

CARNIVAL ENDS BIG THREE DAY CELEBRATION

King Sulphur's Saturnalia Brings Ashland Show to Close—Band Boys Score a Winning—Round-Up Attendance Totals 30,000—Medford Riding Club Wins Prize.

ASHLAND, July 7.—The Ashland boys band scored a winning yesterday morning with the dawn of Grants Pass and Klamath Falls day at the celebration. This youthful organization is making a record that is enviable among musical organizations under the competent coaching of Prof. Carl Loveland who is also leader of the adult instrumentation. Their appearance marked the advent of the fifth band employed here during the three days' festivities.

Round-Up Program At the roundup field in the afternoon Ben Corbett gave a skillful display in the line of three-horse racing exhibition by way of a specialty in track events. In trick and fancy riding Jim Taylor, Tracy Lane and Luken Williams delighted the cowboys' drunken rids while "Broncho" Bob Hall turned the same trick without the use of a bridle. The cowboys novelty race was staged differently from the two preceding days, adding even more pep and thrill to the event. In the arena fancy roping was a main attraction as executed by Buford Vernon, Lee Speckman and Smiley Corbett. In the Indian relay race participants were full blooded arrayed in semi-war costume in keeping with aboriginal tradition.

Among eighteen contestants in the bucking contest the winner was required to mount a stalwart and fractious bull. Frank Beck on "Medford Gray," and Frank Coburn on "Asa and Boy" took part in this contest. Final records in the twenty-three events on the formal program are not yet available, inasmuch as the scores of the three-day meet have to be tabulated and the totals compiled officially.

Baseball Game The third baseball game in the series between Medford and Weed was won by the latter team by the close score of 2 to 1. The games were played to determine the championship of Southern Oregon and Northern California. Tuesday's bout resulted 9 to 6 in Medford's favor. Weed winning on Wednesday by 8 to 4. It is understood, however, that the California victors still have Klamath Falls to deal with.

A belated verdict in regard to merits of riding clubs in the big parade on the Fourth gives the Medford organization the first prize and Ashland the second.

Baby Show a Success At the baby show in Elks temple scores of promising infants were on exhibition, about equally divided as to boys and girls, the entire number being of the beautiful gender. It will take several days for the committee to pass upon the merits of the vital statistics relative to the little ones, before arriving at conclusions as to prize winners. Mrs. J. H. Turner is chairman of the committee engaged in this exacting work.

Last night witnessed the final event of celebration week, in the presentation of King Sulphur's Saturnalia. As the title implies the production was one of frolic and extravaganza. It assumed the proportions of a parade with several special stunts incorporating stunts at existing conditions as they prevail in the average city. Comic effects were universally brought into play in the midst of great enthusiasm. With this concluding chapter in Ashland's 1916 celebration annals, the curtain was finally rung down on the merry scene at an hour varying from midnight on Thursday to three o'clock on Friday morning.

A Poet Laureate Great epochs have poets laureate to sing their praises, and Ashland's composite celebration will find its place in song and story. This is witnessed by the following lines composed by Miss Zeida Mulkey, a juvenile poetess of Central Point, twelve years of age, who in visiting the roundup features was prompted to record her impressions of the lolly cowboys in the following bit of descriptive verse: Oh, you round-up! Oh, you kids! Oh, you men with the funny lids! Cowboys galloping here and there, Smiling at the ladies fair. Bucking bronchos they will ride, Watch them away from side to side. And many a man will have his fall, But hurray for the cowboys, we like 'em all.

NEFF STATES WHY MANY OPPOSE RAILROAD DEAL

To the Editor: If you will give me the necessary space, I will undertake on behalf of a number of citizens who oppose the proposed Blue Ledge railroad bonds to make a statement of some of their principal objections.

1. The contract does not afford the city any fair or reasonable security or assurance that Mr. Bullis will take over the road when completed and repay to the city its cost. 2. The direct beneficiaries of this road, the owners of the mines in the Blue Ledge district, have failed to give the city any reasonable assurance or guaranty that they will operate the mines to a sufficient extent to make the railroad a success or to afford the city anything like an adequate return for the amount expended by it.

No Reasonable Investigation 3. No reasonable investigation has been made, and no reasonable assurance or proof has been afforded the people that the copper deposits of the Blue Ledge district are of such character that under existing methods of mining and smelting and the other surrounding conditions, copper can be produced at a cost which will warrant the operation of the mines under normal conditions.

4. The contract is extremely unbusiness-like in that it contains no sufficient specifications and affords no assurance whatever that the money will be wisely or properly expended.

This communication will be confined to a discussion of the first of these objections. I shall, however, within a day or two have something to say about the others.

1. There is no provision in the contract whatever that Mr. Bullis shall take over the road or pay the money necessary to retire the bonds. The reason for this omission is that the whole transaction is conceded to be in direct violation of the constitution of our state, and the contract has been drawn so as not to make matters appear as they are, in order that if possible the courts may be deceived and the constitutional prohibition against the city lending its credit be evaded.

Is Evason of Law However, everyone connected with the matter fully understands that it is the real intention that all the city is to do is to lend its credit to Mr. Bullis, and that he is to build the road, own and operate it and pay the bonds. What assurance or security does Mr. Bullis give that he will do this? Whether or not Mr. Bullis is honest and has good intentions is entirely beside the question. The city is in fact lending Mr. Bullis $300,000 to build his road. To lend this amount of money without some reasonable security, is bad business. Mr. Bullis proposes by way of security to deed to the city his equity in the Jacksonville railroad subject to a mortgage of $57,000.00. Mr. Bullis bought this property including the cars, engines and other equipment for $60,000, paying down $3000 and giving back a mortgage for $57,000. He now proposes to deed the city his equity in the road, reserving the cars, engines, etc. This is all the security the city is to receive. Need I add that it is no security whatever?

Spend Only City Coin The question may be asked whether it is not true that Mr. Bullis expects to expend considerable money of his own in building the road in addition to the $10,000 per mile which the city is to advance. The answer is, first, Mr. Bullis has not agreed to do anything of the kind. Mr. Bullis does not propose to spend a single dollar of his own money in the construction of this road. He fully expects to do all the work with the $10,000 per mile which the city furnishes. I have this on authority close to Mr. Bullis and so reliable that I am safe in making the assertion positively. Anyone who states the contrary is either himself deceived or is seeking to deceive you.

Security Not Adequate It may be claimed that Mr. Bullis is unable to give adequate security, and that rather than lose the road we should accept what security he has to offer; but if Mr. Bullis cannot offer adequate security, he certainly should be willing, if he is acting in good faith, to do all that he can in this respect. He hasn't done even this. He has expressly reserved the rolling stock and equipment of his road and the trolley wires and poles. The very fact that Mr. Bullis proposes to make these reservations in the deed of his microscopic equity in the road casts a suspicion on his good faith in the whole transaction—a suspicion amounting at least to a presumption that he himself seriously doubts his ability to carry out his part of the agreement. EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

By A. C. Howlett Miss Emma McCaslin of the All Vista orchard has been visiting Miss Freda Leabo the past week. I. M. Bates of Portland was a guest at the Sunnyside Sunday night and remained over Monday to hunt eagles.

Professor C. E. Johnson sent off his third petition for the constitutional amendment to prohibit the bringing into the state of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes, last Friday, and Rev. L. L. Simmons sent off one petition, making a total of 140 from this section, and if the anti-saloon forces all over the state have done as well as they did, the 23,000 names have been secured with plenty to spare.

Mr. Newport, our depot agent, received five crates of chickens and shipped them out to the Medford Poultry company last Saturday. They were brought in by John Rader of Eagle Point, James Grieves of Prospect, W. E. Hammel by Mr. Isabel, his foreman, and later in the week Mrs. P. J. Ayres brought in a crate. Tuesday, when the train came in they had quite a lot of freight for our merchants and several passengers, and among them was Mrs. F. D. Hill of Derby, and she informed me that her husband was building a sawmill at the cedar spring, near the property of Frank Neil, which will be quite a convenience for the people who live off the railroad.

Irvin Daley came out last Saturday for a load of lumber he has stacked here last fall, and while here was showing specimens of the copper-bearing rock he has taken out of his mine, and the copper was so plentiful that it could be seen by a young person with the eye without a magnifying glass. He seems to think he has a fortune right within his grasp.

G. N. Birkley of Medford was with us last Saturday. He represents Failing, McCormick Co. of Portland. C. A. Newstrom, the road supervisor of the Lake Creek district, and wife were here for dinner at the same time.

Miss Ruth Thomson of Derby came out on the train Saturday and the same evening was met by her sister, Miss Nell, and the two Hudson sisters, Misses Gillian and Lola Hudson, recently from Seattle, Wash., but now of Medford. The two sisters and Miss Thomson had just returned from Jacksonville, where they had been to take the teachers' examination, and Sunday after they all had taken dinner at the Sunnyside where they boarded Henry Trusty's Ford and took a trip to Derby. The company was composed of the two Hudson sisters, Misses Ruth and Nell Thomson, Miss Clara Zimmerman, Miss Dehless Minter, Joe Moogaw and the chauffeur, Henry Trusty. Now, perhaps you may think that they were crowded, but they did not seem to be, for Henry is used to carrying passengers and he arranged them in the following order: He seated one lady on each end of the seat and then seated two more in the laps of the two ladies, and Joe in the middle, verily "a rose between four thorns," then he put two of the ladies on the front seat. They kind of doubled up so as to leave room for Henry so he could manage the car, and off they went, as merry as a clam at high tide. Misses Gillian H. C. Z. and Dehless returned home. Miss Minter to her home and the others to the Sunnyside, and reported having had a most enjoyable time. The Hudson sisters are looking for schools, as they are practical teachers.

Professor C. E. Johnson returned to his room Friday from Jacksonville, where he had been taking the examination on some of the higher branches. Among the callers at the Sunnyside for dinner Sunday besides those mentioned above were J. V. McIntyre, wife, daughter and sister, Miss Alice, William von der Hellen, wife, son and daughter, Jack Florey, Jr., John Foster, John McPherson, Jud Edsall, Carl Ringer, Dr. Holt and daughter, Miss Helen.

Marshall Minter came out Monday and went to Medford on his way to Ashland. Mr. Archibald, living on what is known as the Heath place, came out Monday for another load of lumber. He and his partner, Mr. Stephenson, are building a house on a five-acre tract of land they have an option on, joining their place, as one house is not large enough for two families to live in.

J. L. Coey and family came out on the train Monday on their way to Mrs. C.'s parents at Edsall Crossing. Mr. and Mrs. Gippert. They took a lively team to Derby, where they were met by some of the family, as the stage was so crowded that they could not go by stage.

Rudolph Isell of Portland came out Monday evening, spent the night at the Sunnyside and took the P. & E. train for the Dupuy mill, where his father is engaged as head Sawyer.

Carl Salor of Lake Creek, a nephew of Charles Seafield, came out on the P. & E. Tuesday, and H. N.

McIntyre of Derby came out on the same car, and Mrs. J. A. Jonas took passage from here to Butte Falls. French Hard of Butte Falls, who lives near the old Obenchain place, came out, took dinner with us and went up home the same day.

Miss Lola Hudson, Frank Tangate and wife of Jacksonville and E. A. Hidroth of Butte Falls were passengers out on the P. & E. the 4th. The members of the L. O. O. F. lodge here have erected a flagpole on the top of their hall, the bank building, and had Old Glory floating from it on the Fourth. Speaking of the Fourth, every business house in town was closed and almost everybody went to Ashland to celebrate.

The alarm of fire was given over the phone Wednesday afternoon, but the few men and women who are left here came to the rescue. The fire caught in a fence between the Zimmerman barn and the barn now owned by Mrs. Rose Potter, known as the Dick Daley barn, and was about to reach both barns by the time help came. There was but little damage done. The cause of the fire is unknown to the public.

Since my last report, George von der Hellen, one of our hardware merchants, has renewed his subscription to the Daily Mail Tribune, Gus Nichols has renewed his to the W. M. T. S. H. H. Harnish, our livery stable man, has paid for an ad in the Eagle and Harris Gippert of Butte Falls has renewed his subscription to the Daily Mail Tribune.

THE MEADOWS

Bill Cottrell has a new Ford automobile, the third one in a week—some trader is Bill.

Cliff Hazelwood and John Drake took in the Fourth of July festivities at Wimer, and claim a fine dance was quite the feature of the day.

Dave Cottrell is driving his new Overland car which he received last week.

Miss Emma Ice finally got away for Los Angeles Monday, altho she plans to see how Ashland celebrated the fourth enroute.

Another new Ford has made its debut in the Meadows with Jim Dinkers behind the steering wheel.

A full turn out to the practice game Sunday at the ball park. The team is getting in shape to beat Rogue River the sixteenth at the Wimer grounds. Theo and Loran ice drove to Medford shopping Monday.

Alex Nibley, of Grants Pass, Mr. Dunne and Delano, mining engineers of note with Mr. Delano's son, motored to the mines Sunday for a trip of inspection. They found some real mines in the making.

Walter, Frank and Albert Cummings went to Medford Monday. They have been working on the Bertelson mines for some weeks past.

Mr. and Mrs. Lane Wyland and their daughters all went to the roundup.

Ralph Russell, Bill Cottrell and family motored to Medford on Monday.

Albert Cummings and Walter Frank were Medford visitors Monday.

Howard and Frank Mayfield were in Ashland throughout the roundup. Ed Russell went to Ashland for the roundup Monday afternoon.

The group of claims on Cinnabar mountain which have been under development by Frank and Cummings, are showing a splendid body of ore of somewhat higher grade than most of the meadows district and the body of ore seems proven for several hundred feet, centering on the spot where Jasper Rodgers took out the rich pocket of cinnabar some years ago.

Dave Cottrell, Bill Cottrell and their families spent the week in and about Medford and Ashland.

Mrs. J. P. Dinkens has returned from the valley and is much improved in health. Wallace Dinkens has found the horse and saddle which disappeared last Sunday. The horse, saddle and

BEST TREATMENT FOR CATARRH

S. S. S. Removes the Cause.

Specialists have agreed that Catarrh is an infection of the blood. Once you get your blood cleansed of the Catarrh poisons you will be relieved of Catarrh—the dripping in the throat, hawking and spitting, sores in the nostrils, and the disagreeable breath. It was caused, in the first place, because your impoverished blood was easily infected. Possibly a slight cold or contact with some one who had a cold. But the point is—don't suffer with Catarrh—it is not necessary. The remedy S. S. S. discovered over fifty years ago, tested, true and tried, is always obtainable at any drug store. It has proven its value in thousands of cases. It will do so in your case. Get S. S. S. at once and begin treatment. If yours is a long-standing case, be sure to write the Swift Medical Co., Atlanta, Ga., for free medical advice. They will tell you how this purely vegetable blood tonic cleanses the impurities from the blood by literally washing it clean.
