KANSAS SOCIETY MEETS IN ASHLAND JULY 13

The third annual meeting of the Kansans in the Rogue River valley will be held at Ashland Thursday, July 13, and it is the intention to make this the biggest and most enjoyable occasion of its nature ever held in the valley and everyone who was born a Jayhawker or formerly lived in the sunflower state, is cordially invited and earnestly requested to prepare now to attend and take baskets well filled for an old-fashioned Kansas picnic dinner—the kind that you enjoyed so well in the days that will always live in your pleasant memories. Plan to take a day off and attend the Chautauqua on July 13, which will include this splendid event.

The following program which will be free, will be given in the Chautauqua building, beginning promptly at 10:20 a. m.:

Song by George Andrews, Medford.

Story telling by Francis Lobadio, a French Canadian, one of the most interesting men on the Chautauqua program.

Solo, Miss Lillian Hiltz, Ashland. Select Reading, W. E. Buchanan, Ashland.

"How I learned of the Mysterious Crater Lake," by Supt. Will G. Steel, Medford, formerly of Kansas.

Solo, George Andrews. "Kansas—Her People, Progress and Prosperity," Attorney K. H. Hurd of Medford, recently from Wichita, Kan.

Solo, Earl Razor, Ashland. After the program dinner will be served just north of the auto camp grounds. Mrs. S. B. Stoner, Mrs. L. Hiltz, Mrs. P. L. Ashcraft, Mrs. M. C. Edgington and other Ashland ladies will be in charge and will furnish coffee and cream. Every family (old bachelors excepted) is expected to take a well-filled basket, also cups, knives, forks and plates and all will eat together.

Grizzlies Attention. Regular meeting held on Monday evening instead of Thursday, at library, 7:30 o'clock. The Oregon Caves trip will then be arranged.

THE COURTSHIPS OF MADELINE FORCE

Here are shown two courtships of Madeline Force. Her first which resulted in her marriage to Col. J. J. Astor when she was 20 and 47, attracted nation-wide attention through refusal of many ministers to perform the ceremony. Both the courtships were outdoor ones.

The Assassination of the Progressive Party, Age 4

Who Killed It? History will say and in Saying Cover Some Great Names With Shame, Declares Herbert Quick.

(The second of four articles in which Herbert Quick, who knows politics from A to Z, tells the real inside story of the death of the progressive party, born four years ago and just laid to rest.—EDITOR.)

BY HERBERT QUICK "Beautiful Evelyn Hope is dead"—and so is the progressive party, the beautiful Evelyn Hope of American history.

It was scarcely out of its swaddling clothes, and it lies here on its little white cot, with some devoted souls standing by, still insisting that it lives—but the sounds which issue from its lips are not breathing. They are the death rattle in its throat.

Who killed it? History will say, and in saying will cover some Great Names with Eternal Shame.

As my influencing contribution to the verdict of history, let me tell of what took place at the Maple Bluff Farm, the home of Senator Hob La Follette at Madison, Wis., some five or six years ago.

Then there was no progressive party, but a powerful progressive movement in the republican party, which commanded the sympathy and aid of many progressive democrats. The movement was strongest in the middle west, and on the Pacific coast, but it was not without its witnesses for truth in every state in the union.

La Follette had spent a decade putting Wisconsin at the head of the movement by his sturdy radicalism, and his sane, sound, democratic program of legislation. He had already accomplished so much that his Wisconsin achievements alone will give him place among the greatest of American statesmen.

Dolliver, who had so long trod with Aldrich and his group the downward road of political iniquity, had felt his great soul in revolt, and in a three days' onslaught in the senate had driven the big burglars before him cowed and trembling. Insurgents everywhere was setting the Aldriches Cannons, Ballingers, Taft, Hitchcocks, Penroses, Cranes, Butlers, Lodges, Lippits, Smoots, and their ilk into tremors of fear and rage.

It was a great, an inspiring time. It looked as if the republican party would soon be captured by the insurgents and returned to the democracy of Lincoln.

When did Roosevelt return from Africa? I can date the occurrence by that. By reference to the books I find that he reached the United States in June, 1910. That being the case, some of the things mentioned above had not yet taken place, but let it go. They were all foreshadowed by what had occurred, they

Cold facts are sufficient in telling the life story of Mme. Kalich, the foremost emotional actress appearing in the William Fox photo-drama "Slender," which opens at the Page theater today for a two-day program.

Bertha Kalich was born in Lemberg, Galicia, and has been before the public since her fourteenth year, making her first appearance at that age in operetta. She appeared at the Bucharest National theater and remained there until her talent had asserted itself to such a degree that she was advanced to leading roles.

A tour followed, her fame grew and twenty years ago she became one of the Yiddish theaters on New York's east side induced her to come to this country. On the east side this young and remarkable woman played in the strenuous Yiddish melodramas and in plays of Sudermann, Ibsen, Tolstoi, Strindberg, Sardou and Gordin, drawing from uptown New York audiences who never before had entered a foreign language theater and many of whom understood not a word of the dialogue.

With her own following, Mme. Kalich achieved great popularity, accumulated a fortune on the east side and became one of the principal owners of the Kalich theater, named in her honor.

Since theatrical successes are usually measured in terms of dollars and cents, it is of interest to note that not only one, but several of the plays in which Mme. Kalich starred in the theater bearing her name made net profits of $40,000 each in runs of fourteen consecutive weeks.

AUTO SMASHES INTO MEDFORD CORNETIST

ASHLAND, Or., July 5.—The Medford city band, while on parade this morning at 9 o'clock, was run into near the city hall by a seven-passenger car driven by a lady. George Dyer, a cornet player, was struck in the back by the car and suffered minor injuries.

thing we can hope for is that when he returns he will fight us openly; for if he associates himself with us openly or covertly he will either rule us or ruin us—and if he rules us he will surely ruin us.

I cannot tell this story, even sketchily today. I will go on with it tomorrow.

Advertisement for a New Perfection Oil Cook-Stove. Features: Juicier, tastier roasts. It's the uniform unvarying heat of a good oil stove, and the perfect control, that keeps the juices in—that preserves the savory goodness of the meat—and gives that even brownness all over. A cleaner, cooler kitchen, and less fuel expense.

OREGON MILITIA SHY OF SOLDIERS

CAMP WITHYCOMBE, Or., July 5.—After a week of rain, clear weather the last two days has stimulated recruiting for the Oregon national guard. It was stated today, however, that less than 150 men have been sworn in and that the state organization lacks 784 men of being at maximum strength. Even should an unexpected turn in the Mexican situation arise, no new units will be sent to the border from Oregon until the units already there have been recruited to full strength, according to orders from the war department.

UNPROVOKED ATTACK UPON A SUBMARINE

BERLIN, July 5 (by wireless to Sayville).—An unprovoked attack on a Teutonic submarine by a steamship is reported in an announcement given out by the admiralty today as follows: "A submarine of the central powers recently returned from the Mediterranean and reported that on the evening of May 27, while east of the Bulerie islands, it was shelled by a large steamer of unknown nationality at a range of about 10,000 meters. The steamer had not been stopped by the submarine. No damage was done to the submarine."

DEMOCRATS CAUCAS FOR ADJOURNMENT

WASHINGTON, July 5.—Democrats of the senate will caucus tonight to consider the legislative program for the remainder of the session with a view to bringing about an early adjournment. A fight is expected on the administration shipping bill, to which there is still strong opposition.

CHINESE REVOLT AGAINST GOVERNOR

SHANGHAI, July 5.—General Li Lieh-Chun is fighting his way along the railway from Shiehchow toward Canton, determined to enforce the demand of the residents of Canton that the rule of Governor Lang Chi-Kuang of Kwan Tung province shall be ended. He came in contact with the governor's forces at Yingtak, where a battle was fought on July 3. Li Lieh-Chun's troops, marching eastward from Kwang-Si province, took Samsui on July 2.

Yingtak is about half way from Samsui to Canton. Samsui is about thirty miles west of Canton.

E. A. Hildreth, Sr., of Butte Falls, appeared before the county court Wednesday in behalf of the proposed Butte Falls-Prospect road, recently ordered viewed.

AMERICAN SHIP SUNK OFF DOVER

DOVER, England, July 5.—The American steamship Jacob Luckenbach was sunk today in collision with the British steamer Eddystone in the Downes, near Dover. Her crew of 31 were rescued.

The Jacob Luckenbach arrived at Queenstown June 27 from San Francisco. She was 322 feet long, 2793 tons gross, was built at Sunderland, England, in 1881, and owned in New York.

Advertisement for Zerolene motor oil. Motor oil made from asphalt-base crude gives best lubrication with least carbon. Such is the testimony of motorists and experts alike. As Lieut. Bryan, U.S.N., puts it: "Oils made from the asphalt-base crudes have shown themselves to be much better adapted to motor cylinders, as far as their carbon-forming propensities are concerned, than are paraffine-base Pennsylvania oils." Zerolene is scientifically refined from selected California crude— asphalt-base—not only made from the right crude but made right.
