EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

By A. C. Howlett

Howard A. Hill, one of our prominent fruit men, and one of the fruit shippers, was out Monday looking over the orchards, to learn approximately the amount of fruit there will be to ship. While here he took dinner at the Sunnyside.

Last Sunday morning I drove over the new road to Tolo and found that it was all O. K. so far as it goes, but by the time it rains on it for a couple of weeks the men that travel over it will find that about six inches of fine gravel or crushed rock will improve it very materially, but it is a very decided improvement over the old road. While riding along I was noticing to see if there was any changes on the route for the better. After leaving Agate I noticed that some of the places looked as though they were almost deserted, if not quite and one place in particular just as I was starting down into Bear creek bottom that the crop, if there was any, for what was growing looked like dog fennel, and mustard looked very bad, and what struck me most was that last year they appeared to have such fine crops, and when I stopped at one of the prominent citizens in the neighborhood of Tolo I inquired the cause of the place looking so dilapidated, was told that the place had been bonded to one of the companies which was in that business, and according to the contract was to give up the place the first of May and receive a good price for the place, but the deal did not go through and the man had tried to put in a little crop late, but that it did not amount to much of anything, as it was sowed so late.

Miss Mary Holmes of Medford is visiting Miss Hazel Brown, her cousin. Mr. and Mrs. George Austin of Clatsop were trading among our merchants Monday. Last Saturday night we had a combination show. The Hoyt company were here and had announced that they would show on Friday night, giving a slight-of-hand and other performances, and there were a few of the younger folk turned out to see what was done, but of the program, they told those who had paid to receive their money back and come the next night, when they would have the combination show, the movies and the Hoyt company show combined, and by Saturday night the talk of the wonderful feats Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt performed, the house was well filled and the people were well pleased with the whole performance.

There is being hauled out of here quite a lot of lumber from the Eagle Point lumber yard this season and business seems to be looking up in every direction. During the last few days Herman Myers, Jr., has taken to the Lake Creek section a load of extra fine flooring to put in a new house he is building, and J. T. Singleton and William Perry of this neighborhood and Messrs. Archibald and Stevens of Brown-shoro, have taken out quite a lot of lumber, and our railroad agent, Mr. Newport, says that they had it away about as fast as they can get it in from the mill.
