

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

The Portland Telegram of August 10 contains a cut of 20 steelheads, caught in Rogue river by Dr. E. De Witt Connell and Dr. R. B. Brandon of Portland. The fish range from 10 to 18 inches in length, five of them three pounders, three near 8 pounds, the balance smaller. The information is vouchsafed that a "No 4 fly, a Professor, Gray Hackle and Royal Coachman were used in making the catch." The anglers employed a Penwill and fished from his boat, using spoon and salmon eggs as well as bait, though the fish are in exhibition in Honegman's hardware store window, labelled caught with flies.

the formation of a new line of advance north of the Dnelster.

Heretofore General Count von Bothmer had enjoyed more or less protection for his right on the Tajo-pol position from the flooded Dnelster. The appearance of an offensive north of the Dneister which has already carried the Russians as far west as the crossing of the railroad at Nisnoff twenty miles north of Stanislaw injects an entire new element. The Austrians are vainly striving to stem this new advance by desperate counter-attacks, in which the troops engage in hand to hand encounters, but apparently with the result always favoring the Russians.

The counting of General Letchitzky's prisoners during the ten days operations shows that he has taken upward of 15,000 and it is estimated that 10,000 more men were put out of commission. This would bring the grand total of prisoners to General Brusiloff's credit since early in June to 492,000.

PRESIDENT MAY BE CALLED TO SETTLE TRAINMEN ISSUE

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—President Wilson will be called upon to take a hand in the settlement of the differences of the four railroad brotherhoods and their employers, unless an apparent deadlock in the negotiations which developed today can be broken, it was indicated here tonight by representatives of both factions.

After it had heard the contentions of the workers and later those of the railroad managers, the United States board of mediation and conciliation was undecided tonight as to when it would again meet with representatives of either side. Mart A. Knapp, one of the federal mediators, when asked whether there had been any change in the situation since the board began its work, replied: "There is a deadlock on the face of it. Whether we can change it lies in the bosom of the future."

Mr. Knapp said the board had not been in communication with President Wilson since it arrived here. When asked however, if "conditions already had come to the point where an appeal would be made to the president," Mr. Knapp said he could not discuss the matter. He added that the board would continue its efforts to adjust the differences.

"We are going to consider tonight what the next step will be," he asserted.

What concessions, if any, the railroad managers offered to make to the men could not be ascertained. The mediators met the managers secretly this afternoon, remained in conference with them more than three hours.
