against democratic diplomatic appointments, but fails to give us the specifications or the proof to sustain the indictment.

"He says that he is in favor of 'undiluted Americanism.' So are we all, God be praised! He is not peculiar in that respect. The vast mass of the American people—men and women—are too busy working at what the Germans denominate 'the bread and butter sciences' to make elaborate speeches vaunting their 'undiluted Americanism' but the average American citizen—and after all the average American citizen constitutes the strength and glory of the republic—is as patriotic as Charles Evans Hughes, Woodrow Wilson or any other big wig in the land. There is not one American citizen, native born or naturalized, in 100 who would fall the country should the supreme test come.

Mistakes Probable.

"Perhaps President Wilson has made some mistakes. Perhaps the democratic congress has made some. It is safe to say there never was a president or congress that did not make mistakes and there never will be—simply because we are all human. Judge Hughes is hunting for spots on the democratic curtain and the democratic congress—but the people realize that we have the most unbounded prosperity that has blessed the land since Christopher Columbus discovered America and that, notwithstanding the ancient and chronic sneer of republicans that we possess no power of constructive statesmanship, we have, in three and a half years, placed upon the statute books more remedial legislation than the republicans did in 29 years—laws which should have been passed four decades ago. They are likely to conclude to 'let well enough alone' and to continue the democrats in power."

Speaker Clark here enumerated some of the things we have done with the remark that "actions speak louder than words." His list included the tariff bill with its new income tax features, national reserve banks act, anti-trust law, Alaskan trades commission, rural credits and good roads bill and the constitutional amendment authorizing the election of United States senators by popular vote.

What has been done for the defense of the country and for the laboring men also were referred to, and in closing, the speaker said:

"The people seem to have absolute confidence in the pilot of the ship of state, Woodrow Wilson, and are not likely to drop him overboard in midocean, while the storm whips the waters into fury."

MEDFORD BAND TO GIVE CONCERT ASHLAND SUNDAY

Sunday, August 20, the drawing power of the Medford band will be given a fair test. Every one who attends the weekly band concerts at the city park can vouch for the attracting powers of the Medford band at home. What amount of attraction our band is away from home will be watched with interest on the occasion of the band's visit to Ashland on Sunday. Ashland visitors attending our weekly band concerts at Medford have been astounded at the tremendous crowds that frequent our park on band nights, and it was suggested that crowds of such proportions would have more room in Litchia park, hence the appearance of our pet band at Ashland on Sunday. It is anticipated that Litchia park will be visited by one of the largest crowds of the season. The Medford band will undoubtedly give a good account of itself in the following program which will commence at 3 p. m.:

- "The Star-Spangled Banner"
March, no title
Overture, "Tapered"
Concert waltz, "Blue Danube"
Strauss
Potpourri, "Popular Operas"
Overture, "La Barlesque"
Suppe Selection, "Clames of Normandy"
Planchette Selection, "Bohemian Girl"
Halle March, "Manhattan Beach"
Souza "America"
