NEBRASKA FIGHTS FOR LOWER RATES

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 22.—Governor Marshall, Attorney General Regal and the state railroad commission today obtained in the state supreme court a temporary restraining order against the seven railroads in Nebraska, restraining them from putting into effect the higher tariffs proposed to the commission yesterday. The railroads have applied in the federal court at Omaha for a restraining order against the railroad commission, to prevent it from enforcing the present class freight rates of the state. A hearing on the application is set for tomorrow. The railroads have appealed the present class freight rates to the supreme court, and the case is to be heard at the next sitting of the court. The state is asking that the roads be restrained until a hearing is held on the appeal. The hearing on a permanent injunction is set for October 2.

AGED SHOEMAKER ROBS FOR THRILLS

Edward Meay, 67-year-old cobbler-burglar, church member and father of three grown children. He was arrested recently in Los Angeles and detectives found a cache in the rear of his cobbler's shop, containing several thousand dollars' worth of jewelry and a varied list of plunder from his various excursions in the night. "It was adventure, not gold, that I wanted," said Meay. "I'm not a regular burglar—that is a criminal. Since my wife died I have been haunted with a dread loneliness and a craving for excitement." He mended shoes by day to get money and robbed houses by night to get thrills.

CAR SHORTAGE IN OREGON CONTINUES

PORTLAND, Or., Sept. 22.—The arrival of 160 freight cars for distribution to shippers from Huntington, Or., has tended to relieve the shortage on the Oregon-Washington Railroad & Navigation company's lines, it was stated today. The shortage on the Southern Pacific, however, continues acute, according to reports reaching here. Thirty-six cars reached Astoria last night, but the demand is still in excess of the supply.

WOMEN'S STOMACH TROUBLES The Great Woman's Medicine Often Just What Is Needed. We are so used to thinking of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a remedy exclusively for female ills that we are apt to overlook the fact that it is one of the best remedies for disorders of the stomach. For stomach trouble of women it is especially adapted, as it works in complete harmony with the female organism, since it contains the extracts of the best tonic roots and herbs. It tones up the digestive system, and increases the appetite and strength. Here is what one woman writes showing what this medicine does: Newfield, N. Y.—"I am so pleased to say I can recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as an economical and beneficial remedy in most ailments pertaining to women. At least I found it so by only taking two bottles. I had indigestion in a bad form and I am now feeling in the best of health and owe it all to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound." Mrs. BURN WILLIAMS, R.D. No. 29, Newfield, N. Y. Many women suffer from that "all gone feeling," and "feel so faint," while doing their work. Ten chances to one their digestive system is all out of order. A tablespoonful of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after each meal should completely remedy this condition in a few days.
