

NIBLEY'S VERSION OF SUGAR FACTORY SALE TO TRUST

Alex Nibley, resident manager of the Utah-Idaho Sugar company at Grants Pass, has returned from Salt Lake City and requests the printing of the enclosed article from the Deseret Evening News of Salt Lake in regard to the absorption of the Utah-Oregon company by the former concern:

"At a meeting of the stockholders of the Oregon-Utah Sugar company yesterday the action of the board of directors in selling the property to the Utah-Idaho Sugar company was confirmed. This means that the Oregon company will go out of existence and that the plant now being erected at Grants Pass, Or., will be completed by the Utah-Idaho Sugar company, which will carry out all contracts made by its predecessor.

Take Over All Contracts

"Messrs. T. R. Cutler and C. W. Nibley of the two companies are in the east at present, but at the office of the Utah-Idaho Sugar company today it was learned that the deal had been pending for some time and that under the contract the beet crop now growing will be taken care of and harvested, the sugar plant finished and grinding of beets begun about the first of September.

"Alex Nibley is to be the resident manager of the Utah-Idaho Sugar company at Grants Pass.

"It was further learned at the sugar company's office that, under the terms of the contract, the cost of the Grants Pass factory will be practically the same as that of the modern plants now under construction at Brigham City and West Jordan by the Utah-Idaho company.

Experimental Sale

"Alex Nibley said today: 'As has already been printed, my father had decided on severing his connection with the Oregon-Utah company. Before the meeting, however, at which he intended presenting his resignation, negotiations were opened with the Utah-Idaho Sugar company by which the sale of the property to them was made. The sale is in the nature of an option, as it is experimental for a term of two years, the Idaho-Utah Sugar company having that length of time to run the plant and then decide whether or not it desires to acquire it permanently. If it should not, under the contract, C. W. Nibley agrees to take the purchase over personally and to refund the Utah-Idaho company all the money it has advanced, with interest.'

New Version of Sale

"Regarding a statement printed today that the stockholders of the Oregon-Utah had made over 250 per cent through the sale, Mr. Nibley said this was entirely misleading. The entire issued capital of the company was only $200,000. The purchase price paid by the Utah-Idaho for its assets and all of its property of every description was $100,000. This sum the Oregon company would distribute among its stockholders, thirty-five to forty in number, some of whom had advanced the company cash, others of whom had underwritten its bonds, and still others of whom had bought the stock on the market at prices varying from $28 to $80 a share, so that while some would realize a profit, others would stand a loss.

"Mr. Nibley states that the beet growers and others interested are greatly pleased with the acquisition of the property by the Utah-Idaho company and that the growing crop is in excellent condition.

"Manager T. R. Cutler will make a visit of inspection to the district as soon as he returns from the east."

AUTO TOURISTS TAKING PHOTOS

Bliss Cornelius and H. S. Garner, of Grand Rapids, Mich., passed thru Monday on their way to Portland in a Franklin.

They have been eight weeks on the trip and have visited the Grand Canyon of the Colorado, southern California and Yosemite Park. They intend to tour the Columbia river highway and thence to Astoria.

From Oregon they will go to Yellowstone Park. They intended to see Crater lake but could not get in.

They have taken over 2000 views with an 8x10 camera and have developed most of the films, a great proportion being excellent negatives. They take from 2 to 3 exposures of every scene to be sure of a good picture.

They expect to return home about the 15th of August and then will take train for a trip to the Canadian Rockies and Alaska.

Both of the young men spent a few months in this valley several years ago.

The views will be printed with a short history of the trip for an eastern man who is endeavoring to have Americans see America first. The book will be sent free of charge to clubs and libraries.

AUSTRIAN AEROPLANES MAKE RAID ON VENICE

BERLIN, June 13.—A squadron of Austrian aeroplanes attacked Venice on Sunday night. Several other points in northern Italy were bombarded. An official Austrian statement of June 12 says the raid was successful.

OBITUARY.

DICKISON—R. W. Dickison, a veteran of the Civil war and a member of Chester A. Arthur Post, and a pioneer of Jackson county, died Monday, June 12, at Portland at the home of his son, C. A. Dickison. RUSSIAN ARTILLERY MAKES SWIFT ADVANCE

LONDON, June 13.—All the special dispatches from Petrograd comment on the fine work of the Russian artillery, to which the recent swift advance is mainly attributed. They contend that the Russian advance proves that the German-constructed field fortresses of steel and concrete, which are supposed to be impregnable, can be taken by assault, despite all the latest scientific devices. The incomparable Russian guns and mining, says one correspondent, made short work of five-fold fortified lines.

It is reported that in some places, where the Austrian preparations were most elaborate, the Russians captured 12 lines of entrenchments motor cars supplemented the heavy in rapid succession while armored artillery in pursuit of the retreating forces. The pursuit was facilitated by the excellence of the roads, which the Austrians had constructed for their own transports.

Northwest of Tarnopol the Russians employed gas reservoirs, captured from the Austrians "overwhelming the enemy with his own poisonous fumes."

Lutsk was protected by 19 rows of entanglements, when the Russians received the order to storm the place at dawn on Wednesday. The issue hung in the balance until noon, then a breach was made in the Austrian position.

The town of Dubno, says the dispatch, was almost demolished by the Russian artillery, which proceeded its occupation. Before their departure, the Austrians removed all the civilians capable of working.
