to protect the Saloniki garrison and marched it through the streets in the afternoon, has had the effect of clearing the atmosphere. It is reported from Greek sources at Saloniki that the entire force of about 3000 men under Colonel Christodolos, which left Seres several days ago to resist the Bulgarian invasion of Macedonia, has been captured by the Bulgarians. LONDON, Sept. 1.—Various rumors are in circulation here in regard to the situation in Greece. Renter dispatches from Saloniki say there has been fighting between the Greek garrison at Saloniki and Greek volunteers recently organized to assist the Greek regulars who are resisting the Bulgarians in Macedonia. French troops intervened to suppress the fighting and the garrison finally surrendered and marched out of Saloniki. According to this dispatch, the garrisons at Saloniki, Voden and Fort Little Karaburnu have surrendered to the committee. On its face, this dispatch indicates that a revolution is under way in Greece, but the message is worded vaguely, probably on account of the censorship. There have been various indications since the entrance of Ramania into the war of political turmoil in Greece, owing to the conflict between the neutralists, represented by King Constantine, and those who desire to intervene in the war with the entente allies, led by former Premier Venizelos. No Longer Neutral. An Athens dispatch received yesterday predicted that Greece would abandon neutrality within the immediate future. It has also been reported that King Constantine was finding his position very difficult on account of the growing strength of the pro-entente faction, and it was reported from Saloniki in a dispatch filed on Tuesday that the king had taken flight to Larissa, where he was under the protection of German soldiers. This report, however, was discredited in official circles in London. There is in existence in Greece a committee representing the liberal or Venizelos faction, and it is possible that the Greek garrisons surrendered to this or some similar body. The committee was appointed on Sunday, on the occasion of the demonstration of 50,000 Greeks before the residence of M. Venizelos in Athens, and was instructed to present to the king resolutions warning him not to interfere in the approaching elections and to prepare the army for a possible rupture of existing conditions. The part of Greek Macedonia in which the foris mentioned are located is in northern Greece, close behind the front on which the entente allies are fighting the Bulgarians and their allies. CONGRESS ACTS ON MEASURE (Continued from Page One.) operation of trains guilty of a misdemeanor to be punished by a fine not exceeding $5,000 and imprisonment not exceeding one year or both. WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—Bills to avert the railway strike were put on their way to passage today in both houses of congress. Under a special rule providing for a vote not later than 4:30 this afternoon the house took up the Adamson eight-hour day bill, approved by President Wilson and accepted by brotherhood leaders as a "satisfactory settlement." The senate inter-state commerce committee reported a similar bill, which, however, contains an important provision empowering the inter-state commerce commission to fix schedules of wages in inter-state railroads. It provides that the eight-hour day shall become effective on January 1, 1917, that the present pay for the 10-hour day shall apply to the shorter day, that overtime shall be paid pro rata, but adds that within not less than six and not more than 12 months after its passage, the inter-state commerce commission shall assume jurisdiction of the question of hours and wages and that they shall be subject to petition for change from either the employer, the employees or the public. The text of the provision follows: Power to Fix Wages and Hours. That the inter-state commerce commission shall have the power to fix the hours of labor and prescribe just and reasonable wages for all employees of the railroads. * * * The rate of wages and the hours of labor provided for in this act shall remain fixed for service and pay until changed by the decision of the inter-state commerce commission, which within a period of not less than six, nor more than 12 months from the passage of this act, shall determine what are just and reasonable wages, and what shall be the hours of labor for employees of railroads above mentioned. The inter-state commerce commission shall have the power from time to time to change the hours of labor and the rate of wages for all employees of the railroads * * * either in whole or in part, prescribed by it on its own initiative on the petition of the employees, the managers of the railroads or the public." The possibility of a hitch seemed to be in this added provision which is being studied by the brotherhood leaders. The committee eliminated the proposal that on the report of the eight-hour day commission, the inter-state commerce commission "shall consider an increase of freight rates to meet such additional expenditures by the railroads affected as may have been rendered necessary by the adoption of the eight-hour day." Eliminate Canadian Plan. Neither of the two pending bills contains the Canadian commission plan, which the labor leaders oppose, and neither contains the government operation provision. President Wilson is willing to let those features wait until after enough legislation to avert the strike has been enacted. Republicans decided today to frame a bill of their own and offer it as a substitute for the administration plan. A committee was appointed to draft it. No serious opposition to the administration plan was expected however. President Wilson told members of his cabinet at today's meeting that there was every prospect that the legislation would be passed by both houses of congress before tomorrow night. Warn Hunters Against Fire WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—Warning to hunters on national forests: Use greater care to prevent forest fires and avoid accidents to persons was issued by the federal forest bureau today, in which the destruction of property and human life due to carelessness is emphasized.
