

BRITISH OPINION OF WILSON'S SPEECH ON PEACE LEAGUE

LONDON, May 29.—"Irresponsible peace talk received its quietus from Sir Edward Grey last night, but no doubt President Wilson's speech before the League to Enforce Peace will revive the discussion in certain quarters," says the Liverpool Post. "Its definiteness in certain particulars is arresting, but perhaps to many of his countrymen the air of definiteness which the president gives to some of his phrases may seem elusive."

"One can imagine many being specifically disappointed when he says that with the causes and objects of the war the United States has no concern. To us who believe we are opposing an attempt at world domination, it is hard to believe that the cause for which we stand is not of some concern to the great republic of the west."

The Post argues that the entente allies are fighting for virtually the same object for which President Wilson proposes a league of nations.

The Manchester Guardian says this plan of the president is almost as old as the first formulation of the ideal of organized peace, but that it never before in any part of the world has commanded the support accorded it in America today. This newspaper says further:

"The president inevitably has confined himself to cautious and general terms, but it is impossible to miss the significance of his declaration that the United States would be ready to become a party to any feasible league of nations. Twenty-one months of war have done much to undermine even the rooted American aversion to alliances and leagues."

MEDFORD WALLOPS HORNHOOK 31 TO 10

Medford everlastingly walloped Hornhook on their own home grounds Sunday before their own people. The score was 31 to 10. The Medford team developed a feathery batting disposition from the start, and hits fell like rain. The Hornhook team was off color and errors added to the general agony. Pitcher Anthony of Hornhook, usually a hard twirler, was lambasted freely. Easter, for Medford, hurled a good game and was backed by strong support. The game was such a farce that no score was kept. Next Sunday the local team will play Grants Pass at Grants Pass.

Local and Personal

George Ellis of North Yakima, Wash., is spending a few days in the city and valley.

Hob S. Deuel and Ben H. Plymale of this city, spent Sunday in Hornhook.

Low Walsh of Wellen, spent Monday in this city and Ashland attending to business matters.

J. C. Wilson of Hedding, Cal., is a visitor to the city for a few days this week.

The annual exercises commemorating the anniversary of the establishment and founding of the University of Oregon will be held at Eugene the last of the week. A number of the just graduates from this city will be in attendance.

Claude Miles of the Medford baseball team, sustained a slight injury to his left eye Sunday at Hornhook striking the second baseman's knee while sliding into second base in the early part of the game. The eye was lacerated and sore.

Friends of James H. Kelly, former operator for the Mail Tribune, now acting in a similar capacity on the Portland Journal, will be pleased to learn that he was the victim of a frame-up at the Middletown club last week, according to the weekly bulletin of that club. Kelly was induced to put on the gloves with a member who posed an amusing question about the act. After a few awkward passes he knocked James H. Kelly with a fall on the jaw. It was afterward discovered that Kelly's opponent was one of the best hitters in the club.

SUNDAY BAND CONCERT MOST SUCCESSFUL EVENT

The fourth weekly concert by the Medford city band was given at the city park on Sunday afternoon to probably the largest crowd of the season. The audience was very appreciative and numerous encores were responded to by the band. The band is making rapid progress under Mr. Rowland and many pleasing comments were made in reference to the meritorious performance given on Sunday afternoon.

The program, which commenced sharp at 3, opened with the characteristic march, "Big Ben," which has much trumpeting in the introduction, and the concluding part is taken from "The Trovatore."

The "Medley of War Songs," a most appropriate selection at this season, was undoubtedly the most popular item of the concert and for the rendition the musicians were given a great ovation, to which they willingly responded with an encore. The Spanish serenade, "La Paloma," and the waltz, "Nights of Gladness," were two numbers that called for repetition. The "Bohemian Girl" as is always popular, pleased the crowd immensely on this occasion, and the band's selection from this opera on Sunday brought out the best efforts during the concert.

The date of this week's concert is indefinite. However, commencing next week the concert during the summer will be given on a regular weekday evening. The general consensus of opinion is that there should be one evening in the week set aside for the band concerts, and that the public as far as possible should avoid arranging any conflicting functions for that one evening. The band will meet this evening at 7:30 for march drill, and tomorrow they have offered their services on the occasion of the memorial services.

WOMAN SO WEAK COULD NOT SLEEP

Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

North Oxford, Mass.—"I had lost three children and I was all run down and so weak I could not sleep at night. My eyesight would leave me and everything I ate upset my stomach. I was very nervous and if I would start to sleep I would have to stop and be down before I could finish. I was looking over the paper one day and read of a woman who felt as I did and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I took it too. Now I am proud to tell you I am feeling fine and have given birth to a boy baby. He is my 'Pinkham' baby. I keep a bottle of Compound in my house always."—Mrs. Perry Mattox, Box 54, North Oxford, Mass.

Stomach, indigestion, weakness, and nervousness are symptoms which indicate a lowered vitality of the female organism, and the tonic, strengthening properties of the good old-fashioned roots and herbs, contained in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, are just what is needed by every woman who feels Mrs. Mattox's condition. For free advice in regard to any annoying symptom write to Lydia E. ### BOSTON SHIPPERS FEAR SOCIALISM

WASHINGTON, May 29.—Winthrop L. Martin and Edward E. Blodgett, representing the Boston chamber of commerce, appeared before a senate committee to oppose the government ownership and operation features of the shipping bill, which has already passed the house. They said they recognized the existence of a crisis in the shipping business, but declared the Boston chamber was opposed to government participation in the shipping business fundamentally. "We fear," said Mr. Martin, "that government participation in the shipping business would be an entering wedge toward socialism."

As an alternative for government operation the Boston representatives suggested carefully supervised and guarded subsidies from the government.

GAVIRA OFF TO CONFER WITH GENERAL PERSHING

EL PASO, Tex., May 29.—General Gavira, commanding the constitutional forces of northern Chihuahua, said today that he expected to leave in a few days for Casas Grandes to confer with General Pershing in regard to the closer co-operation against the Villistas, but added that the affair was not of such moment that it could not be arranged by telegraph.

FANNY WARD IN THE CHEAT, STAR

Fanny Ward, the famous American star, who is to be seen at the Star tonight only in the Jesse L. Lasky production of "The Cheat," as the extravagant young society leader, has ample opportunity to introduce a number of the latest Parisian gowns. Miss Ward was fortunate enough to receive a number of the latest fashions from Paris just before her departure. These gowns show very short skirts with penitential modesty. That they will be interesting to the audience observer goes without saying. In addition to the striking gowns, Miss Ward is given an opportunity to display her wonderful collection of jewels, among which is the famous pear-shaped pearl, presented to her by the late Archduchess Isabella of Austria, and the famous longish line diamond, valued at $25,000.

MEDFORD COLLEGE NOTES

The usual interest and enthusiasm were manifested in the regular monthly contests, which were held Friday morning. For speed and accuracy in typewriting, the following awards were made: Bernard Roberts, an M. C. C. ribbon; Margaret Anne and Russell Angel, M. C. C. ribbons; Sattu Norwood, an M. C. C. yellow ribbon; and Annie Robinson, a Washington ribbon. An M. C. C. red ribbon was awarded to Vivian Childers for accuracy in spelling. Several other good records were made, but as those making them had already received awards no more were given.

Certificates of membership in the Order of Greeng Artists were issued to Chell McCredie, Walter Dunton, Vada Altman and Roland Flaherty. The O. G. A. is a clan composed of artistic writers of shorthand, and membership in the order is highly prized.

The summer school began Monday, May 22, with the following students enrolled: Margaret Ames, Jennie Whipple, Gertrude Trautfother, Wanda Dean, who are taking the shorthand course; and Gladys Mandeville, who is studying bookkeeping.

We are glad to have Annie Robinson with us again. She will take the final examination for a diploma in the commercial course the coming week.

Philip Lonsbury, who entered school recently, is making excellent progress in the English course.
