EPISCOPAL BISHOPS TRIENNIAL CONVENTION

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 11.—Arrived in rich ecclesiastical robes, the bishops of the Protestant Episcopal church marched into Meador temple here today as a prelude to the opening session of the forty-fourth triennial convention of the church. Thousands of spectators witnessed the pageant.

Today's session was one of organization, preparatory to the business of the convention. A successor to the Right Rev. Boyd Vincent, bishop of southern Ohio, who has served the prescribed term of six years as chairman of the house of bishops, the upper house of the convention was to be chosen, while the Rev. James E. Freeman of Minneapolis, Minn., opposed the Rev. Dr. Alexander Mann of Boston, candidate for re-election as president of the house of deputies, the lower house.

NO ULTIMATUM BY GENERAL CARRANZA

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Oct. 11.—Eusebio Arredondo brings no ultimatum from General Carranza to the United States and his trip to Mexico City from which he is just returning, will have no important bearing on the deliberations of the American-Mexican commission at Atlantic City, the Mexican ambassador designate said here tonight. Mr. Arredondo's statement was elicited by questions relating to rumors that the de facto government of Mexico would demand that the United States withdraw the punitive expedition into Mexico or take the consequences. His trip to Mexico City, the ambassador said, was more in the way of a vacation than anything else.

NOTICE

Owing to inability to secure proper materials for manufacturing Columbia Grafonolas up to the excellent standard which the company has maintained, there will be a shortage of machines for several months. The stock of instruments which we now have is probably all we will be able to get before Christmas. Therefore we advise our customers who wish a delivery before that time to place the order now and let us store the machine.

Materials for nearly every part of the motor, especially the springs are procurable and the manufacturers will not put out instruments with inferior material, preferring rather to lose the business for the time being.
