MARIE DORO AT PAGE THEATER TODAY
Men were an unknown quantity to her.
Reared in the woods, surrounded only by her mother and a serving woman, she thought of them only in terms of the Greek mythology.
It wasn't her fault, for her mother had forsaken home and family to get away from civilization in the forest fastness.

Their home was a palatial bungalow in the California redwoods and evidently their favorite reading matter was Bulfinch's "Age of Fable."
The serving woman was called Hippolytes after the queen of the Amazons and the girl wore draperies and played wood nymph the livelong day.
The big trees were her best friends. They were intimate gods. She raced among them in winged sandals with the innocent abandon of a child.
Her men were all gods to whom she sang songs. Her images of men were gained entirely from pictures in the mythology.

And so, when a handsome, strapping young man of the genus Americanus stepped out from behind a tree one day was it any wonder that she gasped "Apollo?"
She did though, yes, she did. Naturally it was love at first sight. But the rest of the story is told in a charming photoplay at the Page theater tonight.
Marie Doro, best known for her charming characterization in "The Morals of Marcus," plays the wood nymph.
And then for those who like to laugh heartily is a Keystone comedy featuring Harry Gibbon and Alvie Davaport in "The Perils of the Park."

"THE GOLDEN CHANCE" AT STAR THEATER TODAY
Cleo Ridgely and Wallace Reid, the distinguished Lasky stars, who will appear together in "The Golden Chance" at the Star today, will be seen, according to Cecil B. De Mille, the Lasky director general, in the first real love story ever seen on the screen.
"The Golden Chance," has to do with the adventures of Mary Donly, the wife of the drunkard, shivering Steve Donly, who is thrust by the society woman for whom she is working, to fill a vacancy at a dinner, where a wealthy young bachelor falls head over heels in love with her and his affection is reciprocated; how the husband, in attempting to burglarize the house finds his wife and later attempts to blackmail the young bachelor, but is killed after a desperate fight.

TABLE ROCK TABLETS
Will Houston and wife of the Trail district spent several days in the valley recently. Mr. Houston has lived on his home place for twenty years and this is the first spring he has lost his fruit crop.
J. H. Carika of Medford, who is a candidate for the republican nomination for district attorney, was through here Saturday and seemed to make a favorable impression on the voters.

S. M. Nealon and wife and son, Harry, and daughter, Miss Katherine and Eva, took an auto spin over the valley Sunday, visiting all the principal cities and towns.
Contrary to first reports, the orchards in this district where smudging was resorted to will have good crops, with a very few exceptions.
V. A. Tosdiek and wife and daughter of Portland, who are making a tour of the coast traveling by auto from Portland to Los Angeles, stopped at Trail Monday to visit friends.
P. J. Van Hardinburg of San's Valley was marketing some fat hogs last week.

Meat Lewis of the Central Point Meat Co. was in this district Tuesday looking for fat cattle.
C. B. Watson of Ashland, who seeks the republican nomination for district attorney, was canvassing this district Tuesday. He seems to be very popular with the old-timers, having held the office he now seeks many years ago.
Plowing operations were commenced on the Reese ranch this week, although it is very late in the season. It is hoped that a crop of potatoes and corn can be grown.
Two auto loads from here attended the high school play in Medford Tuesday night, and all were well pleased with the entertainment.

This notice is pursuant to an order of the city council, and will be enforced by the police department.

many candidates have been seen in this district and the mails have been flooded with literature, most of which is a waste of money, as hardly a voter ever glances over it.
The stockholders of the Trail Telephone company are having new poles installed the full length of the line. These poles are much heavier than the old ones and will carry cross-arms, making this line when completed one of the best rural lines in the county.
John McBride is on a business trip of several days' duration in California.
Byron DeFord and Charley Hutcheson went to Pitt, Cal., last week to work in the lumber camps.
The Agate high school will hold their closing exercises on Thursday evening. A large attendance is expected, as many from outside the district have signified their intention of being present.
W. R. Byrum is hauling wheat to the Central Point mill.
The closing exercises of the Table Rock school will be held Saturday night. A good program is promised and all who are interested in the school should make it a point to be present.
Vernon Vawter and a party of friends from Medford spent Sunday along the river south of the Nealon ranch.

ROSS CLINE was through here Tuesday looking after the blight situation. Mrs. Eldridge and children of Gold Hill were Table Rock visitors Sunday afternoon.
The road gang are putting in a bridge over Rock creek, near the Strathorn ranch, this week.
E. E. Hamilton of Agate, who has been employed by the Rogue River Valley Canal company for the past two years, has severed his connection with that company and will probably move from the district. During the time that Mr. Hamilton has resided in the Agate district he has taken an active part in every move toward the uplifting and betterment of the community and has made many warm friends thereby, who will all agree that in his departure Agate loses one of her most progressive citizens.
We on this side, who have had occasion to have dealings with Mr. Hamilton, have found him to be an excellent business man in every sense of the word, and with a pleasant manner about him seldom found in a real business man.
Miss Pearl Pankey of Central Point is spending a few days with Mrs. Elmer Hall.
