby. Don't fail to get a bottle of "Mother's Friend" today and there will be brightest health for a pretty little baby instead of sickness and its expected mother. It is a delight to read it.

Reduction of weight is accomplished by substituting mahogany, cut in thin layers, for aluminum which composes the frame work. Rings of mahogany are used to keep the hull in spherical shape.

Thirty-nine layers of the wood have been glued together to make the rings. Wooden ropes, no thicker than a man's hand, are wound round the full until the rings and ropes make a huge mesh of basket work.

There are, in reality, two hulls, the inner enclosing 13 gas bags, the outer supporting a waterproof and airtight envelop or skin. Twenty-nine transverse girders encircle the inner hull, and a spider web of wire cables stiffens the alternate ribs and forms the bulkheads between the gas bags.

Two eight-inch cylinder, six-horse power motors have been installed, and by means of cable drivers transmit the power to four propellers mounted high above the car, two being placed on each side of the slender torpedo-like hull.

A process which artificially cools and heats the gas has been devised and in this process lies the control of the lifting power of the pigmy dirigible.

The inventors believe they have constructed a rigid airship one-third lighter than it is possible to build a Zeppelin of the same size. The hull and car weigh 2190 pounds. The total weight of equipment, crew and engine is 5500, leaving a margin of 1300 pounds for ballast, explosives and additional fuel.

"Tell Me the Secret"

"How do you make such delicious muffins? Mine are always so dry. And if I make the batter thin they fall. How do you do it?"

"I make them about as you do, only I use K C Baking Powder. Mine always turn out well, and it must be the baking powder."

It is the baking powder. To make muffins, cakes and pastry rich and moist, yet light and feathery, a modern double acting baking powder must be used—one that will give off leavening gas in the oven as well as in the mixing bowl.

KC BAKING POWDER

is really a blend of two baking powders, one of which starts to raise as soon as moisture is added. The other is inactive until heat is applied. This sustains the raise until your muffins, biscuits or cake is done.

K C Baking Powder costs less than the old fashioned quick acting kinds, yet you need use no more and it is superior to them in every way.
