I am an explorer,
But sure I do not wear
To shield me from the polar winds,
Neither do I don the white pith helmet
To ward the tropic sun from off my dome,
I make no maps, nor do I mount
The lecture platform before the multitude;
But I, too, talk and sometimes shout,
And little children run in fear as they
Do hear me call down maledictions terrible
While crouched and peering into dark Unknown regions never meant for the man to enter,
Yes, I am the explorer who Delves beneath the bureau for
His vanished collar button.

OUR TOWN TRAVELOGUE

OYSTER BAY—Oyster Bay is named for a livable closely related to a similar crustacean which is chiefly noted for its conversational resemblance to a certain justice of the supreme court. The oysters in Oyster Bay, however, are the only things in that place which even remotely resemble the justice of the supreme court aforementioned. The town of Oyster Bay is entirely inhabited by T. Roosevelt, who once held a responsible job in the government service and in no way resembles the oyster or the clam. There are some naturalists who claim that the oysters in Oyster Bay would not be so supreme partly silent if they ever had a chance to get a word in edge-wise, but they are probably "nature fakirs." The Oyster Bay oysters have been too timid to venture forth from their watery retreat ever since a certain well-known former government employee returned from the West Indies. They are afraid they will be eaten by a whiskered, nut-eating bird.

Card of Thanks

I wish to thank all those who helped me during my misfortune of losing a row. Especially do I wish to thank Mr. Nick Kollitsa who collected $25.00, and Mrs. Hill, who collected $17.75.

I hope God will give success to all these people all through life. Mr. Nick Nadin. Adv. in the Two Harbors (Minn.) Journal News.

NEEDED PREPAREDNESS

THE Rogue River valley needs preparedness—not for military purposes, but for prosperity. To be prosperous we must prepare to produce more.

To produce more agriculturally we must prepare against drought by irrigation and against frost by orchard heating, and for increased yields by scientific farming.

To produce more industrially and commercially we must prepare by utilizing our timber and mineral resources. We must manufacture our lumber and mine our ores and make them accessible by building railroads.

In 1915 the valley imported 413 cars of flour and feed, 37 of fruit and vegetables, 34 of grain, 107 of hay, 109 of potatoes, 12 cars of condensed milk, 10 cars of packing-house products—all of which could be produced here. There is evidently a great opportunity for the farmer.

The valley imported in this same off year 259 cars of lumber and lumber materials—with billions of feet of merchantable timber covering its hillsides. There is no lack of opportunity for the lumberman.

We cannot expect prosperity when we send our money out for food and other products that can be produced at home.

Industry spells preparedness for prosperity. Idleness spells preparedness for hard times. Too many among us are idle—some from lack of opportunity, some from lack of energy. Idleness breeds discontent, discord and disaster.

The lazy loafer is not tolerated on the streets of a prosperous city. He is an earmark of the depressed village, where street loafing, knocking, scandal-mongering assumes the dignity of an occupation. This sort of industry is preparedness for failure.

By actual count, 135 automobiles passed over the Siskiyou highway between 8 a. m. and 8 p. m. Wednesday, all going from Oregon to California. The count was not kept upon the autos returning, most of which were after 8 p. m. These autos were carrying Oregon money into California and speaks louder than words of the actual workings of prohibition under the Oregon law. The saloon has been eliminated, but the booze is still with us—and will be until its manufacture and sale for any purposes whatsoever is nationally prohibited.

The house passed the O. & C. land grant bill, giving Oregon 50 per cent of the revenue derived from the sale of the property. Senators Chamberlain and Lane secured its amendment in the senate so that Oregon will get 90 per cent of the proceeds, which shows the difference between the influence of the Oregon senators and that of the Oregon representatives. The usual wire can be expected from Congressman Hawley, "I done it."

Secretary Daniels must go. The Medford Sun has decreed it. President Wilson has no other alternative. Such is the power of the press.

ENDERS DISCUSSES RECALL PETITION AGAINST GREER

To the People of Ashland:

Do we want the springs project carried on by men who have the interests of the city at heart, or by Greer and his system of distributing the taxpayers' money by letting contracts to himself and others without competitive bids?

Greer says that I have been bitterly antagonistic to the springs water development. I wish to say to the people of Ashland that I am not now, nor have I ever been, against the springs water project, but I am against Mr. Greer and his system of doing business, and the reckless way in which he has handled the taxpayers' money.

Has Greer made good? I say no! Not for the people of Ashland. He has flourished in his own business. Why not? No competitive bids on that $100,000 contract. Greer told us that it took one man to run the springs commission job, and two men to watch him, and when I insisted on five commissioners I was called a knacker. Any man who does not agree with Greer and his system of doing things is a knacker, according to the tidings.

Mr. Greer is a fox old man of great experience along his line of business, which I consider is hoodwinking the public. Fox Greer has said a great deal about me, and it must be so as he is an honorable man and we must not question his truthfulness, even though his statements do sometimes much resemble fish stories.

This field is rather small for a man of Greer's business and a man of Greer's ability to hoodwink the public. I am afraid that Ashland will soon lose a great statesman and manager in him, unless the people should vote another $100,000 for Lithia Park development, and elect him sole manager, without any restrictions as to how and where the money shall be spent, and any taxpayer objecting to same shall be deemed a knacker and be sent to Mexico to be executed by Villa.

Now, Mr. Taxpayer, quit your knocking and get in the quidnagon. We need 50,000 more booklets. The Medford Printing Company will print them for $442.50, but that won't do, we must keep the job at home. Probably Chairman Greer would print them for the same price as he charged before, $600.00. Great Scott; that's cheap enough for a good job, and probably Greer would make good the 5000 which I am told were spoiled in the last lot he printed and never made good, but we must not insist on that, let me be sent to Mexico.

But above all, we need money. We need money for repairing those leaky pipes so ably inspected by Mr. Greer's imported boy inspector. We need money for filling the vacancy in Greer's list of private secretaries, and how long, dear reader, can we expect those auto repairs, new tires, and even gas to last? As a matter of fact, we need money, money, and more money, even to keep Greer with us at all—and we knackers must be killed off in order to get it. Perhaps he will father a city inheritance tax next.

Greer says I have been bitterly antagonistic to the springs water development, lest the development of the park would help the Plaza business district. I was chairman of the first park board and helped to make a beautiful park out of a pile of rocks, which was pleasing to Mr. Greer when he landed from California with his second-hand Pierce Arrow and his baggage. I also offered the hotel committee $1000 as a bonus for a new hotel on the old Hotel Oregon site or on any other site in the business district. Does that substantiate Greer's statements? There was a time when Greer could mislead the public, but that time has passed. Ed. adv. H. G. ENDERS.

ASHLAND MAKES ELABORATE PLANS FOR CELEBRATION

Ashland plans to entertain at least thirty thousand people on July Fourth and Fifth and Sixth—the occasion being the formal opening of a magnificent park—which has cost the city over a quarter of a million dollars and which provides the setting for Ashland's famous lithia and soda and sulphur springs, now highly developed and placed at the disposal of the public.

The park is a splendidly natural scenic tract, right in the city, with Ashland creek carrying the melted snows from Mount Ashland through it, with waterfalls and lakes and fountains and drives, free auto and team camps with modern conveniences and sanitation, children's playground, rustic seats and tables, shade, greenward, comfort, enchantment. To celebrate the opening of this splendid resort a three-day program has been arranged.

Round-up Feature
The big feature is a reproduction of the Pendleton Roundup—a $10,000 attraction under the name of the Rogue River Roundup. A splendid tract of land adjacent to the city has been secured for race track and arena and a vast amphitheatre is being prepared. A four-hour show will be given daily. This great attraction is in the hands of men who plan to perpetuate it as an annual event, and they are staging it this year on a strong basis, with that in view.

Three stupendous parades are under way. On July fourth "Queen Lithia" will pass through the streets in triumph, with a resplendent train of patriotic and industrial floats and Wild West attractions. Queen Lithia is now being chosen by ballot from among the beauties of Ashland. On the second day, July fifth, tribute will be paid to the Pacific highway in a magnificent parade of decorated automobiles, for which autoing visitors from far and near are expected to come prepared. July sixth "King Sulphur" will turn out in a hilarious frolic that will fill the streets with an astonishing aggregation of comic floats and features.

Pyrotechnic Display
A gorgeous phase of the celebration is the pyrotechnic display. The Hitt Fireworks company of Seattle, who furnished the fireworks for the exposition at San Francisco all last year, have been employed to furnish and stage the display. To these attractions will be added a continuous concert by some of the best bands of

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With the Othine Prescription

This prescription for the removal of freckles was written by a prominent physician and is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold by any druggist under guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine; it is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee.

FLAG DESECRATOR SENT TO PRISON

NEW YORK, June 2.—Bonck White, pastor of the church of the social revolution, who last night participated in the burning of the American flag and other national emblems in the rear of his church, today was found guilty by the court of special sessions of desecrating the American emblem and was sentenced to thirty days in the penitentiary and to pay a fine of $1000. The offense of which he was convicted today was the desecration of the American flag in circulars he caused to be distributed some weeks ago.

Always First on the Grocery List

The reason Medford Creamery Butter is first on the grocery lists of hundreds of households is because there is no question to be discussed with the grocer. She doesn't have to ask if it is fresh, whether it is pure, full weight, wholesome and of highest quality—she knows that it is all this—and more.

The process of making Medford Creamery Butter is so highly scientific and so thoroughly standardized that every pound is like every other pound.

Mix the Breakfast Biscuits the Night Before—

Set Them
Away in a Cool Place and Bake them Fresh in the Morning

If the family do not all eat breakfast together, you can bake a few at a time. If you are having hot biscuits for supper, mix and cut out enough more for breakfast. They will be much nicer freshly baked than warmed over.

Of course you can't do this very successfully with sour milk and soda or with any of the old fashioned, single acting baking powders, but this convenient way of making hot biscuits and muffins for breakfast is entirely satisfactory if you use which is really a blend of two baking powders, one of which begins to give off leavening gas as soon as moisture is added. The other is inactive until heat is applied. The dough will remain in a partly leavened condition for hours and when put in the oven will come up just as light and fluffy as if freshly mixed.

Get a can of K G today and try this easy way of baking biscuits at once. You'll never go back to the old way. 61
