ASHLAND AND VICINITY
"Good corn weather," greeted former Iowans who met in phone assembled on Thursday. The attendance was large, notably from Medford. An informal program afforded several addresses, the social reunion feature being predominant. Before adjournment the Hawkeve, reobligated themselves to meet here again in the summer of 1917, the specific date to be announced later on. Frank J. Shinn, secretary of the Ashland Commercial club, was elected president, with a full corps of assistants.

Arrangements are being perfected for entertaining the San Francisco business men, who will be here on Saturday afternoon of this week on their way home from Marshfield. Their train will be a special, consequently the stop in Ashland will not be limited. Over a score of local autos will meet the excursionists at Medford and a ride over the Pacific highway between the twin cities will be a added attraction.

IL W. Beebe and wife of San Francisco and F. J. Fletcher and wife of Albany are visiting relatives in the family of W. B. Beebe of this city.

G. W. Kimball of Roseburg returned home on Thursday after passing a good share of his summer vacation amid Ashland surroundings. His stay here was all the more pleasant, due to the fact that he met so many old-time acquaintances.

Mrs. William Schumann of Sacramento left for home on Thursday, accompanied by her daughter, Elzabeth. They have been visiting relatives here for several weeks.

The Chico carnival, which will be held at Brookings, in Curry county, September 2, 3 and 4, has requisitioned the Ashland land as a leading attraction. The organization will leave here in full strength on the morning of September 1 in autos by the way of Grants Pass and Crescent City.

The Hornbrook Leader will be moved to Weed and its publication continued by D. L. Savre as editor.

Tuscan Springs, one of the most notable sanitarium-hotel resorts in northern California, located near Red Bluff, was totally destroyed by fire last Tuesday. The buildings contained 125 rooms.

Robert W. Dunlap, residing in the Nob Hill district, has been regaling his friends with gifts of Early Crawford peaches. Some extra fine specimens were also presented by him to Charles Evans Hughes on the occasion of the visitor's trip through here recently.

A sale which has been pending several weeks was closed up a few days since. It involves the transfer of the East Side Grocery, Iowa street and the Boulevard, from V. A. Stewart to W. B. Holmes and Howard Ewer, who are now in possession. Holmes was a member of the original firm of Holmes Bros., and Ewer has clerked in the various stores.

The Eastern Star annual picnic will be held in Libbia park on Wednesday, August 30. Although given under auspices of Alpha Chapter, No. 1, of this city, the invitation is general to the order not only throughout the valley, but the chapters at Klamath Falls, Grants Pass and Yreka have been invited in addition to those located at Medford, Central Point and Jacksonville. Mrs. Elsie Chireman is worthy matron of the local chapter and Mrs. Leah Caldwell secretary. Two lone men are represented on the official board, which organization reinforced by a number of past worthy matrons is subdivided into numerous committees to look after the welfare of visitors.

O. R. Maas, former brakeman on the swing train between Red Bluff and Gerber, has been promoted to the position of freight conductor on the Shasta division from Dunsuir to Ashland.

Ensign Gundersen of Portland, special envoy of the Salvation Army to Southern Oregon territory, was in Ashland on Thursday.

In memory of her husband, Rev. Win. Clyde, and as a token of appreciation of the kind offices exerted in behalf of her family by the good people of Phoenix, Mrs. Clyde has equipped the Presbyterian church of that town with new pews. These number twenty, and each will accommodate seven persons.

Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Wagner informally observed their eleventh wedding anniversary on Wednesday evening, August 23, at their home, 47 Granite street. They were married August 23, 1905, by Rev. W. T. Van Scoy. Mrs. Wagner was formerly Miss Stella Case, and was an instructor in the Southern Oregon Normal. Guests present at this anniversary event were a number of intimate friends, including Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Butler, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Whited, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Simpson and J. W. McCoy.

Articles of incorporation of the Oregon Retail Grocers' association have been filed with state authorities. Of course headquarters will be in Portland, with subsidiary units throughout the state.

The marriage of Lieutenant James Dennis Moore of the United States navy, and Miss Rachel Drake of Waltham, Mass., has been announced, the ceremony to take place August 29 at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Bertha J. Drake, 212 Bacon street, in Waltham. Lieutenant Moore is the son of Mrs. S. B. Evans of this city, and is a rising young officer in naval circles, having already filled several important assignments on both the Pacific and Atlantic coasts. At present he is under waiting orders to report for duty at Charleston, S. C. His father, now deceased, was Captain Dennis Moore of the regular army, who was formerly stationed in Ashland as observer in the weather service. Judge C. B. Watson was instrumental in securing the appointment of young Moore to the naval academy at Annapolis, and has received a formal invitation to attend the wedding.

Mrs. Eleanor Bailie, wife of Rev. J. K. Bailie of the Presbyterian church, Phoenix, is passing a portion of the summer vacation season with Mrs. William Clay at the Herndon residence on Hazardine street.

Elm Brookwood and Nate Natstead, spurred on by the rich specimens of gold ore exhibited by Dave Good in the windows of the Citizens' bank, which were secured by Good and his associates from their properties in the Hungry Creek section, have gone to northern St. Louis county, prospecting on a hot trail after more of the precious metal, indications being most favorable.

Mrs. Henry Carter and Mrs. Earl Rasor are camping in the Dead Indian country, where they will remain until September 1. Mr. Carter performed the jinx act in taking the party over by motor car and reports the roads in fine condition over in that territory.

G. W. Looney of Chiloquin, Klamath county, who rambles in that section during the summer and winters in Ashland, has been in town this week. He reports the wheat crop a bumper one in that locality.

Captain O. C. Applegate of Klamath Falls, while visiting with relatives here recently, made a trip to the old Buzzard mine on Elk creek, in which he is interested. He secured specimens assaying nearly $400 per ton in gold and galena. The stock is at present owned by ten shareholders, whose interests are equal. Captain Applegate being one of the ten. Parties who have a $50,000 option on the property are planning to tunnel on an extensive scale at a point below the present workings.

Madame Schumann-Heink, the renowned operatic star, passed through here on Thursday of this week, on the way to San Francisco. Among her party was Miss Edith Evans, accompanist.

Samuel Bertelson visited his mining property in the Meadows on Sunday.

Fred Moore, Bill Pomeroy and Ralph Russell visited the city of Medford Friday afternoon, stopping and seeing the sights.

Charles Young of Medford, who was hunting in the Willow Flat com-try, up beyond us, made a hurried trip to town on Sunday, being called by business almost as soon as he reached camp.

R. J. Rowen, Bill Cottrell and wife spent Friday and Saturday in Medford.

Foreman Al Lewis is again at the Mountain King mine after a week in town on local matters in connection with the operations the past few months.

Mrs. James Dinkens drove to town with Jim last of the week and has not as yet returned.

Wallace Dinkens is working on Fred Moore's threshing outfit.

Fris Mayfield has been working on the Dave Cottrell ranch.

Moore's threshing crew finished on the Drake grain Monday, then moved to Dave Cottrell's, going from there to Ralph Russell's, where they are working at present.

Terrill's threshing has finished on their work in the Beagle neighborhood and has returned to the Meadows.

The hills are full of deer hunters, but luck is not so abundant as on the opening day. The Saugat country is getting pretty well hunted out, from reports.

Messrs. Spencer and True are hard at work on the development of the gumbar prospect—they purchased last week from Ned Potter and Bill Hayes for Portland people. The mine is showing no fine.

Al Lewis and R. J. Bowen were on the life Evans to look over the Battle Creek copper claims on Monday.

Ned Potter drove some of his fat cattle to market in Medford on Monday and Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Moore are enjoying a visit from their nephew, Charles Hoekersmith came out from Medford on Friday for a few days on his new ranch. He expects his son Charles, Tuesday.

The road through Ramsey canyon from the Mountain King trail to the forks of Evans creek is blocked by a couple of large trees which recently fell across the road in a place where it is impossible to drive around. This is proving a hardship on the hunters, who are en route to the Willow Flat country, and down the road past the Chisholm mines.

E. Calhoun of Phoenix is spending a few days with his daughter, Mrs. William Cottrell.

H. D. McCaskey, geologist in charge of quicksilver resources of the United States geological survey, is expected in the Meadows soon to look over the quadrilateral resources of that section. He will be the guest of R. J. Lowen.

Bill Pomeroy and Ralph Russell are helping on Moore's threshing crew.

Dave Cottrell, with Carpenter Coffeen as head builder, is making rapid progress with his new barn.

Ed Russell is at home again after ten days' work in the valley.
