PRESIDENT ATTENDS SIMPLE FUNERAL SERVICES OF SISTER

COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 18.—President Wilson came here today to bury his only sister, Mrs. Anne E. Howe, of Philadelphia, who died Saturday at New London, Conn. He attended simple funeral services at the church and then walked with relatives to the adjoining cemetery, and stood with bowed head and tear stained face during the simple rites. The people of Columbia gathered along the streets and outside the church to see the president. During the ride south this morning the platform of every station was crowded, but there was no cheering. At several stops flowers were put aboard the train by school children. The special train bearing the body and members of the funeral party arrived here shortly before noon. Automobiles took the president and members of his family directly to the First Presbyterian church. At the president's request the city and state officials gave no official recognition to his visit. The last services took place inside an inclosure in the shaded graveyard where are buried Mrs. Howe's husband, the father and mother of the president and several other relatives. All flags in Columbia were at half mast during the funeral. The president planned to remain here until tonight and then leave for Long Branch, N. J., where he is due tomorrow afternoon. Hugh C. Mitchell is a business visitor in the city from Clackamas county. Buttermilk, 10c gal. De Voe's. W. J. Frost and S. R. Johnston of Rogue River transacted business in Medford Monday. Seeley. Wood Jetster of Steamboat is in Medford on business today. Mr. and Mrs. William Von der Heiden of Eagle Point are in Medford today. J. T. McNorth of Centralia, Wn., is in the city on business for a few days. James Blair is a business visitor in the city from Yreka. John Welch, former baseball captain of the University of Oregon team, is in the city for a few days on business. H. D. Odenn of Aberdeen, Wash., is in the city looking for a business opening. A. L. Gall of Jacksonville spent Monday in Medford on business. C. F. Burke and George G. Dubois returned Sunday night from a hunting trip in the Barneburg hill country. TELL RUMOR OF LOSS OF MERCHANTMAN BREMEN NORFOLK, Va., Sept. 18.—Waterfront men here claim that American warships off the Atlantic coast have reported picking up wireless messages passing between the British cruiser Lancaster and the French cruiser Condottiere of the destruction of the German merchant submarine Bremen in the English channel August 2. Navy yard officials tonight refused to discuss the subject. A similar report was brought in by merchant vessels several weeks ago. At the time persons interested in the submarine liners declared that the Bremen had not left Germany on the date she was reported destroyed. EL PASO, Tex., Sept. 18.—Villa attacked Chihuahua City Saturday with 600 men, penetrated part of the city, but was driven out with heavy losses by the constitutionalist army. The captured Villa followers were immediately put to death.

TABLE ROCK TABLETS

At a special meeting of the Arrow Heads it was decided to call the first regular meeting for the season on Saturday, September 23, when a program will be rendered. The Pierce hay press finished work here the first of the week and returned to Tolo. Berries on the Collins ranch have made a remarkable growth this year and this year's growth of shoots on the red raspberry vines are carrying a good crop of berries at the present time which is something very unusual. J. D. Samuels, who has charge of the west portion of the Rogue River Canal company's pear orchard at Agate says that practically all the trees have rooted below the hard pan and with proper drainage to prevent them from sour sapping during the winter he believes that in a few years this will equal any orchard in the valley as far as a producer is concerned but no attempt is being made to make a "show" orchard of it. P. H. Mauphin left last week for southern California points where he will spend several months combining business with pleasure. He has leased his Sams Valley farm for the next two years to Harry Trebam. As the time for the taking up of options on lands in this vicinity has expired the owners are beginning to look around for seed preparatory to putting in a crop this fall, having lost all the faith they had in this scheme. The promoters are not asking any extension of time, although they are taking pains to assure the owners that they still intend to take the land. O. T. Wilson and family of Sams Valley were visiting relatives here Sunday. Mr. Wilson reports that the contract work being done on the road in his vicinity is proving very satisfactory. He says that the teams employed haul almost double the amount of gravel as was hauled under the supervisor method. Miss Eva Osburn and Miss Bernice Balcome of Medford spent several days last week visiting with Miss Helen Lydiard. The Vincent threshing crew returned Monday from Rogue River where they finished their run, having been out forty-three days threshing in the neighborhood of thirty thousand bushels. F. L. Caton did not sell his hay as previously reported but is storing it in a warehouse at Central Point. We are sorry to report that W. R. Bryum has been on the sick list for the past week. Frank Cameron and wife of Newport arrived last week and will spend some time visiting relatives here. The young people are spending their honeymoon traveling by private conveyance. Dr. Dow reports that on Thursday evening, Sept. 14, the stork left a 12-pound baby girl at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Persons. Several from here attended the program at the old soldiers' reunion at Ashland and report a delightful time. C. A. Dickson of Portland is spending a few weeks visiting friends in the valley. Mr. Dickson, with his father, at one time owned what is now the Carlton and Nordwick ranches in this district, where he spent several years and made many warm friends. Mrs. Will Lydiard of Medford is spending a few days with relatives in this district. A field of wheat on the Pendleton ranch this year threshed more than 10 bushels to the acre. Miss Katherine Nealon is attending high school in Central Point. Very little interest was taken in the fair this year, many of our citizens failing to attend and the bulk of the products exhibited from this district coming from one or two ranches. This is quite different spirit from what was shown several years ago when each rancher tried to outdo his neighbor in displaying products. The fair is strictly a farmers institution and when they get to that point where they do not take enough interest to help support it by sending a few products or attending it, in our opinion it is time "to cut it out."

ASHLAND AND VICINITY

The prohibition special train was belated in arriving here Saturday evening, the meeting in the Chautauqua building not being held until 9 o'clock or after. The audience was a good sized one. Ex-Gov. Hanly and Dr. Lambreth both spoke. "Our Greatest Problem" was the topic handled in a masterly way. The special's representatives rested here until 1 p. m. on Sunday, when they left for the south. The local school enrollment up to Sept. 8 was 903, classified as follows: High school, 215; East school, 285; West school, 393. Sept. 10, 1915, the enrollment was 854, including 632 in the grades and 222 in the high school. The increase, Sept. 8, this year, was 49 over 1915 at relatively same dates. Since Sept. 8, however, quite an additional number have enrolled, an array of figures which are being increased from day to day. The manager of the Ashland mine, Mr. Bartlett, was freed in Justice Leo Treiren's court on Saturday afternoon from any liability whatever in connection with trouble with Greek section hands over unloading mining machinery at the freight one day last week. Major Vernon A. Caldwell of the 23d U. S. Infantry, recently in the service on the Mexican border, passed through Ashland the last of the week, having been assigned by the war department as commandant of the cadet regiment of the Oregon Agricultural College at Corvallis, his duties there to begin Sept. 18. "Queen Lillia" is the name of a magnificent dahlia exhibited in local store windows recently by S. Peniston, park commissioner, the new departure in floriculture originating with him. Edwin Laney of Pullman, Wash., was a visiting civil war veteran at the encampment reunion here last week, and is so pleased with Ashland's surroundings that he is prolonging his stay a week or two. He is a native of Ohio, served in the 13th and 43rd Missouri regiments, and came to the state of Washington in 1877. Salem police have arrested a man using the name of R. E. Turner who had in his possession a whole auto load of whiskey, in 20 268 quarts, which was bought at Herbrook and was being taken to Siskiyou, Wash. Presumably he passed through Ashland last Wednesday as an ordinary tourist, with his car ostensibly loaded with camp equipment, without any particular evidences of the contraband nature of the cargo on the "ship's manifest." The old soldiers' reunion closed Friday night with a fine program by the Grants Pass delegation. The total enrollment was 120 veterans and about 100 representatives from the Relief Corps. An appreciative vote of thanks was voted for courtesies extended to the encampment here and there was an overwhelming sentiment expressed in favor of revisiting Ashland at the annual reunion in 1917. Among youthful hunters from Ashland who have secured a fine buck during the present deer season is Paul Winter. Evans Creek was the scene of the shooting affray. Paul's dad and R. P. Cornelius, expert guide through the pathless wilds in that locality, didn't discover tracks of venison. Word received from Rev. W. A. Schwimley, former pastor of the Congregational church, now located at Lodi, Cal., is to the effect that his pastoral duties there are progressing in fine shape. His eldest son Max is now a student in the college of the Pacific at San Jose; Leslie is a junior in the high school, and Don is in the third grade. The past summer the family enjoyed a vacation in the Yosemite valley. He concludes a letter to friends by saying, "I tell you we still love Ashland and our hearts often go there." He mentions the circumstance that W. A. Freiburg recently called upon them, in connection with an auto tour throughout central California. Mrs. F. C. Sherwood of Montague is visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Lanikin. The "Good Cheer" adult Sunday school class, Presbyterian church, of which Rev. W. R. Johnson is teacher, to the number of a score recently met with Mrs. Grace Robertson on Almond street, in the way of a social reunion, the guest of honor being Mrs. Julia Goodnow, an aunt of Mrs. Robertson, who has gone to Seattle to visit a brother preliminary to a return to her home in Philadelphia. Mrs. Goodnow has made many friends during her visit in Ashland, and regrets at her leaving found expression in the wish that she might come again and revisit a host of friends. She will pass the winter in California. Mr. and Mrs. Emil Peil returned the last of the week, accompanied by Mrs. Ella Mills and Miss Lydia McCall. Their auto trip extended over five days and covered 500 miles, various sections of Siskiyou and Klamath counties being visited. They went as far northwest as Clatsop in Klamath county, and report the crop of grain extra fine in various localities. The Southern Oregon Pioneer association will hold its annual reunion at Jacksonville Thursday, Sept. 28. TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY STOLEN—Miami bicycle, blue with white stripes, box handle bars, steel rim, Federal rubber tread tires. Reward if returned to Mail Tribune office. 156 FOR SALE—Steam hay hauling outfit, a bargain; Winchester pump gun; parlor organ, and other things, for sale or exchange. Geo. F. Dyer, 1114 North Central. 152 FOR RENT—Furnished rooms with or without board; reasonable rent. 26 N. Riverside. 158* FOR SALE—Four Jersey cows, one with calf 3 days old; three to call next month. Phone 869-H.

The sons and daughters of early settlers are also cordially invited to attend. Jacksonville is the locality where an organization of this association first had its inception. The question of constructing a permanent cabin in the Ashland parks to house the historical relics of early days, a matter which was broached at the reunion here in 1915, will come up for disposal. Last year the project received favorable consideration and an Ashland resident stood ready to install either within the building or on its grounds a heroic statue of Abraham Lincoln, the same to be secured from among the art exhibits displayed at the Panama Exposition in San Francisco. George Eubank, cashier of the State Bank, is taking a vacation, and in the meantime O. Winter is filling the position. The men's and women's bible classes of the Presbyterian church merged in a social gathering in the church parlors one evening last week, the ladies taking the initiative by way of invitation. "Good Cheer" was the watchword. The ladies did not monopolize all the talking, inasmuch as Messrs. Johnson and Lanikin, prompted by Pastor Carnahan, made extended remarks. Mr. and Mrs. Sam McNair and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Rose were camping in the Lake of the Woods district last week. Mrs. Madeline Maggy, sister of S. A. Collins, died on Friday at the Carlton residence on Union street. The deceased was a widow 73 years of age, and a native of Ohio. Funeral services were held at the family home on Sunday afternoon, conducted by Rev. H. A. Carnahan. Interment in Mountain View cemetery. William Morris of Rock Point, uncle of Mrs. Frank E. Russell, was among the old soldiers at the reunion. He belonged to an Arkansas regiment. Mrs. E. H. Billing, wife of a well-known conductor on the Ashland-Roseburg run, visited in Ashland for a month as a summer vacation. John Hunt of Portland is in the local market for lambs. He has purchased 2000 head of the Barrens and has gone to Hiatt Prairie to drive them, loading them out this week. Last week A. M. Beaver cut down a cottonwood on his home premises, 216 Iowa street. The tree was seventy-eight feet high, measuring seven feet in circumference at the stump, and represented a growth of eleven years, as per records handed down from the Hildreth family, former owners of the property. Ring growths throughout the wood also substantiated this statement. J. R. Casey and daughter, Helene, left on Sunday for a month's visit with relatives in various sections of southern California. M. C. Brossler of Springfield was visiting familiar scenes here last week. Mrs. Anna Pendleton of Santa Ana, Cal., will move this week into the former Storey house on Granite street, now owned by W. M. Barber.
