HUGHES ASSAILS ADMINISTRATION FOR ITS POLICIES

FALES CITY, Neb., Oct. 14.—Chas. E. Hughes today opened his campaign in Nebraska from the rear platform of the station lobby. The nominee outlined his policy of a protective tariff, declared that the present prosperity of the country was due to the "stimulus of the European war" and that when the war ceased there would be a great deal of labor disappointed in this country.

Mr. Hughes also assailed the administration for its Mexican policy. He declared that extension abroad of American trade would not be accomplished unless American rights were fully maintained.

"We must remember," he said, "that it is perfectly safe to ask American merchants, American engineers, American traders, the boys who go forth in the various opportunities that are afforded in connection with branch houses abroad, it is perfectly safe to ask them to go forward in the interest of American enterprise if the American flag does not mean full protection to every citizen lawfully engaged, wherever he is.

"We cannot have an extension of our foreign trade unless we have a recognition of the dignity of our own citizenship and are prepared to maintain our own rights. Now, I am a man of peace.

"Nothing to me is more extraordinary than the claim of this administration that it has kept us out of war. Only inexcusable blundering could have gotten us into war.

"We did not have peace in Mexico. We had war. It was an ignoble warfare; it was a personal war. It was not based on anything that is sanctioned by international law. It was a matter of vindictiveness to destroy the only semblance of government Mexico had."

ORGANIZED LABOR PORTLAND, ENDORSES WOODROW WILSON

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 14.—Resolved, that the Central Labor council of Portland and vicinity does hereby advise and urge all trades unions and all unorganized workmen, together with their families and all progressive citizens to vote for and to work for the election of Woodrow Wilson for president.

With this paragraph as the opening of a resolution setting forth the advanced legislation of the administration, the Central Labor council with practical unanimity endorsed President Wilson. Two or three socialists spoke against the resolution, but not a solitary delegate of the sixty present had a word to say in favor of Charles E. Hughes.

Socialists for President

Delegates who are socialists and delegates who are republicans alternated in stating that they are for Wilson.

The resolutions, after setting forth the series of laws and actions in favor of labor to the credit of the administration, say: "Stubborn facts and conditions, such that the blind may feel if they cannot see, forces the elimination of party lines and a strict adherence to men and measures if the work of years and the sacrifices of the workers for justice, social and industrial, are to bear fruit!

Hughes' Attitude Rapped

"Mr. Hughes has publicly proclaimed that if he is selected he will work for the repeal of this legislation. This council cannot conceive of a working man or woman voting to again enslave the American seaman and the children.

"We urge that the workers be not deluded by the cry, 'protection to the workman' or the tariff. This tariff question has been disposed of by both parties declaring for a nonpartisan tariff commission to scientifically establish the needed tariff for the protection of the workers and industry. It is better to leave this adjustment to a proven friend than to a party that has always used this cry to attract votes and that calmly after election permitted the owners of industry to pocket the protection and work for foreign and imported labor at European wages.

"President Wilson has proclaimed that the labor of a human being is not a commodity or an article of commerce." Mr. Hughes has said that the legislation declaring such necessity must be repealed. A vote for Mr. Hughes is a vote for this repeal.

"A vote for Mr. Hughes is an order to send armed workmen into Mexico to shoot down the workers of that country."
