ULTIMATUM TO GERMANY

His story, it was pointed out, betrays what he has the authority to break off diplomatic relations, and thus shows his power to declare war, and there is only one instance in the president before he took any drastic step, such as the breaking off of diplomatic relations.

The president consults congress of modern history where a break in diplomatic relations between two first-class powers has not been followed by war. It is the situation between Germany and Italy.

First-class powers have suspended relations with lesser states and lesser states have broken between themselves without hostilities, but all diplomatic history points to a state of war when two first-class powers reach that point.

Immediate Answer

The note went forward last night in code by way of Copenhagen. The president wants it to be in the hands of Ambassador Gerard or the German foreign office when he appears before congress.

Senator Lodge asked the president about the use of the word "immediately" in that connection, and was told that it meant that Germany should be given an opportunity to receive the communication and to make reply.

The evidence in the Sussex case was referred to and the president pointed out the apparent similarity in the accounts of the time and place of the attack upon her and the attack admitted by Germany to have been made by one of her submarines on a ship in that vicinity. The president believes the evidence in the Sussex case was convincing.

"The address is a very strong one and the note is a strong one," said Senator Stone after the white house conference. "It puts the next move up to Germany and will bring diplomatic correspondence to a close. It does not necessarily mean a break. It demands that Germany modify her submarine policy. It is the last word to be said by this government on the subject."

Contenting for Neutrals

"The president does not ask congress to do anything. After the

HOW TO REGAIN STRENGTH
The great factor that retards recovery after sickness is that weakened devitalized condition, and it will interest our readers to know that our local druggists, the Medford Pharmacy, have a reliable, non-secret strength creator called Vinol, which contains iron for the blood, the curative medicinal extractives of fresh cod livers and the nourishing properties of beef pepton, all combined in a delicious native wine. For weak, run-down conditions and to regain strength after sickness, there is nothing better. -Adv.

message is read and when I have returned to the senate I shall move that the president's address be printed and referred to the foreign relations committee for consideration."

The president, it became known, takes the position that he is confiding not for America alone, but for all neutral nations and their rights.

The president went over the situation very thoroughly with the committee leaders, and told them explicitly he believed the United States could not remain on friendly terms with Germany if American lives continued to be placed in jeopardy by German submarines. He laid before them all information he will convey in his address to congress. The demand for a stop to illegal submarine warfare, the president told the leaders, is unequivocal.

As the committee left the white house they made no effort to conceal what the president had told them.
