

EXPLAINS METHODS OF LIFE SAVING AND OF FIRST AID

At the first aid demonstration, given by Dr. F. H. Kruse, a member of the house staff of the University of California hospital at the city hall, this morning, under the auspices of the Pacific Telephone Co., an explanation and demonstration of the new Schafer prone pressure method of resuscitation was given. This method has displaced former methods of restoring breathing, in which the patient was placed on his back and the arms worked forward and back.

In the Schafer method, as demonstrated by Dr. Kruse, a pad is made of coats or a robe folded. The patient is rolled, face down onto the pad with the pad in the pit of the stomach. Next, the patient is examined to see that the breathing passages are clear and the tongue is pulled well forward with the fingers or, if necessary, with pliers or some other instrument. The head is turned to the side and rested on one hand. One person then drops with knees on either side of the legs of the patient, sitting well up toward the hips. The hands are run forward from the hips until the first rib is found. Then place the little finger upon the first rib, the other fingers a little spread apart over the ribs. The hands must be kept six inches apart and well away from the back bone. Lean forward with arms straight and press gradually down and back upon the ribs, releasing suddenly. After an interval, repeat the operation, going through it 15 or 20 times a minute, not faster. If necessary, the work can be kept up without fatigue for two hours or more.

ARYAN, A REMARKABLE PHOTOPLAY, AT PAGE

Most remarkable is the photoplay, "The Aryan," which opened yesterday at the Page, with William S. Hart playing the leading part. In the first place it is almost inconceivably intense, gripping the on-looker in a vice-like grasp that holds him silent and almost awestruck. So great is this intensity that the audience sits in almost death-like silence, the subdued incidental music being the only audible sound. In the next place the play is a succession of climaxes so unexpected and sudden that frequently what appears a comedy scene that impels the audience to a startled laugh, whips around into a flash that borders on the tragic. Another feature is the absence of the suggestion of love throughout the entire screening. It is a dramatic—not melodramatic—but unvarnished tale of the subdued west played by a westerner—a westerner who can and does "roll a pill" with one hand. The point of the story, and there is a point sharp as a needle, is not developed until almost the end. It is this characteristic illustration of the play's superbly conceived subplots.

HUGHES VIEWS WITH ALARM COURSE OF PARTY OPPONENTS

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Charles E. Hughes last night, outlined in his speech of acceptance, the issues upon which he will conduct his campaign for the presidency. Mr. Hughes assailed the administration for the course it has pursued with reference to Mexico, maintenance of American rights during the European war, preparedness and other great questions of the day. He declared for a new policy of "firmness and consistency" toward Mexico, for the unflinching maintenance of all American rights on land and sea, and for adequate national defense; adequate protection on both our western and eastern coasts.

"We denounce all plots and conspiracies in the interest of any foreign nation," Mr. Hughes said. "Utterly intolerable is the use of our soil for alien intrigues. Every American must unreservedly condemn them and support every effort for their suppression." The nominee assailed the administration for its "direction of diplomatic intercourse" from the beginning, declaring that where there should have been conspicuous strength and expertise there had been weakness and ineptness. He cited Santo Domingo as an instance where appointments had gone to "deserving democrats" and to the failure to continue Ambassador Herrick at his post in Paris after the war had started as a "lamentable sacrifice of international impulse."

Of the present prosperity, Mr. Hughes said: "We are living in a fool's paradise." It is, he said, a prosperity brought about by the abnormal conditions of war. For the protection of the industries and workmen of the United States against the competition of "an energized Europe" Mr. Hughes said it was plain that we must have protection, upholding policies. Other measures, too, should be applied, he said, notably the upbuilding of a merchant marine.

To make peace lasting and effective when the present war shall end, Mr. Hughes advocated the formation of an international tribunal to dispose of controversies of a justifiable sort backed by the cooperation of the nations to prevent war before peaceful methods of adjustment end. Mr. Hughes also declared for the "conservation of the just interests of labor," for conservation of natural resources and for a national budget. Our opponents promised economy but they have shown a reckless extravagance. It is time we had fiscal reform.

KAISER PRAISES SOLDIERS

(Continued from page one.) war, a desire for sunshine and peace is stirring in all human hearts, but the war continues because the battle cry of the enemy governments is still the destruction of Germany. Blame for further bloodshed falls only on our enemies. The firm confidence has never left me that Germany is invincible in spite of the superior numbers of our enemies and every day confirms this view. "Germany knows she is fighting for her existence. She knows her strength and she relies on God's help. Therefore, nothing can shake her determination or her assurance. We shall bring this struggle to such an end that our empire will be protected against future attack and that a free field will be assured for the peaceful development of German genius and labor. "We shall live free, secure and strong among the nations of the world. This right nobody shall or will snatch from us. I ask you to make this manifestly public."

AUTOS NEEDED FOR CRATER LAKE TRIP OF EDITORS

The advance guard of the editors of the state, who meet here in annual convention this week, is arriving. The list already making reservations on trains, insures an attendance, which will surpass, by 50 per cent, the attendance at any other convention in the association's history. The local committees are hard at work with preparations for entertainment. The Commercial Club, Greater Medford Club, Colony Club, College Women's Club, a committee of the merchants, the three hotels, the banks of the city, six auto dealers and many individual citizens are cooperating to make this one of the most successful gatherings ever held in Southern Oregon.

The committee in charge of the trip to Crater Lake next Sunday and Monday need about four or five more cars. They earnestly request any citizen who will help to this extent, to kindly notify either of the newspapers, or the Commercial Club. Five lodges have, through committees of their members, undertaken to furnish three cars each for this trip. Members of these lodges, who will co-operate are requested to see a member of their committee, as follows:

Elks, Carl Hellbroner; Odd Fellows, John Demmer or Leon Howard; Masons, Ralph Woodward or A. N. Hildebrand; Woodmen, Newton W. Borden or George Cherry. The K. P.'s have turned in their list.

TALENT TALK

Messes, Grant Davis and Fred Holebaugh unfolded their new Case threshing outfit last week. The power is a gasoline engine, while the separator is an all steel frame with up-to-date attachments including an alfalfa huller and cleaner. This is undoubtedly the best machine that has ever brought into the valley. Mr. Davis has been promised over 30,000 bushels already and will probably have more than they can handle this fall judging from requests now coming in. Mr. Coleman, who has had charge of the S. P. depot at Talent for the past month, expects to leave Wednesday of this week for North Bend where he will take charge of the depot at that place. During their stay at Talent Mr. and Mrs. Coleman have made many friends who will regret their departure. It is reported that F. S. G. Moness, who was agent here for several years, will succeed Mr. Coleman.

Thomas Bonham, father of Mrs. Louis Brown, has recently purchased the Vance Wolgamott place and after making repairs upon the house will make Talent their future home. The old folks have made Minneapolis, Minnesota, their home for many years. Several theater going parties from Talent attended "The Birth of a Nation" at the Page during the latter part of the week. Misses Minnie and Genn Gouley, sisters of Mrs. C. A. Brown, arrived Wednesday afternoon for a visit with the Browns. The Men's Club of the Methodist church, have beaten the Ladies Aid to it this time and have outlined plans for laying a cement walk about the church.

The Ladies' Aid will give an ice cream social at the Methodist church Tuesday, August 8. A short program will be given. Proceeds to pay for piano. The rural credits bill will be discussed at the Men's Club on Tuesday evening of this week. Mr. and Mrs. John M. Scott left Thursday for their home at Modesto, California. They have been visiting their son-in-law, Michael Soren and family, for the past three weeks. Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Anderson spent Sunday with the J. N. Kree family. Rtv. Anderson is permanently located at Biddle, Oregon. George Ross and family will occupy the J. N. Pace home in Sheidler addition before school begins.
