

DRAWING SYSTEM MAY BE USED FOR SELLING O. & C. LANDS

"No time will be lost, so far as this department is concerned, in preliminary work necessary to be done before the agricultural lands of the Oregon & California grant are opened to settlement," says Clay Tallman, commissioner of the general land office, in a dispatch to the Portland Journal from Washington, D. C.

"It is impossible to give an approximate date when the first lands can be opened to settlement," he continues. "We first have to determine exactly what lands are the lands in which title is re-vested in the government. While descriptions of the lands are given in the bill of complaint and the decree of the district court, and these are no doubt correct as to the great body of the lands, we will have to have accurate maps prepared, showing exactly all the lands unsold, patented and unpatented, to which the government resumes title."

To Make Preliminary Map. "It is our purpose to have a preliminary map prepared from the information now available, under which the work of classification can proceed while the final descriptions are being worked out. The classification will be started as soon as possible, soon after the first of July, we hope. Plans under consideration call for this work being done by our local forces in Oregon, expanded to meet the requirements."

It is learned that a separate force will be organized in the land office to check up on the taxes, so that the money to be advanced to Oregon counties for back taxes may be paid as promptly as possible. But before these payments are made the department will make a complete check of the lands, to insure certainty that taxes are being paid only on lands that are restored to the government by the terms of the bill.

Working on Opening Plans. Several questions of interpretation of the land grant law, said to be somewhat perplexing, are receiving the attention of the legal force of the land office. Conferences are also being held to work out plans for the final opening. The act provides for opening the lands in accordance with the act of September 30, 1913, which act provides:

"That hereafter when public lands are excluded from national forests or released from withdrawals, the president may, whenever in his judgment it is proper or necessary, provide for the opening of the lands by settlement in advance of entry, by drawing or by such other method as he may deem advisable, in the interest of equal opportunity and good administration, and in so doing may provide that lands so opened shall be subject only to homestead entry by actual settlers only, or to entry under the desert land laws for a period not exceeding ninety days, the unentered lands to be thereafter subject to disposition under the public land laws applicable thereto."

Drawing System Probable. The significant part of this quotation is the authorization for opening the lands by use of the drawing system. This is the method ordinarily employed, and it seems likely that the Oregon lands will be finally opened in this way, as it is expected that there will be large numbers of applicants for the agricultural tracts.

These agricultural lands are such as are not suitable as power sites, are non-mineral and bear a timber growth of less than 300,000 feet to the forty-acre subdivision. The language of the act also permits the classification as agricultural of scattered tracts containing more than 300,000 feet. Land with not more than that quantity of timber is conclusively classed as agricultural, if non-mineral and not a power site, but land containing a greater quantity may, in the discretion of the department, be also placed in the agricultural class, where it is deemed that location makes it unsuitable for classification as timber land.

Mineral Lands Now Open. Mineral lands are subject to entry at the present time under the general mining laws. There are no strings on immediate entry of the mineral lands, except that the mineral land locator does not acquire title to the timber, having the right, however, to use timber necessary to the operation and development of a mine.

No other right can be situated on the land at the present time. All except mineral land claimants must await the classification and final opening by proclamation of the president.

It is expected that the agricultural land will be divided into units, so that portions of the great may be opened before the classification and final opening are completed, as is done with other lands.

During the hearings on the bill of fields of the departments stated that if the legislation was passed in time for them to put agents into the field May 1 they would be able to complete the classification before snow flies. As this work will not be begun before July 1, the promise of completion during the present season does not hold good, and officials will not commit themselves as to when it can be accomplished.

ASHLAND AND VICINITY

On Tuesday morning, July 4, dawned Ashland day at the celebration here, bright and early. At 10 a. m. occurs the big industrial and patriotic parade which will be a hummer. At 2 p. m. will be the Rogue river roundup, the initial feature of that series, followed by band concerts in the park and water sports at the natatorium. In the evening there will be more band concerts, fireworks and dancing. A special train will leave Grants Pass at 7 a. m., returning at 10:30 p. m. The hour for leaving Medford is 8:17 a. m. Low round trip fares will also be on sale between Ashland and all Southern Pacific stations in Oregon; Roseburg and south, July 3-6 inclusive, return limit July 7. Reductions from northern California points as far as Dunsmuir. The delegation of Portland visitors leave that city on the evening of July 3. Arrangements are well under way for extending all visitors a most cordial welcome. Medford day, Wednesday, July 5.

Owing to heavy traffic, especially in lumber and box supplies, a daily freight service has been instituted between Klamath Falls and Weed. Chautauqua programs are out, a neat booklet of 24 pages, devoid of all commercial advertising matter. Over fifty attractions, formal and informal, are available at the 24th annual assembly which will be in session July 7-18 inclusive. Saturday, July 8, will be Sunday school day, one of the chief and earlier events of the assembly. The Jackson county association will make a gala event of this gathering, with a parade in addition to other attractions. Admission to the auditorium will be free on that afternoon to all enrolled Sunday school pupils. This privilege is also extended to those who have religiously attended Sunday school four times within the last six weeks preceding the date of the rally, a requirement which undoubtedly a number of recall and roundup camp followers might comply with. Chautauqua season tickets $2.25 if purchased on or before July 1.

Rev. P. K. Hammond, rector of Trinity church, left Monday for Portland, where he will attend a summer theological school under the auspices of the Episcopal diocese of Oregon, sessions of which will meet in St. Bene's hall. R. P. Campbell, the new Chautauqua secretary, has rooms very conveniently located in Edgington's real estate office on Oak street. Now is the time to secure season tickets at a reduction before July 1.

A dance will be given at the Bungalow, near park entrance, on Thursday evening of this week. Proceeds will be to aid in defraying expense of securing the Grants Pass band here for the celebration. A committee of well known ladies have the matter in charge, and the social event is also receiving the encouragement of a large number of patronesses. Dancing privileges ten cents per.

J. H. Dyer, formerly superintendent of the S. P.'s Sacramento division, passed through here on Monday for Portland, to assume the assistant general manager'ship of the company in place of D. W. Campbell, transferred to Los Angeles. J. H. Morse, who has a model cherry orchard on his ranch premises, Walnut street, is now shipping the fruit in wholesale lots on personal account to various points in southern California. J. H. Swagart, freight conductor, has again made headquarters here, his family having located at 193 Pine street.

The Bungalow, near park grounds, is already being enlarged by a substantial addition. Noel Avimer Dew, writer and expert in forestry and lumbering, visited Ashland recently. The lumbering industry of Oregon is at present receiving attention at his hands through a series of articles in the Timberman, leading exponent in the current trend of affairs. Mr. Dew while here made a comparison of Ashland with other resort towns which was exceedingly favorable to this city.

The city council in clearing the calendar in advance of routine matters before the advent of celebration week, will meet in adjourned session on Friday evening, June 29. The Presbyterian church observed last Sabbath as Children's day, and next Sabbath will be communion observed in the church calendar. The Relief Corps is meeting semi-occasionally at the armory, assisting in making decorations for the celebration events.

Anticipating the celebration period the entire south front exposure of the Hotel Oregon exterior is resplendent with electric lighting effects, gay red, mingling with the more subdued blue. Masonic hall is also equipped with a new flagstaff in order to better display the national colors. The Eastern Star Thimble club met in Masonic Hall Tuesday, and will continue its industrial and social reunions throughout the summer on the second and fourth Tuesdays in each month.

Mrs. Jack Muile, of Portland, was visiting Mrs. Mary E. Woods on Monday while en route to California. She is a particular friend of Mrs. H. Read, daughter of Mrs. Wood, of the Rose City.

D. C. Carlton, of Oroville, Cal., died at Stockton recently. He was an expert in map drawing, and in 1910 was employed here by the Jackson County Abstract company in that line of work. He leaves a wife and several children. He belonged to Mahogany Camp, Modern Woodmen of this city, and held a $1000 beneficiary certificate in that order.

W. H. Deughtrey, leading official of the Union Stock Yards, Portland, will act as one of the judges of roundup features at the celebration next week.

Petitions for the institution of a normal school at Pendleton are being circulated here and are receiving a goodly number of signatures. Miss Cherry Starkey, lately deceased, carried a policy in the Metropolitan life, which has been promptly paid.

Judge C. B. Watson, has formed a law partnership with A. E. Kellogg, of Gold Hill, and in due season may remove to that town for permanent residence. In the meantime he will attend to a share of the firm's business matters at this end of the line. The judge has been a long-time resident of Ashland and is one of the best known citizens both at home and abroad. He owns a fine property on Hargadine street.

A men's get-together meeting, instituted along religious and social lines and inter-denominational in scope, was held at the Baptist church on Tuesday evening. Light refreshments were served. This preliminary meeting is expected to result in a permanent organization.

Queen Lillith's coronation robe is now being "built," and will be on exhibition in Vaupel's store windows this week. It is an elaborate affair and will be as serviceable as it is ornamental. Moreover it will become the personal property of either Queen Mary, Queen Angie or Queen Emma. The Chautauqua management has kindly tendered use of buildings on its grounds to the general committee having the celebration in charge. These accommodations include auditorium, reception rooms and dining rooms.

George Turner, of Yreka, coroner of Siskiyou county, motored over to Ashland, Tuesday, calling upon a number of acquaintances. Doc Helms, of Medford, is to be on hand here with a goodly number of wild horses, which he has corralled from various stock sections for the series of roundup events. W. R. Parshall, a rancher living in the vicinity of Montague, returned home on Tuesday, after taking a course of mineral water treatment for rheumatic troubles.

Tuesday evening a special train of Knights Templar went north, returning from the triennial convocation at Los Angeles. They were from New England sections, particularly Boston. Early in the week, Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Wagner and sons, Paul, Lawrence and Wilfred, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Whitely, and daughters Esther and Marjorie, Wilfred Carr, and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Day motored over into the Applegate section. A picnic dinner was enjoyed on ideal grounds bordering the Applegate river, near the Pride of the Valley creamery. The party returned home via Grants Pass.

Miss Anne Dietrich returned Sunday from a visit of a couple of weeks, part of which was spent with her former schoolmate, now Mrs. "Bill" Watson, at Sutherlin, and part with the Riède family at Roseburg.

J. W. Horton and wife of Sams Valley road were in Gold Hill Sunday. Miss Helen Bowers, who has been visiting with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D'Hera, at Central Point, returned to her home the last of the week.

We are sorry to chronicle the fact that the baseball score was reported 3 to 4 in favor of Medford, when much talk on one side changes the color of events. It is too bad that true reporting cannot prevail for true results.

E. V. Kellogg is now engaged in a logging camp at Glen, Klamath county. Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Miller motored to Medford Sunday morning and spent the day with friends and relatives at that place, returning to the evening to Gold Hill.

The 100-foot riveted steel stack is now completed at the cement plant. Towering as it does toward the sky is a sight to behold. The riveters remain for a day or two to see that it works satisfactorily before returning to their headquarters at the Portland Steel & Iron Works.

Mrs. J. W. Merritt came over from Central Point Monday morning and attended to business matters in Gold Hill, returning to her home on the afternoon train.

W. H. Gardner, from near Roseburg, spent Sunday with his family at this place. Mrs. Newton returned to her home in this city Sunday afternoon, having spent the past week at the home of her brother, C. E. Miller, in Sams Valley.

Miss Hazel Knotts and Emilee Dungey of Gullis creek were in Gold Hill Tuesday morning, shopping and seeing friends.

Mrs. Milan and daughter, Grace, who has been ill at Salem, returned to their home in Gold Hill Monday morning. The young lady is resting very nicely after her tedious trip, and she surely has every prospect of recovery in the quietude of her own home.

Mrs. Van Hovenburg of Sams Valley was in Gold Hill visiting friends Tuesday.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Lathrop, a six-month daughter, Fredrick, June 23, named Katherine Elizabeth. Miss Ina Austin of Central Point has been visiting friends in Gold Hill the past week.

FLOUNCE ROCK FRILLS

Mrs. Lewis came home Thursday after a ten days' stay in Medford. Another lady also came up on the stage that day who was going up to work at the Prospect hotel this summer.

Mr. Irwin, Mrs. Sholl and a friend of Mrs. Sholl came up from Medford Wednesday. Miss Nellie Dawson and Mrs. Avery's three children came the 21st to stay for the summer. Mr. Dawson will put up a house for them and Mrs. Avery on his farm.

Aunt Susy Hignibotham has had another bad sick spell, but she is now gradually improving again and is able to be up. Bert Hignibotham, wife and daughter Ethel and Ed Hallenbeck motored to the home of Mr. Hollenbeck Saturday evening and spent the night.

Rev. McDonald and wife and another McDonald family, all of the hatchery, attended the basket dinner Sunday and in the afternoon Rev. McDonald preached to the assembled company. James Peyton brought the McDonald's up in the Hip. There were nine in the car, but it's used to it. Roy Vaughn visited friends in the Elk creek country Sunday.

These showers, some of them even being rains, are very welcome to the farmers and stockmen. Mr. Lewis took 2250 head of sheep to the reserve last week, the largest band that has been taken in for eight years. Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Gus Ditsworth visited at T. R. Hignibotham's in the morning, dined at Grandma Gordon's and supper with Blanchard's.

Coyotes are getting very free with people's chickens in this locality. The Florence Rock school district has had the school ground cleared and cleaned and the rubbish burned. Mr. Kelley did the work. James Grievie went to the valley Thursday and Forded home Saturday.

ONE WEEK SPOT

Many Medford People Have a Weak Back and Too Often It's the Back.

Many people have a weak spot. Too often it's a backache. Twinges follow every sudden twist. Dull aching keeps up, day and night. Backache is often from weak kidneys. In such case a kidney medicine is needed.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys. For backache and urinary ills. Medford people recommend the remedy. W. W. Mansfield, fish and game warden, 121 Roosevelt avenue, Medford, says: "I used to be subject more or less to kidney trouble. My kidneys acted too freely and during the night I was obliged to get up every little while. My back ached and at times I couldn't get in any position to ease the misery. Finally I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills and I found that they were all that was represented of them. After I finished a few boxes, my kidneys were normal and my back felt as strong as ever."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Mansfield had. Foster-McBarn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Mr. Kelly and Mr. Lewis started to Medford Sunday morning. Mr. Lewis took some horses to sell. Saturday night one of his finest horses was kicked and badly crippled, so he could not take it. Mr. Embury, who went down Friday, came home in the same car.

We know nothing new about the July 4 picnic, but it's still going to be. Wes Kelso has exchanged his Haynes automobile for a Ford, which seems to give satisfaction.

ALONG ROGUE RIVER

Fred Inlow and son Freddie of Doris, Calif., were the guests of his mother, Mrs. Albright, several days last week. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Will Houston and Grandpa Houston attended the funeral of the late Floyd Rogers at Beagle Fridays.

Among those who took the teachers' examinations this week were Misses Merl Coffeen, Ida and Eula Houston, and Mrs. Marie Foster. The school meetings passed off quietly. In the Long Branch district Mrs. Mabel Sager was elected clerk and Jack Houston director; in Reece Creek district Fred Pettigrew clerk, and Mr. Robinson, director; in Debeneger Gap, Jasper Hannah was elected director and Mrs. Marie Foster, clerk.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Houston and Given and Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Morgan went to the valley Tuesday. There was a social dance at the Findley house Saturday night. Mrs. Tim Daily visited her father, J. C. Hannan, Sunday. Frank Houston and wife moved to Central Point Tuesday.

Gene Bellows and family, Wilfred Jack and family and Miss May French were Sunday guests at the Vestal home. Henry French, Perry Foster and Steve Smith were Eagle Point visitors Tuesday.
