

PERSHING'S SUPPLY TRAIN RELEASED AFTER HOLD-UP

EL PASO, Tex., July 14.—The Mexico Northwestern train, filled with farms and supplies consigned to Casas Grandes merchants for the use of General Pershing's army, which was held up in Juarez last night by order of General Gonzales, was released today on instructions from General Juvencio Trevino at Chihuahua City.

No explanation of the delay in the departure of the train was given by the Mexican authorities in Juarez. They declined to talk of the subject.

It is understood that the instructions for the release came from Mexico City to General Trevino.

A telegram received here today from Parral by a mining company states that the people of Parral believe that danger from Villistas has passed. Conditions are normal in that section, it was said.

Three companies, the forty-first, sixty-ninth and one hundred and third, of the coast artillery, were sent from here today to Del Rio, Tex.

Announcement today that the seventh infantry was being transferred from Camp Cotton, near the Rio Grande, to Fort Bliss, gave rise to reports that it was being moved to make room for the sixteenth infantry, which was said to be on its way out of Mexico, General Bell said, however, that the newly formed thirty-fourth infantry is to take the place of the seventh at Camp Cotton.

The thirty-fourth is one of the three new regiments now being organized here. The others are the seventeenth cavalry and the eighth field artillery. These regiments are being formed from regulars of other regiments to be filled in later by recruits.

Reports have reached the border that part of the thirteenth cavalry is moving northward in the rear of the sixteenth infantry. The sixteenth has been guarding General Pershing's line of communications.

HUGHES TO OPEN CAMPAIGN AUG. 7

BRIDGEHAMPTON, N. Y., July 14.—Charles K. Hughes will open his campaign with a speech in Detroit on the night of August 7. He will then go to Chicago, then to St. Paul or Minneapolis for his third speech.

In announcing this program, Mr. Hughes said he would adhere to his plan to make only ten or twelve set speeches on the trip which would take him to the Pacific coast, and will return east in time to go into Maine before the September elections.

Plans for the other speeches he will make on the trans-continental trip have not matured, but he will spend the two weeks originally contemplated in the Rocky mountains.

INCREASE VIGILANCE ON MUNITION SHIPMENTS

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Agents of the department of justice today increased their vigilance to prevent the passage of arms and ammunition across the Mexican border as a result of reports of suspected smuggling activities. The department required all munition dealers to report their sales and the railroads to report their consignments, so smugglers have little chance to operate.

NAVAL COLLIER HECTOR SINKING AT CHARLESTON

CHARLESTON, S. C., July 14.—The naval collier Hektor, bound for Santo Domingo, carrying 50 marines, is reported sinking about 40 miles off Charleston. The light-house tender, Cypress, went out at ten o'clock this morning to the assistance of the Hektor, but was unable to breach the heavy seas and returned.

The tug Vigilant, which had been in wireless communication with the Hektor, reported at 12:30 that a steamer was standing by, but it was not known whether she had transferred the marines and crew. Wireless communication is difficult.

BERLIN REPORTS BATTLES RAGING ON SOMME FRONT

BERLIN, July 14.—New and violent battles are being fought on both sides of the river Somme this morning, says the official statement, given out today by the German army headquarters staff.

Early this morning, the statement says, British troops attacked in the sector of Mametz wood and Longueval and made repeated efforts to capture Trosses woods. The first British attacks were beaten back and new battles are now in progress.

East of the river Meuse, in the region of Verdun, the French attempted to reconquer territory captured by the Germans, the official statement says. Near the fortress of Souville, the French attack was impeded by a curtain of fire, it is declared, and in the vicinity of Laufee work, the attack was completely repulsed.

Russian forces, which had again entered the first line of the German trenches, defended by troops of General Count von Bothmer, were elected, the German official statement says, with considerable losses by a counter-attack.

LILLIAN GISH IN STRONG PLAY AT PAGE

Commercializing a good-looking girl and considering her of no use in the world except the price in dollars and cents that her physical charms will bring in open market is a characteristic of the lower classes in several European countries, particularly Russia. Innate womanly resistance to so unattractive a way of mating gives Lillian Gish a splendid chance to show her dramatic powers in "Sold for Marriage," the Triangle-Fine Arts play which opened at the Page today and tomorrow.

As Marfa of "Sold for Marriage," Miss Gish makes an apparently fragile but actually strong-willed young woman. She won't marry an ugly old peasant just because he is rich and she refuses the advances of a colonel even though he is the governor of the district in which she lives. Separated from the young man whom she really loves, she is taken to America by her scheming uncle and aunt and a rich burgain arranged for her marriage in the States. There are all sorts of thrills before the conspirators are huddled off to jail and Marfa and her sweetheart reunited.

The comedy end of the performance will be taken care of by that famous tramp vaudevillian, Joe Jackson, in an exuberantly laughable farce, entitled, "Gussey Joe. It's a Trinkle-Keystone and needs no further comment.

MARY PICKFORD SCORES TRIUMPH AT THE STAR

If there have even been any doubts as to the versatility of Mary Pickford, the Famous Players Film company's star, she dispelled them by her wonderful performance in that company's splendid production of Kate Jordan's "Poor Little Peppino," which opened yesterday at the Star theater for a two-days' run.

Following upon her last Paramount picture, "Madame Butterfly," in which she so perfectly characterizes the little Japanese girl, Miss Pickford in this production creates a character new to her admirers—an American girl who has been stolen by Italians when a mere baby and brought up as one of their own children. Her native tongue and all thought of her real parentage totally obliterated, she is to all intents and purposes a real Italian girl.

But there lingers about her an indefinable something that leaps into fire when she is finally reunited with her parents by a simple little prayer that forms the only heritage of her childhood.

A Brey cartoon of the unusual order rounds out the bill and really makes a very entertaining program.

EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

By A. C. Nowlett
Marsh Garrett and wife came dashing into town in their auto last Saturday evening with a trail attachment, it being the fore-wheels of his wagon, and he had the tire tied on with wire, and I heard him tell Mr. Childreth, our blacksmith, that the tire kept coming off so that he had to wire them on all around, and he wanted them put on so tight that they would stay for a while at least; they were going to Medford and wanted to take the wheels back in the morning, and it was then after 5 o'clock p. m., but the work was done that night. Mr. Garrett is one of our bustling ranchers and stockmen that makes things move. Shortly after he and his wife were married they bought a farm, stock ranch and a band of cattle on credit and they both went to work and took care of the stock, lived within their means, subscribed for the Mail Tribune and by that means kept posted on the markets, and soon invested in an auto so as to facilitate business, kept paying on his investment and now is on an easy street, with a good ranch, well stocked and out of debt. If more of our young men would live within their means and make good investments there would not be so many tramping over the country and cursing "the hard times," and President Wilson would not get so many severe censures for imaginary troubles.

Charles Baker of Medford spent Saturday night with us.
Professor C. E. Johnson and Rev. L. L. Simmons and wife went to Ashland Saturday to attend the chauntiqua, Rev. S. and wife remaining during the most of the week.

Sunday afternoon Frank Smith and an Indian woman who gave her name as Anita Engel, and a little boy whose name I did not learn, called for dinner. They were of the bronco busters and came, Smith from Pendleton and Miss Engel from near Dansmar, Cal., and had started for Klamath Falls via Crater Lake with some more of their company, but when they reached camp seven miles above McLeod, Miss Engel got word calling her home, so they retraced their steps and stopped for dinner again Monday, going on to Medford that evening.

Later in the day Samuel Braice, formerly a homesteader on the unsurveyed country lying beyond Big Butte, a timber cruiser for the S. P. Co., stopped in to renew old acquaintance and spend the night with us. He is still in the employ of the S. P. Co. and has his headquarters in San Francisco, Cal., and his family in Los Angeles. He with about ten or twelve others, came and took up homesteads in the unsurveyed, lived there, cleared enough of the land to satisfy the government requirements, established a postoffice, Dudley postoffice, and two school houses, planted orchard, potatoes, etc., made their final proof, procured their patents to their land and now are scattered from Florida to Washington and Pennsylvania to California. They still hold the title to the land—as a fine body of timber as can be found anywhere in this country. They were a company of highly refined, educated men, and women as can be found anywhere, and when they left here and began to scatter they left behind them many warm friends.

Albert McCabe and Everett Dalnack were also callers Sunday evening.
Mrs. Chris Bergsman and Mrs. Bert Clarno, who live between Eagle Point and the Free ferry, were in town trading last Monday.

I learned Monday that the father of W. E. Hemmel, one of our prominent citizens, died at his residence in St. Louis, Mo., the day that his son and wife started from here to go to be with his parents.

C. M. Allen, one of Uncle Sam's telephone engineers, took the stage Monday to go to Prospect to look after the telephone lines between there and Fort Klamath.

Miss Emil Middlebush of Trail took the auto stage for her home on Monday morning.

Hamilton Watkins and wife were doing business in Eagle Point the first of the week, and he and Messrs. Irble and Graham took dinner at the Sunnyside. Mr. Graham is the man who bought the Fred Pedegree place, on the free ferry road.

Charles Manning, who lives near Peyton, called for late dinner Monday on his way home from the Antelope country.

Mrs. Joseph Gippet and her two youngest children were on the P. & E. Tuesday on their way home. They had been visiting in Medford.

Miss Wilhelmina Roberts was a business visitor in Eagle Point Tuesday.

Mrs. Frank Carson of Butte Falls returned to her home after a three weeks' visit with friends in Central Point.

Born—to Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Wolfer, July 7, 1916, in Arnetic, Ia., a daughter. Mr. Wolfer and family were formerly residents of Eagle Point but are now living in Arnetic, Ia. They still own property in this section.

Mr. Stanwood and family have moved from Phoenix to their ranch in East Phoenix, where they have recently erected a beautiful new home.

Reuben Stevens of the Phoenix shoe shop has been in poor health for some time and has gone to his father's home in the foothills to regain his health. During his absence Mr. Wakefield will be found at the shoe shop.

Mrs. W. J. Elmer returned from the Central Point hospital last Saturday. Her many friends are pleased to have her home again and to see her looking so well.

Andrew Hearn recently purchased a brand-new Maxwell car.
E. G. Coleman and E. E. Reames left for the Dead Indian country Tuesday morning. They are driving their cattle there for the summer months.

E. G. Westerfield is building two 5000 gallon tanks for irrigating purposes on his ranch in East Phoenix.
Mr. and Mrs. L. Alving are entertaining their niece, Miss Nancy Kelly and her friend, Miss Louise Irwin, both of DeWitt, Iowa.

Mrs. Bailey of Iowa is visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. Morgan, of West Phoenix.
Mrs. R. Pulaski and son left last Friday for her home in Hornbrook, Cal., after having spent several weeks with her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Aree.

Mrs. M. Calhoun of Tofo, visited friends in Phoenix last week.
Milo Ferry and family have returned from the stone quarry where they have been living for the last few months.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Elfers are entertaining two of their daughters for the summer. One from Oklahoma and the other from California.

WHY?

NOW TIME TO TRADE.
I have a 160-acre stock ranch; good location; 100 acres in grain, some alfalfa. This place recently sold for $12,000; no incumbrance. Will trade for good orchard, prefer pears, or would take city property. Would trade even or assume some incumbrance on orchard proposition.

J. C. BARNES
102 West Main Street.

NEW TODAY

We can deliver a fine stock ranch of 270 acres—over half now in crop of wheat, barley, alfalfa and corn, and considerable ore can be cultivated—none of it steep land. This place joins a boundless out-range and has very good buildings, and abundance of springs for stock. Anyone wanting to get into the stock business should take this one. No trade.
