

MRS. HANLY WINS APPLAUSE FROM G.O.P. AUDIENCE

Speaking of Mrs. Ed Hanley's address Friday in Portland, the Oregonian says:
Mrs. E. B. Hanley, of Medford, stirred the conference and brought men and women to their feet in patriotic fervor when she said, in the course of an eloquent address:
"I didn't raise my boy to be a soldier—but I am raising my boy to respect his American citizenship, and to protect American rights, in peace and war."
Her address was the big event of a big day for the Hughes campaign in Oregon. She expressed so clearly, so forcefully and so completely just what the other women and all the delegates felt that they cheered and cheered and cheered when she finished.
"We women," said Mrs. Hanley in her address, which came just before the election of permanent officers at the morning session, "have been studying this political game quite a while, and we have gone right down into fundamentals."
"And I want you to understand that the women in this campaign understand the fundamental issues involved. We are not flocking like unthinking sheep after those who would try to stir us with sentimental appeals. We understand the situation a lot better than the men give us credit for doing."
"I don't see where they get the idea," she continued, "that the women of this country are so sentimental and emotional and did all this talk about 'He kept us out of war?' Why should not this big country have kept out of war? We all know there was no excuse for us to get into war."
"Old Stock Not Extinct"
"I tell you the wives and mothers of the old stock in this country are not extinct. They are going to breed a race of men who will be strong for peace, but who will be brought forward imbued with the spirit to protect the rights of their country and its citizens whenever they are at stake."
"I want you women to fire out from here and kindle anew the fires of patriotism that the democrats say they have put out. I want the flames to crackle and to burn. And I want Oregon, which was the first state to nominate Mr. Hughes for president, I want this state of yours and mine to start the movement to repudiate the idea that we are all milksoops and jellyfish!"
"The women of this country have been studying Mr. Hughes for a long time. They know him thoroughly, and their confidence in him is absolute. Mr. Hughes is probably closer to the women of the American republic, in his fundamental ideals and principles, than any other man in American life."
"I am very happy to come before you today," she said at beginning. "I feel that I have been very greatly honored at being asked to speak to you, but I feel very inadequate to the occasion. I am just a poor little country farmer come down to the city for the day."
"These are indeed democratic times," she went on. "After three years of democratic administration, I am wearing my last year's suit—and I had to sell two pigs to buy my railroad ticket."
"Medford Campaign Explained"
"I bring you a message from Jackson county," she said, explaining how she and other women of that county in five days organized a branch Hughes Alliance at Medford, considered the democratic stronghold of the state, with 975 charter members, of whom 377 were women. This alliance now has 1065 members and is still growing.
"When we started in to organize our branch Hughes Alliance," Mrs. Hanley explained, "we ran into a lot of democrats who laughed at us. But they are not laughing now. Some of them have even joined us."
"Others of you might profit by our plan of organization. We divided our town and our county into precincts and in each of these precincts we picked out the 'livest bunch' we could find. The result was that in five days four women had obtained 375 members for the alliance."
"Half the women of our Hughes Alliance who have pledged themselves to work for Mr. Hughes are democrats. Their husbands are perfectly ferocious! They are threatening all sorts of dire things, from cutting auto tires to depriving us of our powder, which is supposed to be the worst thing they could possibly do!"
Lorenza Elliott, aged 80 years, and Mrs. Wilhelmina Thom, aged 79 years, were quietly married yesterday afternoon by County Judge Marsters. They will make their home in this city.—Roseburg News.

PRESIDENT SAYS HOLD GERMANY TO HER PROMISES

LONG BRANCH, N. J., Oct. 9.—President Wilson announced today as a result of the German submarine attacks on vessels off the American coast that "the German government will be held to the fulfillment of its promises to the government of the United States."
He added that he "had no right now to question Germany's willingness to fulfill the promises."
Just before Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, called on the president at Shadow Lawn this afternoon Mr. Wilson issued the following statement:
"The government will, of course, first inform itself as to all the facts that there may be no doubt or mistake as far as they are concerned."
"The country may rest assured that the German government will be held to the complete fulfillment of its promises to the government of the United States. I have no right now to question its willingness to fulfill them."
Count Von Bernstorff, following his talk with President Wilson declared that, from information in his possession, all the attacks on vessels off the American coast by a German submarine had been conducted in accordance with cruiser warfare.
"Germany has promised to conduct her submarine warfare in accordance with the rules of cruiser warfare," the German ambassador said, "and Germany always keeps her promises."

SLIGHT HINT OF THE TURKISH

Here is one of Miss Alla Ripley's models from the Fashion Art League fashion show—and notice the Oriental drape at the bottom of the skirt—not a "Harem" skirt at all, just a gentle hint of Turkish influence.
It was noticeable in all the smart evening gowns at the show.
A girle of silver embroidered ribbon and narrow black ribbon form a girle—silver and blue are repeated in late rose garland on the skirt and on the girle.

O & C GRANT LANDS TO BE OPENED FOR ENTRY AS CLASSIFIED

Regardless of bluffing by the railroads the O. & C. grant lands will be opened up to settlement as fast as they can be classified and other essential preliminaries attended to by the government. This is the understanding upon which I am working," announced Louis I. Sharp, chief of the field division of the general land office, upon his return from Southern Oregon where the classification of the grant lands is in progress. In an interview in the Portland Journal.
Classification of the lands is complete in Klamath county and practically so in Josephine and Jackson counties, Mr. Sharp reported.
"Remarkably good progress is being made in the work leading up to the adjustment of the tax claims for the different counties by ex-Governor West."

Excellent Progress Made
"Excellent progress is being made in the field classification of the land grant lands," continued Mr. Sharp. "Forty timber cruisers and land examiners assisted by as many compass men are now actively engaged in the work. In addition to this force a complete survey party consisting of a regular deputy surveyor and field party, totaling five members are employed in the work, making re-surveys, locating lost or obliterated corners, preparing field notes and in otherwise assisting the cruisers and in locating the land."
"Assisting me in supervising and directing the field classification work is Special Agent Leonard Lovegren of my regular field division force. The balance of the field force consists of packers, assistants, cooks, auto drivers and others, making the total force engaged in field work 100 people."
Good for Farming
"As to the character of the country being classified, I want to say that it is not extremely valuable from the standpoint of real estate speculators, but from the standpoint of the honest, bona fide settler who understands farming and who is desirous of securing a home and developing a farm, numerous good opportunities will be presented."
"I saw as good corn as has ever been grown in the west growing and maturing on non-irrigated lands."
"I will hazard a guess that the new settlers in that locality will teach the old timers something concerning the growing of feed by the use of sites and other improved methods."
"The reports of the cruisers will not be colored one way or another, either for or against the agricultural value of the land or its timber value."
No Hit With Speculators
To the speculator and the man looking for a farm for other purposes than actual developing the land, the prospects will not be as promising as if the matter were presented by some glib tongued real estate dealer, but to the hardy men familiar with farming and willing to undertake the obligation of taking his family on this land and developing a farm and making home, he will find a large number of tracts which will present, according to his ideas, special inducements.

"These are the kind of people that will make a success as settlers and develop the country. The others will not and the whole matter has been framed so as to secure a larger percentage of the desirable class."
"I don't know just when the land will be opened to entry. Reports of the classification are being transmitted daily by my office in Portland to Washington, and it is the purpose of the secretary of the interior and of Clay Tallman, commissioner of the general land office, to open these lands to settlement at the earliest possible date."
Tax Claims Checked
"The checking of tax claims of a number of the counties has been completed by ex-Governor West who has been appointed a special attorney by the interior department for the specific purpose of handling the tax matters. The balance of the county lists will go forward in a very short time. Considering the amount of work in-involved in these tax claims and the necessity of such extreme care in connection with the checking, this work is a great deal further advanced than I anticipated it would be at this time."

STEAMER FIRED UPON WITHOUT WARNING

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—The British steamer Strathdene was fired upon without warning, according to the commander of the ship, Captain Wilson, who was brought into port today by the steamer P. L. M. No. 4 from Quebec, with 33 members of the crew.

WHEAT CRASHES ON SUBMARINES

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—The German submarine activity resulted today in a downward crash of wheat values. The break right at the start amounted to 4 1/2 cents a bushel in some cases, December falling to $1.55, as compared with $1.59 1/2 at Saturday's finish.
Prices of corn, oats and provisions also fell, but not to so radical a degree as in the case of wheat.
Greatly increased difficulty in making exports was the generally accepted reason for all of the declines.

As to the character of the country being classified, I want to say that it is not extremely valuable from the standpoint of real estate speculators, but from the standpoint of the honest, bona fide settler who understands farming and who is desirous of securing a home and developing a farm, numerous good opportunities will be presented.

TWO MORE CONVICTS ESCAPE AT SALEM

SALEM, Ore., Oct. 9.—By sawing out of their cells and scaling the wall, James Obyran and Frank Smith, said to be two of the most desperate and dangerous convicts in the penitentiary, escaped early today and guards are scouring the country for them.

LET'S STOP THAT LEAK
Our community's money belongs to us. It should be used for the improvement of our town and for the good of our country. Are we allowing it to leak away? And are we doing anything to discover the leaks? Can't we put home trade to work? There is a workman who can stop the leaks. The tool he uses is mutual patronage. We farmers and merchants should get together as masters and use this powerful agent to stop the leak that is fast draining the resources of this town and this country. It takes co-operation. That's all.
