The Tomblsons, who have blazed a number of the great cross country trails, have been working this summer in British Columbia, Washington and Oregon, having been on the road this year for three months. Their method is to mark and designate trails by different colors. Thus that on which they are now working from British Columbia to Los Angeles is designated the black trail. Their method is to paint squares of white on telephone poles along the route with a symbol in black through the center, marking directions. Expenses are paid by the sale of guide books and maps and by posting the official insignia of the trail before one hotel and one garage in each town. The larger towns also subscribe amounts in the belief that the trail blazing leads tourists their way. Mrs. G. W. Rivers and son of Pendleton are sightseeing in the valley for a few days. G. T. J. Helne. WILSON PLANS AVERT STRIKE (Continued from Page One.) Pending their arrival, he does not plan to see the committee of managers here, with whom he has been meeting. Situation Today. The president's action in asking for the conference with the railroad presidents themselves is interpreted as meaning that the managers' committee had refused finally to concede the eight-hour day as the president's plan proposed, and the question now is to be taken up with the heads of the railroads themselves. The situation as it stood today was this: The railroads flatly refused to concede the eight-hour day, but are willing to arbitrate that question and all others before any tribunal the president or the men may decide upon. The men are willing to arbitrate some questions under certain conditions and are unwilling to arbitrate others. This afternoon at 3 o'clock the president will present his plan to the full committee of 640 employees in the hope of getting them to approve it. The result will be presented to the railroad presidents later. Situation Most Delicate. The feeling prevailed that the attitude of the railroad heads was now the same as the managers' committee. The railroad presidents are expected to make a strong plea for preservation of the principle of arbitration and will express their fear that if the present difficulty cannot be settled without it there is little hope of its being successful in the future. Another indication of the delicacy of the situation was seen in the decision of the white house not to make public the president's remarks to the men at this time at least. Investigation will prove, the men insist, that the larger roads for which the managers are acting, control the majority of the small lines. President Wilson's invitation was sent to the following railroad presidents: Daniel Willard, Baltimore & Ohio; Samuel Rea, Pennsylvania; Fairfax Harrison, Southern railway; Samuel M. Felton, Chicago & Great Western; George W. Stevens, Chesapeake & Ohio; William Sproule, Southern Pacific; E. E. Calvin, Union Pacific; L. F. Loree, Delaware & Hudson; W. J. Harlan, Seaboard Airline; Howard Elliott, New Haven; R. F. Bush, Missouri Pacific; A. H. Smith, New York Central; F. D. Underwood, Erie, and William H. Truesdale, Lackawanna. MANY IN MEDFORD TRY SIMPLE MIXTURE Many Medford people are surprised at the QUICK action of simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as marked in Adler-ick. This simple remedy acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, removing such surprising foul matter that one spoonful relieves almost any case of constipation, sour stomach or gas. A few doses often relieve or prevent appendicitis. A short treatment helps chronic stomach troubles. The instant, easy action of Adler-ick is astonishing. L. B. Haskins, druggist.
