

INDIANA WITH THREE CANDIDATES VERDUN OF POLITICS

INDIANAPOLIS, July 22.—The position of Indiana in the political arena this year became more conspicuous yesterday with the nomination of J. Frank Hanley as the prohibition candidate at the convention in St. Paul. His nomination following that of Charles W. Fairbanks as the republican candidate for vice-president and that of Thomas H. Marshall for the same office on the democratic ticket, places the state in an unusual position as a producer of presidential possibilities.

Another feature of the political campaigns in this state this year, which has caused some of the political leaders of the country to refer to Indiana as the "Verdun of the campaign," is the fact that two United States senators are to be elected, one for the full term and one to serve for four years.

Mr. Hanley is a former republican governor of the state and since he left that office has practiced law and fought the liquor interests. He consented to and was the progressive candidate for governor, having been nominated at the March primary. When the progressive national convention failed to include a prohibition plank in its platform, however, Mr. Hanley withdrew from the state ticket. He is 53 years old. His residence is only a few blocks from those of Mr. Fairbanks and Vice-President Marshall.

G. O. P. LEADERS IN NEW YORK COERCE BULL MOOSERS

SYRACUSE, N. Y., July 22.—Progressive leaders gathered here for the meeting of the state convention this afternoon threaten to go into the courts if any action is taken to place the name of Charles E. Hughes and those of the republican presidential electors on the progressive ballot in New York state.

Committees to bring about the nomination of Judge Santoni Scabury of the court of appeals for governor in opposition to Governor Whitman have been appointed in several counties.

In spite of the threats of progressive leaders, the indications are that Hughes will be endorsed.

Bainbridge Colby arrived here this morning and immediately issued a statement saying a number of former Hughes appointees were here trying to deliver the progressive machinery to the republicans. He said Hughes leaders among the progressives were attempting to garrot and coerce others to follow them.

"It seems to be on the cards to try and force Hughes' endorsement," says Colby's statement. "The plight of that true gentleman and fine progressive, John Parker, whom we have nominated for ice-president, is recognized as sad, but it is dismissed with a shrug. Nothing, not even duty, must be permitted to interfere with the plan of the 'endorsement' to get next to the candidate, and 'point with pride' to what they have done."

"The same fatuous determination to do the worst possible, which has involved the national committee in country-wide repudiation and exposed Mr. Hughes to the affront of having his communication to the California progressives tabled without reading, seems to actuate his friends here. I should call them his supporters, and shouters—then can hardly be considered his friends."

POSTERS ANNOUNCE EVACUATION RUMORS

AMSTERDAM, via London, July 22.—Posters have been pasted on the walls of barracks in Ghent stating that negotiations have been opened between the United States and Germany for the evacuation of Belgium, according to the Echo Belge. According to the posters, Germany is prepared to withdraw from Belgium on the payment of an indemnity of 40,000,000,000 marks.

The Echo Belge comments sarcastically on this proposal, terming the proposed indemnity a "mere flea bite."

BRITISH WOMEN PARADE ACTIVITIES IN AIDING NATION

LONDON, July 22.—British women gave an impressive demonstration today of their work in the war, thousands participated in a parade through the central districts of London. The parade was divided into numerous sections with tableaux representing women in working costumes, showing how they have replaced men in various activities.

There were women in overalls from munition factories, nurses, chauffeurs, street car conductors, railroad workers, and agricultural workers.

In the procession also were floats in the form of elaborate memorials to Earl Kitchener and the sailors and soldiers who have been killed in the war. Other women impersonated detachments of troops from the British dominions and from all the allied armies.

At the conclusion of the pageant, wreaths were deposited on the monuments of Wellington and Nelson.

Chalmers

The Car That Will Take You Any Place and Bring You Back

The mist of gasoline that whirls through the tiny perforation in the carburetor jet of the 3400 r. p. m. Chalmers rushes into action that has changed the whole aspect of automobile engineering.

The six cylinders of its engine are small—3¼ by 4½ inches. The small area from which heat can be thrown away by radiation, reinforced by the incredibly short cooling process between the swift succession of its explosions, create maximum energy with minimum waste.

18 miles for every gallon of gas, anything up to 60 miles an hour, and supremacy of pick-up.

3400 revolutions per minute means that every grain of energy is wrung from every drop of gasoline that is inhaled by the powerful suction of the motor pistons.

It means that when, at the point of highest pressure, a spark from the distributor ignites the oxygen of the air with the carbon of the gasoline, every mechanical condition is such that loss of energy is cut down to the lowest possible degree.

It means that the 3400 r. p. m. Chalmers gets twice the mileage on gas that many another high-speed engine will deliver.

SAXON SIX

The Best Car on the Market for the price

A big touring car for five people. A finished example of the modern quality car. It will meet fully your ideals—in beauty, in luxury, in comfort, in strength, in speed, in power.

It typifies—in every feature, in every detail—the newest developments in fine automobile construction.

CAN YOU BEAT THIS?

On July 1st, 206 Saxon dealers in all parts of the country, driving stock model Saxon prove the remarkable gasoline economy of "Saxon Six."

The winner averaged 34½ miles per gallon of gasoline. The grand average for the 206 Saxon "Sixes" was 23.5 miles per gallon.

The total distance traveled was 61,800 miles—more than twice around the world—nearly twenty times across the continent. During the entire 61,800 miles not a single motor stopped running and no mechanical troubles occurred.

This country-wide Saxon "Six" test proves what any Saxon owner could do with his own car. Remember that in most instances each Saxon "Six" carried five passengers.
