The local auxiliary of the Foreign Missionary society gave a jubilee luncheon on Friday at 1:30 with about seventy members and friends present. The social hall of the First M. E. church was delightfully cool and beautifully decorated with blue and gold, the society's colors. Poppies, nasturtiums, buttercups and blue clematis combined developed the color scheme. A delegation from the Standard Bearers' society acted as ushers and servers. The luncheon consisted of pressed chicken, bread and butter, salad, ice cream and cake. Mrs. C. O. Powers, the local president, acted as toast mistress and gave a splendid and inspiring address on the aim of the jubilee campaign. She was followed by Miss Julia Fielder, who responded to a toast to the members. Mrs. C. C. Van Scoyoc gave the money side of the question. Miss Jessie Mordoff gave a toast to the papers and magazines of the organization. Mrs. D. Edward Phipps paid a tribute to the 827 missionaries which the society supports. "Facts the Fingers of God," was responded to by Mrs. J. H. Carlin; Mrs. L. F. Belknap spoke on "Our Arm of Power, Prayer;" Dr. J. C. Rollins in a toast to the W. F. M. S. paid high tribute to it for the efficient and consecrated work of the members and made an appeal to every woman of Methodism to identify herself with the organization. It was voted to make Mrs. D. T. Lawton a life member of the society in recognition of her faithful work during the past twenty-six years. Mrs. L. F. Billings of Ashland, the district corresponding secretary and jubilee supervisor, assisted by Mrs. J. C. Rollins, bestowed first year decoration for the order of the members of the Golden Heart on Mesdames C. O. Powers and W. M. Van Scoyoc. Misses Julia Fielder and May Phipps, Mesdames Rollins and Osborne had previously received the decoration. This is the 47th year of the society and great effort is being put forth to strengthen and increase its power and efficiency before the 50th, or the year of jubilee. Medford's auxiliary is growing rapidly, it having nearly seventy members, having nearly doubled its membership during this conference year.

Friday afternoon the commercial and grade students of the Medford Commercial college entertained the students of the teachers' review class. The following informal program was given, which was much enjoyed by the students and their guests: Inspirational reading, "That Something," Mr. Van Gilder; "A Mysterious Story," told by Margaret Ames; humorous reading, Vivaldi Children; clarinet solo, Clell McCredie; reading, "The Twist Family," Eva Beebe; violin solo, "Humoresque," Florence Clark; French reading and translation, Russell Angel; gymnastic dance, Woodsum McDonald and Marian Van Gilder; humorous reading, Eola Houston; reading, "A Wish," Marian Van Gilder.

Mrs. McDonald, a guest, was asked to read, and she graciously responded with a very appropriate and perfectly rendered humorous reading. Mr. Ager, who was in charge of the teachers' course, made an inspirational address interspersed with humor appropriate to the occasion. Following the program, ice cream and wafers were served, which concluded a very pleasant social hour.

The Missionary society of the Presbyterian church held a very enjoyable and interesting meeting at the home of Mrs. E. A. Welch on East Main street Tuesday afternoon, with Mrs. R. W. Clancy and Mrs. Welch as hostesses. A program was given as follows: Devotionals, led by Mrs. Jaqua; review of the year's work by Mrs. E. N. Warner; instrumental solo, Miss Genevieve Wortman; vocal solo, Miss Geraldine Theiss; reading, "Work in Porto Rico," Mrs. Volney Dixon. After the program refreshments were served on the lawn. The tables were prettily decorated with flowers.

A pretty rose shower was given by Miss Dot Berry at her home on Eighth and Laurel streets Monday afternoon in honor of Miss Ione Flynn. The arrangements of the party were a complete and very happy surprise for the bride-elect, and on her arrival she was showered with rose petals. The afternoon was spent informally with music and social conversation. Mrs. John Wilkinson responded to the request for several vocal solos. A color scheme of pink was carried out, roses and sweet peas being used in pretty effect throughout the rooms. Pink shaded lights and candles threw a soft glow over the tables, where a dainty two-course luncheon was served. A beautiful bouquet of roses was used for the centerpiece and the guests' places were marked with dainty cards and an individual rose. The guests were Misses Ione Flynn, Helen Dahl, Florence Welch, Lois Estes, Elizabeth and Sara Norwood, Helen Watt, May Hoke, Miss Bullis, Helen Bullis, Mrs. John Wilkinson, Mrs. Carl Glasgow, Mrs. Wayne Leever of Central Point, Mrs. John Mann, Mrs. De Nise, Mrs. Harry D. Foster and Miss Dot Berry.

The Baptist Young People held their social, business meeting and semi-annual election of officers at the church on Friday evening, June 16. The following officers were elected for the ensuing six months: President, Orvil Barr; vice-president, Beth Stewart; secretary and treasurer, John Whizenant; pianist, Helen Holden; reporter, Charles McClain. A short program was rendered, after which refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed. The Intermediate Society of Baptist Young People was also present.

Last Monday evening, June 12, at 8:30 o'clock, Miss Clara M. Wines and W. J. Thornton were united in marriage at the home of the bride on Pitzer street, Roseburg. Rev. W. Riley Jeffrey officiating. The rooms were very pretty with decorations of orange blossoms and pink roses, and as the notes of the wedding march, played by Mrs. C. S. Heinline, were heard the bridal party took their places under the arch and the vows were exchanged in the presence of the immediate friends and relatives. The bride and groom were the recipients of many beautiful and valuable presents. The bride was charming in her gown of white organdie and lace with tulle veil, carrying a bouquet of white roses. The couple were attended by Charles Thornton, brother of the groom, and Miss Christianna Laursen. The young couple left on the night train for Portland and other points in the north to spend their honeymoon, after which they will be at home at Roseburg. Miss Wines was a popular teacher in the English department of the high school of Roseburg this year; is also a graduate of the University of Oregon. Mr. Thornton is the son of J. J. Thornton, a prominent rancher of this vicinity. He is also a graduate of O. A. C. Their many friends join in wishing them a happy married life.

Mrs. R. C. Minear is in Portland, where she will visit for several weeks.

FASHION RUNS TO FRILLS AND RUFFLES

Ruffles—tiers of ruffles, adorn summer frocks of voile, organdy or lawn, so I gather from the little fashion show the great modistes are holding these days to launch the mid-summer modes.

A modie you will see often before the summer was is this much ruffled frock of native blue voile—it's from the studio of Mme Grosfield of the Fashion Art League of America, that sponsor of smart fashions.

Four deep ruffles gives the skirt the quaint 1830 effect, the short bolero jacket carries out the suggestion of gaminerie, and the flowing sleeve is another old fashion in modern form. The buttons are organ color, the black velvet ribbon looped up under the jacket give a striking color contrast. The monk's collar is not the most becoming of collars, but it has heaps of style to it.

Mrs. J. C. Horton entertained informally at luncheon Wednesday and Thursday at the Herban apartments.

The members of the Country club will entertain with a dinner dance at the Country club this evening.

Mrs. C. L. Allen and daughter Ruth left Friday for Long Beach, Cal., where they will spend the summer.

PEACE RUMORS TWIXT MOOSE AND G. O. P.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Charles E. Hughes, weary from a week of strenuous political activity in New York, returned to his home here tonight for the week end. He retired immediately before hearing of George W. Perkins announcement regarding peace negotiations between the republicans and progressives.

The nominee's apparent desire to bring progressives and republicans into accord is understood to have been the theme of discussion in several conferences in New York between Mr. Hughes and some of the progressive leaders, notably Everett Colby of New Jersey, Oscar S. Strauss and S. S. McClure, who called at the Hughes headquarters there. To other callers the nominee has voiced the sentiment that the interests of both progressives and republicans demanded that differences should be subordinated and harmony restored before the actual work of the campaign is begun.

Great Inventions of the Day

Change the relations of men, communities and nations.

The man who owns a CORONA would be just as inconvenienced without it as without a telephone or a watch.

Indications are that the CORONA will be as universally used in homes and offices in a short time as is the telephone today.
