

FORCE THE ISSUE BY PLACING T. R. IN THE LISTS

possibilities of the most potent sort. On every hand they expect a tremendous demonstration for Colonel Roosevelt, despite efforts in some quarters to hold back a nomination until the republicans have indicated their purpose.

Immediate Action

The movement for a delay in the progressive convention, however, has been met by a decision of the leaders to have immediate action, or at least not later than Thursday. Victor Murdock, Gifford Pinchot, Henry Allen of Kansas, Hiram Johnson and about thirty others at a conference late last night came to a decision that the convention should nominate Colonel Roosevelt as soon as nominations could be reached in the regular order of business and that nothing less than a request for delay from Colonel Roosevelt himself should interfere with that plan.

The movement for the immediate nomination of Colonel Roosevelt began to show itself early today. The progressives opened headquarters in the Florantine room of the Congress hotel.

T. R. Boosters Busy

Before the delegates were at breakfast Roosevelt boosters were abroad, cheering, shouting and stirring up demonstrations for the colonel. This was part of the plan matured at recent conferences. At first it was intended to issue a statement declaring for the immediate nomination of the colonel at the progressive convention, but it was finally decided that no joint statement would be made.

All of the progressive leaders who are striving for harmony realize the difficulty of holding the Roosevelt enthusiasts from a nomination beyond Thursday. Most of the progressive delegates were elected as Roosevelt men and they are chafing under restraint imposed by those who are placing the demand for harmony above the interests of their candidate.

Many conferences have been held between small groups representing both regular republicans and progressives. At the outset the regular republicans were inclined to offer the entire list of candidates now in the field as proof that they are not trying to force any particular man upon the progressives, and to point out that the progressives, on the other hand, have but one candidate, Colonel Roosevelt, and that harmony is far off unless the progressives show a willingness to consider other names.

Lodge's Suggestion

The suggestion of Senator Lodge, which came last night, was believed to have been the result of this broad criticism of the progressive course. Republican leaders were disposed not to take the Lodge suggestion seriously. Some said openly that the senator's name was offered because the progressives believed it would be impossible for the republicans to unite in his support.

The mention of Mr. Lodge led to a disclosure that a conference Sunday night between a number of prominent progressives and republicans, the former offered the name of Senator La Follette and asked the republicans if they would accept him. The republicans immediately charged the progressives with insincerity and asserted that the progressives knew there was no possibility of Colonel Roosevelt accepting La Follette. Gen. W. Perkins immediately withdrew the suggestion and indicated that it was made solely for the purpose of drawing out the regular republicans.

The progressives had more to say about Justice Hughes' speech than did the Hughes men themselves.

Hughes' Speech Discussed

"I do not care to interpret Justice Hughes' speech," said Frank H. Hitchcock. "It speaks for itself; it is an expression of patriotism. If I were the manager of a candidate's campaign I might have much to say."

Progressive leaders, after carefully studying the speech, professed to attach little significance to it as affecting the political fortunes of Colonel Roosevelt.

"It was a nice little flag speech, eminently proper for delivery before a girls' society, but does not further outline Mr. Hughes' position on the vital issues before these conventions," said Chester Rowell, progressive from California.

Chairman Murdock of the progressive national committee endorsed Mr. Rowell's sentiments.

John McGrath, Colonel Roosevelt's secretary, reiterated today that the colonel had no present idea of coming to Chicago.

attacks were made yesterday, they lacked the intensity of the previous rushes. The conclusion is drawn by French commentators that the heavy recent losses of the Germans are compelling them to proceed less vigorously for the moment while they are reforming their scattered and decimated units.

Official Statements

PARIS, June 6.—Two attacks by the Germans on the French lines between Fort Vaux and Dandou, on the Verdun front, were repulsed by the French last night, according to an official statement issued by the war office today. The heavy bombardment of Fort Vaux continues with intermittent cannonading on the west front.

BERLIN, June 6.—French troops on the right bank of the River Meuse in the Verdun sector last night made four determined efforts to eject the Germans from positions on Famin ridge, says the official statement issued today at German army headquarters. HOLLWEG AGAIN OFFERS PEACE TERMS TO ALLIES

BERLIN, June 5, via Amsterdam to London June 6, 4:20 a. m.—The imperial chancellor has again discussed peace in the reichstag. Six months ago, on December 9, he said, "discussing our military situation I spoke here for the first time of our readiness for peace. I could do so in entire confidence that our war situation would continue to improve. Developments have confirmed this confidence. We have made further progress on all fronts. We are stronger than we were before."

"If with this development before my eyes I declared that we were ready for peace, I need not regret my statement, even if our offer evoked no response from our enemies."

"In the critical times of July, 1914, it was the duty of every responsible statesman before God, his country and his conscience to leave nothing unturned that could preserve peace with honor. We also desired the successful repulse of our enemies, to neglect nothing that was calculated to shorten the terrible sufferings experienced by the people of Europe in such a configuration."

"I told an American journalist how

French Remedy Aids Stomach Sufferers

France has been called the nation without stomach troubles. The French have for generations used a simple mixture of vegetable oils that relieve stomach and intestinal ailments and keep the bowels free from foul, poisonous matter. The stomach is left to perform its functions normally. Indigestion and gastritis vanish.

Mr. Geo. H. Mayr, a leading druggist of Chicago, cured himself with this remedy in a short time. The demand is so great that he imports these oils from France and compounds them under the name of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. People everywhere write and testify to the marvelous relief they have received using this remedy—one dose will rid the body of poisonous accretions that have accumulated for years and convince the most chronic sufferer from stomach, liver or intestinal troubles.

Mayr's Wonderful Remedy is sold by leading druggists everywhere with the positive understanding that your money will be refunded without question or quibble if ONE bottle fails to give you absolute satisfaction.
