RAILROAD NEARS BURNS, OREGON

Rev. W. F. Shields, for 12 years pastor of the local church, arrived in Medford Thursday from Burns where he is pastor. He will visit friends until Monday, when he will attend the state Presbyterian meeting at Salem. At its conclusion he will return to Medford and journey in his auto back to Burns.

Burns is prospering, according to Mr. Shields. The railroad has been completed from Ontario through the mountains to within 16 miles of the city and a celebration has just been been held in consequence. The Swifts of Chicago have become interested in the large ranch holdings of the Corbetts and are now inspecting them with a view to future developments. The curse of the interior country has been the large land owners, who corrailed the water and desisted development enterprises, in order to keep the country a cattle range, but the coming of the railroad is changing this primitive condition.

William Hanley, Progressive candidate for U. S. Senator at the last election, and a delegate to the Progressive convention at Chicago, has come out in support of President Wilson for re-election, states Mr. Shields.

Resources Plentiful.

Dr. Aked reported to the confermee that he found everywhere in Germany the conviction that the Gerfield, and that the allies cannot exand Ray Stewart, business agent of haust German resources. Money and the Wood Finisher's Union, two years men seemed to be plentiful, he said, and an American living in Berlin asserted there were hundreds of thousands of men, trained to the minute, who had not yet been on any firing ine. Extremists of the "war party were most confident in their military no fear of the English or Russian trained officers.

It is said Dr. Aked found very little sentiment favoring the United 175. States as a mediatory agency. There is a strong feeling in Germany against the United States, engendered partly, of course, by the submarine controversy.

Influence of Moderates,

Dr. Aked interviewed in Germany number of men who last July issued a protest against the suggested unuexation of Belgium. This protest described annexation as a "political blunder, fraught with grave consemences and calculated not; to strengthen, but fatally to weaken, the German empire," and further stated:

"We subscribe to the principle that the policy of annexation in the case of the people's necustomed to politcal independence is to be rejected,'

"This utterance is a voice that othing can silence," said Dr. Aked but of course these moderate mer are not the only men of influence is Germany and will not have matters their own way when it comes to settlement. Between the moderate men and the war party there is constant strife. The continuance of the war, the nature and conduct of the var, are posnes sharply drawn be tween a 'better Germany' and the Bolt of this city. They left for a "war party."

The Real Conflict.

"It is really of more importance to the world as to which of these parties shall win in Germany than the more popular interest as to who will be victorious in the trenches. If the jingoes win the world will have to deal with a very different Germany-a Germany flushed with vietory and uncompromising in her triumph, or else the world must look with anguish upon years of fiercer war, while the best fruits of civilization are utterly destroyed."

Dr. Aked said be found much to recurrage him, however, as to Ger, day from Eugene to settle the estate above the sword."
