

COUNCIL PASSES $300,000 RAILROAD BOND ORDINANCE

With the addition of an emergency clause, declaring that the immediate passage of the ordinance was necessary for the "immediate preservation of the peace, health and safety of the city" the ordinance authorizing the issuance of $300,000 bonds for the construction of the railroad to the Blue Lodge, was passed at its second, third and final readings by the council last night.

The only dissenting vote was that of Councilman Amy. Councilmen Keene and Davis, however, qualified their votes and asked that their qualifications appear on the minutes. They stated that they voted affirmatively for the measure against their own judgment, but feeling they should vote, that as the servants, not the dictators of the people, the election of May 10 gave them no other choice.

Councilman Keene asked that the final action be delayed until a full council be present as Councilman Hargraves was absent. Mann, however, averse to further delay, said: "Let's get it over with" and the ordinance was put on its final passage.

Instead of the crowded benches that at former discussions has met the council, only eight sat in the council chamber besides the active participants.

Commenting on the passage of the measure this morning, S. S. Bullis said:

"The ordinance, I believe, is satisfactory, although it will no doubt be subject to minor changes at the hands of bond buyers. The contract between myself and the city has been signed and is now in effect. Active construction now waits on the sale of the bonds and the beginning of saw-mill operation, so that business for the road will be assured."

"Advances, effective September 1, of $9 a ton in transcontinental freight rates on rails," continued Mr. Bullis, "and the raise in the price of rails since last spring will make the steel for the road to the Blue Lodge cost $25,000 more than it would have last spring. However, I have a few rails on hand, I can get a few more, and we will make it somehow."

During the bond campaign, the principal advocates declared that Mr. Bullis had already purchased the rails.

GILL NETTERS ASSAULT MACLEAY

MARSHFIELD, Ore., Aug. 11.—Governor James Withycombe and members of the state game commission returned here today from Port Orford where they made a brief preliminary investigation into the differences between salmon fishermen of the Rogue river.

The governor stated that Roderick L. Macleay of Portland, owner of large fishing and packing interests on the river, had become involved in a personal encounter recently at Wedderburn with independent gill net fishermen, who had beaten and choked him. He stated that there had been several encounters between Macleay employees and the independent fishermen. Two special state agents are now on their way to Wedderburn to attempt to prevent further trouble.

DIXIE SOCIETY HOLDS PICNIC AT ASHLAND PARK

Songs of Dixie, southern reminiscences, a short appropriate program of addresses and recitations and following that a picnic served in true southern style marked the session of the Rogue River Valley Dixie association in Lathia Park, Ashland, Wednesday evening.

Southerners from all over the valley were in attendance when President John Dill of the Dixie association called the meeting to order and requested M. C. Reed, chairman of the program committee to preside.

B. P. Campbell, "Dick Posey," opened with a reading from James Whitecomb Riley. President Dill followed with a cordial welcome address. The response was given by Dr. T. B. A stirring rendition of "Dixie" by the association concluded the program, after which adjournment was made to the vicinity of the band stand where the Ashland band gave a concert complimentary to the southerners.

I OWE MY HEALTH

To Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Washington Park, Ill.—"I am the mother of four children and have suffered with female trouble, backache, nervous spells and the blues. My children's loud talking and romping would make me so nervous I could just tear everything to pieces and I would ache all over and feel so sick that I would not want anyone to talk to me at times. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills restored me to health and I want to thank you for the good they have done me. I have had quite a bit of trouble and worry but it does not affect my youthful looks. My friends say 'Why do you look so young and well?' I owe it all to the Lydia E. Pinkham remedies."

—Mrs. ROSE STORIEL, Moore Avenue, Washington Park, Illinois.
