NEW OFFICERS FOR CHAUTAUQUA FOR COMING YEAR

ASHLAND, July 19.—C. W. Root, president; Rev. J. S. Smith, vice-president; G. G. Eubanks, treasurer; E. D. Briggs, H. L. Whited, G. W. Trefren, E. E. Bigley and W. A. Patrick, directors, is the new alignment of chautauqua officials elected for the Southern Oregon assembly on Tuesday afternoon. G. F. Billings was unanimously elected president emeritus by virtue of having been at the head of the association for the past twenty-one years. The secretary will be appointed by the board, R. P. Campbell being the present incumbent. Mr. Root is at present absent from the city, visiting his old home in Ohio. The association adjourned to meet the first Wednesday in September.

Nothing definite was done regarding a new building at this assembly session. A structure accommodating at least 3500 people is a requisite, the minimum cost being $15,000, this implying the building without including all of its equipment. Suggestions were made that galleries could be added later. If the building is erected its use as a general auditorium is contemplated.

Monday was Temperance day. The chief address was by Walter H. Evans, district attorney of Multnomah county, who dwelt upon enforcement of the prohibition enactment. He defended the course of employing detectives in ferreting out violations of the law and concluded by emphasizing the statement that all efforts are practically unavailing unless public sentiment is back of the movement from judge down to petty court officials.

The grand finale of the assembly Tuesday evening was the "circus," participated in by 290 youngsters, both boys and girls. Athletic exercises were the riding feature, the result of coaching by Professor Larimore, director of this specialty under Y. M. C. A. auspices at Tacoma. The "circus" has been the climax of chautauqua for years past as directed by the same instructor, and his pupils exhibited remarkable proficiency along the lines of physical agility and development.

The 1916 assembly has proved a successful one both as to talent and attendance, consequently the gate receipts have been gratifying and patrons more than satisfied.

ASHLAND AND VICINITY

B. F. Westmore of Spokane, formerly resident of Milwaukee, Wis., arrived on Wednesday for a visit with his uncle, C. B. Lamkin.

Rival portions of town were given a jolt in Zumbul's chautauqua "Civic Spirit" lecture, when he said that the public library should have been located on the Plaza, also the federal building when constructed, so as to group these public conveniences at a common center near the city hall, in order to carry out an ideal and progressive municipal plan.

The Blair Granite Co., operating quarries near Ayres' Spur, southeast of Ashland, is employing nearly a dozen men, some of whom are from the noted quarry center at Barre, Vt. The steps for the new Portland auditorium are being gotten out on the Blair property, blocks which in size measure 3x4x8 feet and weigh nearly nine tons each.

The Morris Bros. of the Park garage have dissolved partnership. S. R. Morris continues the business. Local Elks will visit Yreka in a social way July 22. Medford members of the order will join in the roundup, and the pilgrimage will be made in stages.

Officers of the Kansas association are: V. O. N. Smith of Ashland, president; Will G. Steel of Medford, vice-president; M. C. Edgington of Ashland, secretary-treasurer.

H. C. Galey, office man at the Tidings, left for Eugene, his former home, last Monday on a business trip.

Local Methodists are contemplating attending a reception in Portland July 28, tendered as a welcome to Dr. Matt Hughes, newly elected bishop of that church.

Beginning July 18, extra train service on the Southern Pacific affords a through sleeper from Sacramento to Klamath Falls during the outing season, with Crater Lake as the objective point. The return trip may be made overland, if one desires, through either the Ashland or Medford gateway.

A popular local clergymen who patronizes extensively the tennis courts near West school, was playing a rather indifferent game on a certain Monday morning with a young man he could usually beat, but for some reason the preacher was not in form and was faring badly. Between games he remarked apologetically to his opponent, "I simply can't stand your service today." "Then we're quits," was the cheeky reply, "for I couldn't stand your service yesterday."

Rev. H. A. Carnahan went to Eugene on Monday to attend sessions of the Presbyterian synod of Oregon. He will return the latter part of the week.

H. W. Howland, a Grand Army veteran of Yreka, is a beneficiary of the estate of Mrs. Betty Green, the eastern "millionaire," recently deceased. His father was a first cousin of Mrs. Green.

Mrs. Fred Knott and daughter of Sacramento are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jordan, old-time friends. The Knott family formerly resided here.

Movies of the roundup period, as taken by Fred Hall of Central Point, are being developed in Portland, ready for exhibition at an early date, with the result that several show houses have already filed applications for the privilege of exhibiting them.

The maximum temperature for June was 96 on the 16th; minimum, 52, on the 10th. Precipitation, .69 of an inch. Clear days prevailed, 20 of 'em.

From the manner in which boys are roping each other on the streets, it is evident that the juvenile element has become inured with the roundup fever. Some of the lads wield the rope with dexterity.

Local churchmen are viewing with interest the proposal to merge Pacific university at Forest Grove, a Congregational institution, with Albany college at Albany, Presbyterians school of higher learning. The Congregationalists of Portland adopted a resolution against the movement. Evidently educational unity remains as far from accomplishment as that of the Christian kind.

Through the courtesy of A. Christian of San Francisco, vice-president and general manager of Wells

Fargo & Co., local parties have received pamphlets incorporating details as to the express company's benefit and pension system, which went into effect June 1. The main features refer to age and disability service pensions, sickness and accident allowances and continuance of salary after death, with funeral allowances.

The Misses Helen and Gertrude Moore, sisters of Mrs. W. H. McNair, leave for Stockton, Cal., this week to visit their father and brother.

Civic and fraternal organizations at Klamath Falls have set the pace in affording assistance in behalf of families of soldiers who have gone to the front. Under auspices of the Oregon Patriotic league, which distributes such relief, the Woman's Relief Corps, Library club and W. C. T. U. have united in this movement.

Jackson and Josephine counties are to unite in a joint teachers' institute, October 11, 12 and 13. The precipitation during the recent three days of intermittent showers footed up .71 of an inch.
