HUGHES' CAMPAIGN FUND RECALLS TIME OF MARK HANNA

"Wall street is financing Hughes' campaign more lavishly than it has financed any other republican campaign since the time of Mark Hanna," declares the New York World.

When Wall street lines up against a candidate, it is sound sense for the people to line up against him. Hughes has the "interests" and Wilson must depend upon the people—therefore The Mail Tribune is assisting in a popular subscription for the Wilson campaign. Any amount from ten cents up will help the cause of fundamental democracy.

WOMEN'S CLUBS TO MEET, GRANTS PASS

At the executive board meeting of the First Southern Oregon District Federation of Women's Club, held at Rogue River Tuesday, it was decided to hold the annual convention at Grants Pass, April 12, 13 and 14, 1917.

Besides regular routine business, the work for the different departments was discussed and planned.

All indications point to the fact that the coming convention will excel any former ones, judging from interest shown.

Immediately following the morning session a most enjoyable luncheon was served by the Rogue River Civic Improvement club, assisted by the high school girls, to some forty members and visitors. A number of short speeches were made by some of the club members following the luncheon.

Members of clubs from Ashland, Medford and Grants Pass were in attendance.

WILSON TO SWEEP ENTIRE COUNTRY SAYS TOM JONES

Tom Jones, famous boxing impresario, manager of Jess Willard and numerous other pugilists, arrived with the Sells-Floto circus Thursday and reports record crowds for the circus all over the country. Several years ago Mr. Jones was here with Ad Weizast.

"The east never was so prosperous," states Mr. Jones "and Wilson has a walk-away."

"I am a life-long republican," stated Mr. Jones "but I am going to vote for Wilson, in appreciation of what he has done and is doing for the country. He is a great president—one of the greatest—and Hughes speeches make the latter contrast very poorly. It would have been better for Hughes if he hadn't made any speeches."

"Everywhere there is an overwhelming Wilson sentiment. We have found it throughout the country from the middle west to the coast. Of course, Wall street and the classes are against him, but that only makes Wilson the stronger with the people. He will get a vote that will surprise everyone. He is growing stronger daily and Hughes is growing weaker. It's in the air, and no amount of campaign expenditure can check the Wilson sentiment."

Asked about the chances for a future championship bout with Willard, Mr. Jones stated that Willard was ready to meet anyone in his class, but there was a scarcity of aspirants.

SUES SOUTHERN PACIFIC FOR AUTO COLLISION

George L. Barrett of Grants Pass, through his attorneys, Arthur Moulton and Blanchard & Blanchard, has commenced suit in the circuit court against the Southern Pacific Railroad company, seeking judgment in the sum of $13,500 for loss and damages because of injuries received when his automobile was struck by a train near Hugo on March 7. Barrett was severely injured in the collision, while his companion, C. L. Dillon, was killed. Barrett alleges that the train was running at a high and dangerous rate of speed when it struck his car, and that no warnings were given. He asks for $10,000 for damages, $2000 for loss in his business, he stating that his time in his drug business was worth $400 per month to him, and for $1500, the value of his auto, which was demolished in the collision. Suit is also pending against the railroad company by the heirs of C. L. Dillon, who was killed in the accident, seeking damages.

MOVIES INDICATE PUBLIC SENTIMENT UPON CANDIDATES

"I observed at the Page theater last night an incident that has impressed me unusually during the past four weeks of my travel throughout the northwest and in California," said A. H. Armstrong, traveling agent for a farm tractor company, who is in Rogue River valley for a few days.

"Candidate Hughes' picture," continued Mr. Armstrong, "was thrown on the screen last night, following a screen announcement of his campaign work. He and Mrs. Hughes walked about somewhat gaily and finally posed for a picture. During all of this exposure not a hand moved in applause. Not a cheer was given."

"A few minutes later the picture of President and Mrs. Wilson was shown. Instantly hand-clapping ensued all over the house. For a moment the beloved president passed out of view; but, when he returned, another burst of applause clearly and eloquently indicated the sentiment of the house."

"I find this to be the case everywhere I have gone for a month," concluded Mr. Armstrong. "In large cities and small places, it is all the same. Wilson gets the great volume of applause everywhere. I have never seen it in pronounced form of choice anywhere more than in Los Angeles, a sort of hotbed of standpointism."

"It goes far to convince me that the hearts of the people are with President Wilson because President Wilson's heart is with the people. I am a progressive. So is Wilson. He has earned my vote."

The woman who wants to be first to wear the new fashions as well as those who make it a rule to leave for cooler climes during the latter part of September or October will quite naturally be very much interested in this early display. Let us remind you, just for a moment, that it matters not how fashionable a garment is or how desirable, it carries the same moderate price ticket you will find attached to all garments in this store all during the season.

Special Attention Is Directed to the Showing of Suits at $25.00

The new fashions are exemplified in the models priced at $25.00 to a very marked extent. Here are suits fashioned of velour, men's-wear serge and mixtures. Colors are black, plum, green and brown. The coats are trimmed with fur, as a rule; others are trimmed in velvet and buttons. There's much satisfaction and added service in buying early.

Other suit prices range from $19.50 to $45.00.
