ASHLAND AND VICINITY

Preparations for the old soldiers' reunion here next week are well under way. By next Monday seventy-five tents will have been pitched in Chautauqua park and more are available if needed. A Commercial club committee composed of Messrs. Newcombe, Wolf, Eubanks and Kohagen are engineering a financial trust which will help out the veterans in defraying the major expense.

F. E. Steel of Grants Pass, well known hereabouts as a leading stockman of Josephine county, and secretary of the Western Berkshire congress, was seriously slashed in the leg by a vicious bear at the state fair at Sacramento, last Tuesday. The animal was one of his own prize bunch, which Steel was exhibiting at the fair.

The city council has accepted the offer of W. B. Holmes to pay $1500 for the property at the intersection of Iowa street and the Boulevard. This is one of the properties which have reverted to the city owing to non-payment of paving obligations.

An upset load of hay, due to irregularities in the macadam on Nevada street, was the motive for a claim for damages filed by Earl Rasor, motorman, before the city council on Monday night. The salvage from hay, horses and hayrack will be considerable, the wagon being somewhat damaged. The matter was referred to the street committee with power to act to extent of securing films of the disaster in order that the movies might afford a basis for settlement.

The Business Men's association will meet at Commercial club rooms next Monday evening, September 11, following adjournment last spring. G. R. Slingerland has sold his residence property on High street to S. McGilvrey, a newcomer from Condon, in Gilliam county, who takes possession next week and will make extensive improvements. The sale was negotiated by Mrs. Susie Allen and was a spot cash transaction. The same agency also has transferred two vacant lots on B street to Mrs. Clara Delsman, who contemplates building on the premises.

Miss Angie McDonald, bookkeeper at the Ashland cremery, left on Tuesday for Sacramento, where she will visit the state fair in the way of a vacation outing. Mrs. G. S. Brown of that city accompanied her, having been here for some time past testing the virtues of lithia water. Mr. Brown is a Southern Pacific employe and contemplates securing a transfer to this terminal, to such an extent is his family pleased with the Ashland surroundings.

Joe Kinney of Petaluma, and Chas. Kinney of Oakland, Cal., have been in Ashland this week revisiting familiar scenes and calling upon their brother, Al Kinney. They are making the tour in an Overland car. From here they will go to Crater lake, local members of the family accompanying them, and the trip may be extended to Portland before returning to their southern homes.

Young People's societies of the various churches will unite in a union meeting at the Congregational church next Sunday evening. Dr. and Mrs. F. R. Bowersox have been visiting friends here this week, touring southern Oregon by auto. They were located in Ashland about ten years ago, and now reside at Monmouth. The contract for remodeling the old jail in city hall into Commercial club headquarters has been awarded to Frank Jordan, springs commissioner. Three bids were submitted and his was accepted as the lowest on a basis of $247.60, the highest being $280. W. Nowell Wright, Southern Pacific ticket agent, returned on Wednesday, accompanied by his family, from an eastern vacation trip. They were gone three weeks and went as far as Chicago, visiting also at intermediate points. Rev. E. H. Hicks, formerly Baptist pastor here, and now of Seattle, is revisiting Ashland and will occupy the Baptist pulpit next Sunday and perhaps longer, pending the choice of a new pastor in place of Rev. A. R. Blackstone, resigned. Homer Billings and family packed up their camping outfit on Wednesday and started in a one-horse jiney for a belated vacation outing in the vicinity of Long's Lodge, in the midst of Ashland canyon's vast wilderness, beyond the reach of city postoffice or R. F. D. postal service. At the Congregational church next Sunday evening the pastor's topic will be "Living Dogs and Dead Lions." Rev. W. J. Douglass, Methodist pastor here, was elected secretary of the Rogue River Valley Ministerial association at its recent session in Grants Pass. The next meeting will be held in Ashland on the second Monday in October. In the meantime the organization is planning a warfare against the adoption of the so-called brewers' bill. Enter B. H. Hinthorne and family to home surroundings from trip to the coast. Exit Chester Stevenson and family to Lake of the Woods to even up vacation outings indulged in

LIFE OF CIRCUS GIRLS HEALTHY AND MORAL

What about the circus girl? Isn't she an impossible person, of hard face and uncertain morals? These are some of the questions that will be asked next Monday, September 11, by the throngs of sightseers, who will crowd the streets and who will visit the show grounds of the Barnum & Bailey Greatest Show on Earth during the afternoon or evening.

In the host of nearly 1,400 persons who are attached to the Barnum & Bailey circus, nearly 400 of them are young women, either ring performers or ballet girls. Hence it can easily be understood that the women are one of the most important adjuncts of the circus. As a matter of fact the majority of circus girls are the most refreshing, the healthiest and the cleanest minded young women ever assembled together. Many of the so-called "girls" are married women with young daughters and sons, who are also with the circus. There is little difference between the girls of the circus and the ordinary, healthy girls, who live in comfortable refined homes, except that the life of the circus girl is in the open, where she has a better opportunity to develop both physically and mentally.

Life behind the red curtain which separates the dressing rooms from the rest of the circus is not unlike that of a big family in camp. Here the women do their reading, their sewing, the laundry, and their writing and the instruction of their young children. Nobody molests them, no profanity is allowed to reach their ears, and the atmosphere in which they live is as refined and respectable as the best regulated home. Circus folks are home-loving family people at heart and not at all like the misguided public is prone to consider them.

Many entire families, ranging from grandparents to year-old children, travel with the Barnum & Bailey circus, and enjoy all the comforts and privacy of home life. In some of the ring acts, three generations of a family are performing at the same time. Most of the really great circus performers of today are descendants of a long line of circus ancestors, and their success in their chosen field is largely due to the heritage of clean living and clean thinking that has been handed down from generation to generation. On account of the new Oriental spectacular display, "Persia, or the Pageants of a Thousand and One Nights," the circus employs more girls this season than ever before in its history.

Each individual lighter is emblazoned with the name of the hotel, the wrappers containing some nifty advertising features relative to the city as a resort center. Frank Tolson and Miss Grace Jones of Medford were married in this city on Wednesday at the home of Elder B. C. Taylor, pastor of the Adventist church. Both are deaf mutes and the services of Dr. D. M. Brower were requisitioned in order to have the ceremony conform to the sign language. Richard Shim, a young Chinese 16 years old, from Honolulu, is attending sophomore classes in the Ashland high school. His father is an Episcopalian clergyman in the Hawaiian islands. Chief Clerk Gheve of Vaupe's dry goods emporium has purchased the model bungalow property on Vista street recently occupied by J. H. Christensen. The Gravelle Ghek and Eben Martz families are visiting relatives in the Applegate section near Watkins. The trip by team is in the nature of a picnic outing. On their return Martz contemplates returning to the old home in Ohio. Mrs. Frederick Reimcke of Pittsburgh, Pa., is visiting the family of her brother, H. O. Parvaker, agent for the Metropolitan Life. During the absence of Miss Nellie Dickey, attorney, on a vacation trip to southern California, her offices in

What to Do for Eczema

Greasy salves and ointments should not be applied if good clear skin is wanted. From any drugstore for 25c or $1.00 for extra large size, get a bottle of Zemo. When applied as directed, it effectively removes eczema, quickly stops itching, and heals skin troubles, also sores, burns, wounds and chafing. It penetrates, cleanses and soothes. Zemo is dependable and inexpensive. Try it, as we believe nothing you have ever used is as effective and satisfying. Zemo, Cleveland.
