George Putnam and Joht Orth, with their families, autoed to Camp Nick Sunday for a day's outing and a few of those fine trout that may be taken from Big Butte. We hope they had good success. Come again.

About 6 p. m. Saturday the home of E. E. Smith was discovered to be on fire. Mrs. Jones first saw the fire and gave the alarm. Before help spent Tuesday afternoon visiting with came Mrs. Jones was doing the work Mrs. W. D. Clark. of a fire brigade. She attached the garden hose and as the fire was in the roof she soon had the fire under control, with little damage. A woman with a cool head.

The water oozle are quite a nuisance at the batchery, as they are feeding on the small fish that are being fed in the ponds. An active trip to Montague, Calif. use of the .22 will be necessary to learn these little poachers better manners.

Merl Brainard will occupy the government station at Skeeter's swamp this season, and E. W. Smith will be stationed over on Trail. Both young men are in government employ.

Some people are wondering why Uncle Wanty was hotfooting it for Medford last Saturday. Just like 'em-always prying into other people's affairs.

Some much merited work is being done on the road south and east of Butte Falls.

Blaine Klum of Medford is rustienting at Camp Nick.

Ben Frederburg is preparing to build a house on his ranch to replace the one burned in September, 1915.

A fellow applied to Bill Chambers to do orehard work. "Can you prune?" asked Bill, "Yep." "Can you graft?" "You bet," was the reply. "I was on the board of county commissioners in Josephine county the year we let so many bridge contracts." Bill sent him to Wanty.

Time was when we thought that the only salvation for Butte Falls and core just compensation for our was a railroad. Of course, a railroad was all that was needed to start lumber operations. We got the railroad at a great expense, and without doubt at a great loss to the railroad company, only to learn that the people who had gobbled up all the available timber in this section are not ed by all present: operators-they are speculators. All things considered, the railroad is giving this community good service, while the lumber interests are dead, and though we have experienced men enough to run a lumber camp and man a sawmill, all have to leave home to get work. If a system of taxation could be inaugurated that would reach out and get those fellows that own the earth with their down-hill pull there would be a change from speculator to operator.

Superintendent Berian delivered a big carload of fish at the Butte Falls feeding ponds today and has gone back for another carload to be delivered tomorrow.
