A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, you will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, yellow look, dull eyes, spinning, coated tongue, head-aches, a hollow, ragged feeling, all out of sorts, unclean bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets regularly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women as well as men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep in the pink of condition, 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

Advertisement for Paul's Electric Store, featuring text: 'TWENTY years ago, when the harnessing of electricity was still much of a novelty, when automobiles were three parts joke and one part hope deferred, a man with a vision dreamed of carrying a pocketful of electric light into the dark, ready for instant use. Out of this dream grew the first flashlight—an EVEREADY—with a battery the size of a watch and an electric bulb no larger than the end of your finger. When, for a second or so, it flashed its tiny stream of light, people cried: "Wonderful! But what's it for?" Its novelty appealed. Its future world-wide usefulness was unrealized. Even after people began buying these new lights to carry around in the dark, EVEREADYS were still literally "flashers" or flashlights, and years of ceaseless effort were necessary to the development of a battery capable of giving hours of continuous light. Also in those early days there were no miniature electric light bulbs on the market—and the man with the vision had to create them. So, finally, came the perfected EVEREADY, with its long-lived Tungsten battery and brilliant Mazda bulb—an EVEREADY that has outgrown the old term flashlight. And now the AMERICAN EVEREADY WORKS has offered a big reward for a name to take the place of flashlight. This must be a new word, a coined word, something that the manufacturers of EVEREADY lights may protect, and that will indicate the service of these lights. This corporation will pay $3,000 for the best suggestion. This is your opportunity. So we, the undersigned EVEREADY dealers of your city, your fellow townsmen, urge you to enter this contest. We want this $3,000 to come to this city, we want you to have this money. This contest is free to all. It is open from October 7 to November 7. In case of tie the full amount of the prize will be awarded to each of the contestants tied for that prize. You must send in your suggestions on regular contest blank and these blanks are obtainable (beginning October 7) from EVEREADY DEALERS. We are here to help you—call on any of us—and call soon. Get free contest blanks from any of the following dealers PAUL'S ELECTRIC STORE'.
