

NAVY SURVEY TO SEEK BASE OF SUBMARINES

Admiral Mayo Announces Dispatch of Destroyers to Hunt for Alleged Base and Wireless Stations—Far-flung Patrol Put into Effect to Enforce Neutrality and Save Lives.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—A German submarine, identifying herself as such by wireless and stating that she was "from Newport," was sighted Tuesday more than 100 miles east of Nantucket lightship by a neutral ship now in port, it became known today. The submarine was moving in an easterly direction.

The submarine was sighted at a distance from the neutral vessel, which was signalled by wireless from the subsurface asking her name and nationality. It was given and the question asked in turn, "Who are you?" "German submarine from Newport, Good-bye," was the reply.

Probably U-Boat 53. The assumption was that she was the U-53, responsible for the shipping raid of Sunday, and this report is the latest on her whereabouts. The U-53 was last sighted prior to that time by the Greek liner Patris Monday morning.

Neutrality regulations of the nation whose flag the ship flies and specific orders with respect to their observance are given for withholding the name of the ship bringing the report here, but it is vouchsafed as correct by a high marine authority of this port, who is in close touch with arriving steamships.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Admiral Mayo, commanding the Atlantic fleet, notified the navy department today that he had ordered a survey of the New England coast to investigate reports that belligerent ships had established a base there, or that wireless plants were being operated in violation of American neutrality.

Destroyers Dispatched. In announcing Admiral Mayo's action, Secretary Daniels said today that several destroyers already had been dispatched from Newport north and that the work would be done under the admiral's direction and without instructions from Washington.

Naval officials here did not place much credence in the reports and characterized them as an outcome of the recent operations of the German submarine U-53 off Nantucket shoals. Numerous reports of the same character have been received by the department since the beginning of the war. Investigation was made in each instance, but was unproductive.

NEWPORT, R. I., Oct. 13.—A far-flung patrol by torpedo-boat destroyers, charged with the double duty of enforcing neutrality observance and saving lives in event of further submarine raids on shipping off these shores, was put into effect from Bar Harbor, Me., to New York today. Official authority for the statement that such a patrol had been ordered by the navy department was obtained here this morning.

Destroyers Kept Busy. The limits of the line of coast surveillance at present effective were shown today by the arrival of the destroyer Paulding off Bar Harbor, Me., and the activity of the destroyer Sterrett in New York harbor. Between these two outposts were nine other destroyers.

In Narragansett Bay seven other destroyers were kept at routine target practice with steam constantly up, available for an emergency call. The operations of the patrol are being directed from the flagship Birmingham, headquarters of Rear Admiral Albert Gleaves.

The Birmingham is at this port in readiness to move at any moment. Except in war some maneuvers, the coast has not been covered by naval forces in such manner for years.

WASHINGTON FOR WILSON SAYS ABRAMS

That Wilson will carry the state of Washington is the opinion of A. C. Abrams, who has returned from a fortnight's visit to Puget Sound cities. "Everywhere I went, Wilson sentiment was strong, and the best political judges in Seattle, some of them strong republicans, told me the state would probably go for Wilson. The women's vote is nearly sold for the president."

CLARK ASSAILS WILSON POLICIES AT G. O. P. RALLY

Five hundred persons scattered themselves through the large hall of the Natatorium last night at the call of the republican campaign committee and cheered enthusiastically the efforts of the band, vocal solos by George Andrews and two original poems by Dick Posey of Ashland. Only about half the audience remained until the end of the meeting.

Colonel Washburn of Table Rock presided over the meeting, and with an appeal to the women in the audience, introduced Mrs. William Kent, wife of Congressman Kent of California, who stated that she appeared as the official representative of the women's party. This party, she explained, is placing the question of nation-wide woman's suffrage as the paramount issue of the campaign.

Mrs. Kent Speaks. "My husband is for Wilson," she stated, and was met by a spontaneous burst of applause, "but I am for Hughes," and here the platform orators and ushers, led by Fred Meares, saved the meeting for Hughes by a hearty outburst.

Wilson, she declared, has had the opportunity during his term as president, to adopt the suffrage amendment to the constitution and has not done so. Hughes, on the other hand, she stated, has declared for the amendment, and for that reason alone should receive the support of the woman vote. "We are out after this amendment," she continued, "and we have picked the party which we consider will carry our cause farthest."

A. E. Clark of Portland, the principal speaker of the evening, in a long address flayed the foreign and domestic policies of the present administration, predicted certain industrial paralysis following a continuance of the present policy, and accused President Wilson of a direct repudiation of the rights of American citizens to protection from their country.

Predicts European Invasion. Following the end of the great conflict abroad, he said, the belligerent nations will be strengthened and made aggressive, and in case the United States does not clear up the muddle in Mexico we may expect one or more of the foreign powers to take the matter out of our hands, settle the troubles there and possibly bring about a conflict with this country.

The speaker grilled President Wilson in a comparison with Hughes. He showed the labor laws enacted under the administration of Hughes as governor of New York, and against this record showed the record of Wilson as president of Princeton, and quoted a number of speeches made by him to sophomores of that institution ten and fifteen years ago.

The eight-hour law was condemned by the speaker as a piece of futile, coerced and discriminatory legislation.

Statesman Vacillating. The statesmanship of President Wilson was characterized as vacillating and futile and utterly unable to cope with the present issues, which the speaker characterized as the greatest in half a century.

Against this characterization, the record and declarations of Hughes as presidential candidate was held up. All republican women were urged to meet the "Golden Special" at the station next Sunday morning and meet the heavy of "charming and cultured" women who are its crew.

SHALL NATION REJECT PEACE?

his party managers simply as job-seekers.

Nothing Constructive. "They offer nothing constructive; they are simply seeking to belch and obscure the real issue, which is whether we wish to overthrow an administration which, in time of war, has kept us at peace; whether we wish to jeopardize our peace by turning over our government, at a time of crisis, to an inexperienced, untried administration."

Harmon, an astute politician, with many sources from which to draw information as to the course of the campaign, declares Wilson is making headway both in Ohio and the nation at large. Also he declares the defection of the German-American vote has been largely exaggerated by republican organs.

"Cincinnati is a sort of German stronghold," he said, "but Wilson will get many votes among Cincinnati Germans. The more they see and hear of Hughes the better they like Wilson. For, despite the fact that still bind them in sympathy to the Fatherland, they are, first of all, Americans!"

Kerrett McKee will arrive in Medford shortly from Albuquerque, N. M., for a visit with his mother, Mrs. Minnie McKee.

JESSE RICHARDSON FARMED ON SITE OF PRESENT CITY

Jesse Richardson, who died Thursday, October 12, a pioneer of the county, was born in Cumberland county, Kentucky, on August 12, 1834, having reached the age of 82 years and 2 months. When quite young he went with his parents to Macon City, Mo., where he was raised and educated. It was during this early period of his life that he united with the Christian church. Mr. Richardson was also married in that locality to Miss Martha Plyshire, in Caldwell, Mo., to which union there were three sons born. In 1865 Mr. Richardson and family came across the plains to Butte county, California, but in 1866 moved into Jackson county, Oregon, where he has continuously resided since. On arriving here he first rented ground on the present site of Medford and followed agricultural pursuits there for two years, and then purchased 320 acres of land three miles east of Medford and later removed to another place in the same vicinity, where he resided until 1896, when he purchased a farm at the head of Sam's Valley, later retiring to Medford, where he resided at the time of his death, being at 145 South Grape street.

Politics did not appeal very strongly to Mr. Richardson, he being content to exercise his franchise as a simple American citizen and as a supporter of the democratic party. Although not an office-seeker, he has upon several occasions filled various minor offices in his locality, always proving worthy of the trust reposed in him by his fellow-citizens.

The wife of his young manhood died in 1868, and in 1876 Mr. Richardson was again married, his second wife being Miss Cordelia Bell of Jackson county, Oregon, to which union there were eight children born, four sons and four daughters.

Mr. Richardson's children, named in the order of their birth, are as follows, three having died: Henry H. Richardson of Los Angeles, Cal.; Samuel J. Richardson, who died in April, 1907; William G. Richardson, died in February, 1896; Elizabeth Richardson, now Mrs. W. L. Cassaday of Medford; Clara Richardson, now Mrs. G. A. Gardner of Jacksonville, Or.; Gertrude Richardson, later Mrs. A. J. Manning, died in May, 1907; Jesse Sanford Richardson of Medford; Josephine Richardson of Medford; Miles M. Richardson of North Bend, Or.; Walter W. Richardson of Los Angeles, Cal.; and Christopher C. Richardson of Medford.

Funeral services will be held at the Christian church Saturday, August 14, at 2 o'clock p. m. Rev. Tucker officiating, assisted by Rev. Carstens. Interment in the L. O. O. F. cemetery, fifteen years ago.

GERMANY DENIES SEPARATE PEACE

BERLIN, Oct. 13.—A Berlin telegram printed in the Cologne Gazette declares, according to the Overseas News agency, that the rumors spread in neutral countries of a separate peace being sought by Russia and Germany are a free invention.

DYSPEPSIA OF WOMEN

Special Treatment Required.

Many women suffer from a form of indigestion or dyspepsia which does not yield to ordinary treatment. While the symptoms are similar to those of ordinary indigestion, yet the medicines usually prescribed do not restore the patient's normal condition. There seems to be a kind of dyspepsia caused by derangement of the female organism. While this appears to be the same as ordinary indigestion it can be relieved only by a medicine which, besides acting as a stomach tonic, is good for female ailments. Read what such a medicine did for Mrs. Williams:

She says: "Before I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was troubled with dyspepsia and bearing down pains in my back and sides, and after my meals my stomach would bloat up till I could scarcely get my breath. At times I was so weak I could hardly stand on my feet and I looked hollow-eyed and my skin was yellow. Now I have a good color, have gained in every way and can do my work without any pains. I think it is the best medicine on earth for stomach troubles of women."—Mrs. NELLIE WILLIAMS, 21 West 3d Street, New Albany, Ind.

FEDERAL LOAN ASSOCIATIONS ARE FORMED

Pending the location of federal farm loan banks, little is being done, and little can profitably be done toward the establishment of local farm loan associations, according to John Carlin, chairman of the local committee for the formation of the local associations. Informal organizations may be made and a request made for a permanent organization, but this cannot be put through until the federal bank of the district is established.

Two tentative associations have been formed in this section, one at Ashland and one at Griffin Creek. It is thought, said Mr. Carlin, that as soon as the location of the bank is announced that a large number of associations will be formed that will be of immense benefit to this section.

It has been rumored, he stated, that two banks may be formed for the western country, one at Spokane, which will serve the northern fruit and wheat belt, and one at Sacramento, which will serve the grain and fruit sections of California and southern Oregon. The Rogue River valley would in all probability be attached to the latter district.

Mr. Carlin stated that if any group of men desire to talk over the formation of an association, that either he or C. C. Cate, who is also a member of the committee, will be glad to meet with them at any time, explain the provisions of the act and assist in the formation of an association.

"CASCARETS" BEST IF HEADACHY, BILIOUS, SICK, CONSTIPATED

Best for Liver and Bowels, Bad Breath, Bad Colds, Sour Stomach.

Get a 10-cent box. Sick headache, biliousness, coated tongue, head and nose clogged up with a cold—always trace this to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach.

Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system, is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue, it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take away the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet, breath right, complexion rosy and your liver and bowels regular for months.—(Adv.)

Put a reliner in that old casing and DOUBLE ITS MILEAGE.
