

FREIGHT HEARING DELAYED, PAPERS NOT DELIVERED

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.—Failure of the postoffice department to deliver a letter directed to the attorney general of the United States held up here today in the federal court the scheduled hearing of a suit for injunction brought by the chamber of commerce of San Francisco and the Union Iron works against the interstate commerce commission to prevent the putting into effect of announced transcontinental freight rates allowed by the commission.

When the matter was called up in court, attorneys for the government said the attorney general had received no legal notice of the suit. Proceedings were stopped until later in the day, while telegrams were sent to Washington.

The order issued by the commission last June, to go into effect September 1, would result in heavy increases in freight rates to and from Pacific coast points.

CHICAGO WHEAT MARKET FALLS

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—Rumania's declaration of war smashed the wheat market today. Opening prices showed a fall in some cases amounting to 5/8c a bushel. September delivery, which closed Saturday at $1.51 3/4, started today at $1.46 to $1.48 1/2. Other options also broke wildly.

General rushes to sell took place, which were increased by the increased chances of a general railway strike in the United States.

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 28.—Wheat prices tumbled here today, following Rumania's declaration of war. The September option fell to $1.54 1/2, a loss of 4/8c from Saturday's close. December sold down to $1.52 1/2, a loss of 5/8c.

ASHLAND AND VICINITY

Classification dates of the old soldiers' reunion here September 11-15, include Tuesday, September 12, Ashland day; Wednesday, Medford; Thursday, Central Point; Friday, Grants Pass. The fact should be borne in mind that this is a reunion of old soldiers and sailors throughout the valley and not for any particular locality. Citizens in general are also invited to attend the gatherings. Monday, September 11, will be preparation day, with some special entertainment features in the evening. First company, C. A. C., will also participate in a number of military stunts, showing by contrast the difference in present day evolutions as compared with those of the stirring days of 1861.

W. H. Jenkins, S. P. traveling agent, was on hand here preliminary to the visit of San Francisco business men on Saturday.

Spratt Wells of Rly. Klamath county, prominent stockman of that region, was here the last of the week visiting his father, John Wells, and other relatives. As a matter of business he invested in a new Ford car through the local agency.

R. W. Danlap, orchardist and miner, residing on Nob Hill, came to Oregon in 1860 and cast his first presidential vote for Abraham Lincoln in that year, a republican habit which has clung to him ever since. He remembers that the presidential electors on his ticket in 1860 were Messrs. Watkins, Pengra and Dryer, on the basis of an elector for each United States senator and one member of congress. This was one year after Oregon had been admitted as a state. Mr. Danlap is a native of Pennsylvania.

Mrs. H. G. Eastman was called to Modesto, Cal., on Saturday by the illness of her mother.

Merrill Thorne, student in pharmacy and clerk at McNair Bros. drug store, has gone to Coos Bay for a two weeks' vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Stennett and their two children left last Friday for an outing by the sea at Crescent City. A native of Iowa and a resident of Ashland for several years, Mr. Stennett had never previous to this trip discovered the Pacific ocean.

Official figures on temperature last Friday at 3:30 p. m. registered an even 100, the hottest day thus far this season. Overcasts were in no demand, though there were a great number of sweaters visible. The thermometer at the Southern Pacific station registered 105 on the same date, but according to official observers that record was not justified in the bulbs of government thermometers.

A King motor car, bearing the California bear legend and running on high numbers up to 202,916 was sidetracked here last Saturday for fuel and water.

The San Francisco business men remained about three hours in town on Saturday afternoon, having been brought from Medford in autos. There was no formal routine of entertainment here, the visitors being shown about the parks and scenic drives. Many also paid their respects to local merchants in a social way. Surprised at the extent of park development and beautification here, they were evidently pleased upon learning that the work was done under auspices of Landscape Architect Melaren of Golden at park in their home city. Their special train left for the south at 6:30 p. m., the visitors being remembered with gifts of fruit, flowers and mineral waters. The Commercial and Civic Improvement clubs, Fruit association and citizens in general joined in welcoming the guests.

Rev. M. E. Reed and family have returned from Crater Lake. They joined friends at Talent for the trip and were gone ten days. Three teams were required to convey the party.

Last Thursday, through the courtesy of Bert Greer, an auto party visited Lake of the Woods on a pleasure trip, more especially to note the scope of improvements on highway work recently completed in that direction. Rev. H. A. Carnahan and daughter, Priscilla, were among the party. The trip was made in record time and under favorable conditions as to auto travel through the Dead Indian country and regions beyond.

D. Peruzzi of the Ashland creamery has returned from a visit to San Francisco.

T. W. Aeklin, orchardist, and president of the Ashland Trading Co., has torn down a large barn on his Nursery street property and is erecting a commodious fruit packing house on the same premises, he having an extensive apple orchard in that neighborhood.

Agent Smith, the Southern Pacific's representative at Silverton, was in Ashland last Friday, returning home from California.

W. N. Cole of Weightman street continues as salesman and deliveryman of the East Side grocery under the new management of Holmes & Ewer.

Dr. F. A. Hall, dental practitioner, has returned from a fortnight's visit to San Francisco, a cosmopolitan city which he had not heretofore seen.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Turner have returned from a month's tour in their auto to various sections of central and eastern Oregon, going as far as Pendleton.

Joe Ziegler, Southern Pacific employee, left the last of the week for Crater Lake in the family car, accompanied by his wife. They will remain there several days.

Woodmen of the World and Woodmen of Woodcraft throughout the valley met in annual reunion in the parks on Saturday, about 100 being present. In addition to local attendance members from as far north as Grants Pass were present at the picnic event which will be a stated annual reunion hereafter.

Miss Jessie Storie of San Jose, Cal., niece of A. H. Davenport of Twin Oaks ranch, Myer creek district, arrived last week for an extended visit with the Davenport family. She has been touring the Pacific northwest both over ocean and railway routes.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Rose of Riverside, Cal., who are visiting relatives in Ashland, are touring the Crater Lake region, accompanied by Archie Eubanks of this city. They travel by team and will visit Miss Jessie Rose at her ranch in Klamath county.

G. W. Pellett, who has an extensive orchard on Seaside heights, has Winter Banana apples in cold storage which D. M. Lowe will exhibit in connection with other fruits at big displays in Chicago, New York and New Orleans later in the season. These apples are from young thrifty trees which have been raised by Mr. Pellett under ideal conditions.

The concert by the Ashland Choral society will be given at the Vining, Wednesday evening, August 30. The program will include sixteen numbers, divided into two parts, with an orchestra selection during the intermission.

There will be a picnic celebration in the parks every day this week, with the exception of Saturday, and that date may be included. On Monday, Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota in a tri-state affair; Tuesday, Nebraska, Wednesday, Eastern Star; Thursday, Maecabees; Friday, Elks.

Mrs. Will Finch of Aberdeen, S. D., accompanied by her daughter Marion, who is a teacher in the schools of Salem, Or., have been visiting relatives in the family of W. W. Caldwell on Rock street. Mrs. Finch and Mrs. Caldwell are cousins.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscius Baek of Southbridge, Mass., are visiting their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Brown, residing on Granite street. They came via Vancouver, Wash., where they have been visiting a son.

On Sunday, Rev. A. R. Blackstone of the Baptist church preached his farewell sermon. His future pastorate has not been decided upon, several localities being under consideration. His successor here has not yet been selected. Rev. E. H. Hicks, a former pastor and now of Seattle, will supply the pulpit in September.

On Friday, September 1, the Presbyterian Sunday school will picnic among the groves of Neil creek.

EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

By A. C. Howlett

Thursday morning R. L. Wilson, son Robert and daughter Frances, came over from Central Point where Mr. W. has one of the finest pear orchards there is in the valley, to the Sunnyside for breakfast, on their way to Prospect to stay during the hot weather, and while they were eating their breakfast the subject of how little the highly educated people of the city know about the common affairs of farm life, and he related for the benefit of the readers of the Mail Tribune two incidents that occurred in his family. He and his wife were out riding a short time ago and passed a place where the people were threshing grain and Mrs. W. saw the thrashed straw coming out of the elevator and she asked what they were doing and in the question inquired if they were spraying and was told they were spraying wheat! And Thursday morning when they were getting ready to come over here Mrs. W. asked "how do you feed the wheat to the chickens?" and Robert spoke up and said, "Why, with a spoon." Still when it comes to understanding the affairs of city life they could teach us country jakes things we never dreamed of.

Glenn Nichols of Medford was doing business in our town Thursday.

It is related of Jud Edsall that he had a lot of cord wood to haul to the R. R. and one tree had been cut on the side of a very steep hill and the question came up how were they to manage to keep the wagon from turning over, but Jud was determined to haul the wood so he took his low wheeled wagon just below the tier of wood and put two large blocks of wood against the wheels on the lower side to keep it in place while he was loading it and after he had placed the wood all right he cut a small tree so that it fell directly across the wood, the heavy part of the tree being on the upper side of the load and then started down the side of the hill reaching the flat all O. K. Now how many of our city boys would have ever thought of such a plan to haul a wagon loaded with a high load and keep it from turning over.

Thursday morning Henry Meyer and wife, and son Auden, G. Nygren and Charley Ingle, all of Lake creek, motored through town on their way to Medford.

I noticed when I went to the depot Thursday morning that there was a carload of lumber that had been brought out Tuesday on the P. & E. from the Durrey mill.

Among the passengers on the P. & E. was Judge Crowell on his way up to his camp at the fish hatchery. He says that he has boarded up tent with a floor in it and a screen room in front so that he is not bothered with mosquitoes or flies and that he is simply enjoying life in his old days—pardon me, Judge.

Thursday afternoon I took passage on the Harnish Jitney for Medford to see the movie "Damaged Goods" at the Page as it had been so highly recommended by such men as Drs. Carstens, Hill and Rollins, all three ministers, and after it was all over I felt like adding my indorsement to what they had said. For if the subject of a higher standard of morals and purity of life among the young of both sexes was taught more publicly and lay aside the silly idea of so much false modesty the world would be better off.

While I was in Medford, I met Marshall Minter and his sister, Mrs. W. E. Hammel, who had just arrived from the east and a trip through the most of the state of California. I asked Mrs. Hammel how she liked California and she said that while there were some very pretty places in California and some fine farms there was no place that would compare with Jacksonville for climate, soil and health.

Mr. Hammel was in Eagle Point this (Saturday) morning but he was going like Jehu and we nearly waded. T. W. Godfrey of Sams valley was here supplying the community with a choice variety of beef Thursday.

J. W. Tarleigh and wife of Lunenburg, Nevada, and Benjamin Laton, of Leland, Oregon, spent Thursday night with us. They had come from Nevada by auto and were looking over the country, including Crater Lake. Mr. Tarleigh remarked when he saw Mrs. Howlett sprinkling her garden that if water was as scarce here as it was in Nevada that she would not be using it so lavishly, for said he, where I live I pay two and a half dollars a barrel for all the water we use and $25 a cord for wood, the water has to be hauled 60 miles and the wood costs $15 a cord at the cars and then it costs twelve dollars a cord to haul it. Excuse me from living in such a country. Life is too short.

W. Hart Hamilton and his company returned from Crater Lake on Thursday and Mr. H. stopped off here but the rest of the company went on up to Ashland where they expected to camp in the park until Saturday evening. They will go to Grants Pass for the night and Sunday go to their homes in Crescent City. They speak in high terms of the scenery along the route and around the lake.
