

"MOTHER" REFUSES TO DANCE BEFORE MEDFORD EDITOR

To the Editor:

In response to your invitation, let me ask: Why should I bow in humble servility to the editor of the Medford Sun, trudge to his office and submit, like a disobedient child, to his oral chastigation for having dared to express an opinion on the character of the presidential candidates? Is he another kaiser, to command me thus? What is it to him whether or not I have a physical identity and a political opinion?

I can treat such a command only with contempt. It is in line, however, with the present policy of the Sun editor. I faint would talk with him if I had reason to believe that his partisan heart could be touched with truth, but he appears to have no shaft of truth in his campaign quiver.

Unlike the millionaire ladies of the New York 400, I have too much self-respect to smoke cigarettes; neither do I wear a collar designated by number; nor do I wear golden ankle bracelets and sport jewels bought by the money soaked with the sweat of child labor and the tears of broken-hearted mothers.

You and I, and your children and mine, helped to pay for this golden special train that brings its burden of jeweled bodies to flaunt their wealth in our faces. So did the benighted editor of the Sun. But he appears not to have risen to the plane of truly American manhood on which he dares to express resentment against the perfumed glamor and tinsel effrontery displayed by the presence of this golden special in the west. He advertises it with approval, but when I, a poor woman, earning my own living, dare to express an opinion contrary to his wicked belief, he commands me to come before him and let him see whether or not I am dead or alive!

I have contempt for his effrontery, but I pity him for his lack of heart. I am only sorry that I cannot make him ashamed.

I and my two sons are Wilson republicans, because he is the most righteous and courageous leader of the people since Abraham Lincoln.

The greatest war from which this country is suffering humiliation at this time is the war on Wilson.

Respectfully,
ELINORE LEWIS, Mother.

NURMI'S MODERN BAKESHOP OPENED

Nurmi's bakery was formally opened this afternoon when the doors of the modern bakeshop on South Front street were thrown open to the public. During the afternoon, from 2 to 4, a large number of people inspected the baking methods and were served with coffee and pastry. The plant will be open again this evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Methods of modern baking were explained to visitors. The machinery was kept in motion and they were shown the process from the time the ingredients are placed in huge mixers until the loaves, brown and crisp, emerge from the oven.

The new plant is in a well-lighted building, entirely finished in white. Baking operations within the shop can be seen at any time.

GOLDEN SPECIAL REACHES PORTLAND

PORTLAND, Or., Oct. 14.—The "Golden Special" women's campaign train for Hughes arrived here today and was met at the station by a delegation from republican organizations. An early morning parade was followed by the beginning of a strenuous speaking program at different points in the city. The first meeting was held in the Lincoln high school auditorium, where Mrs. Rheta Childe Dorr of New York was the principal speaker. Among the speakers at other places were Mrs. Henry Moskowitz, Mrs. Raymond Robins and Mrs. Maude Howe Elliott. After the departure of the special for Salem, Or., en route to California, late today, local democratic women will hold a counter-demonstration in behalf of President Wilson.

WARN FARMERS TO BEWARE OF LOAN SWINDLES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—The federal farm loan board's warning to farmers against swindlers seeking to profit by organization of land banks has begun to bring in many reports of victims. The board recently announced that it would refuse charters to any banks in whose organization money had gone for promotion purposes.

Jacob B. Blumer of Benchland, Mont., wrote to the board that an agent of a promotion concern pretended to have been employed by the government and got from him a $250 check for ten shares of stock and that he later received notice to pay $750 more.

K. T. Peck of Fishtail, Mont., complained that agents of the same concern told him that to borrow he must become a shareholder of the concern. Peck paid $25 and obligated himself for several more payments.

The board today issued this supplemental warning:

"Farmers who borrow through the National Farm Loan associations are not required to pay any advance commissions. So all of these enterprises requiring payments from farmers are declared by the board to be fraudulent and the attention of the department of justice has been called to the matter and an attempt will be made to bring the offenders to justice."

DAVID LUBIN FOR WILSON

"With Wilson it was different. I wanted to see him about a certain matter. I was allotted forty-five minutes, and I got forty-five minutes. He didn't tell me stories nor look at his watch, nor were we interrupted a dozen times. I got a real hearing—as a business man expects to get from the general manager of the nation's business. He was effective; he was efficient.

Call From Farmers.

Let me give you another instance. A couple of years ago twenty-seven men, commissioners of agriculture, distinguished men, representing the great agricultural interests of America, went to him. They were urging a measure similar to that which is so effective in Canada, to improve the quality and enhance the value and in general extend the whole principle of crop reports. He went over their petition with them, with a kind of grim humor lighting up his face as he waded through that bill, punching a hole in it here, criticizing it there, pointing out the weakness of this phrase, the vagueness of that clause. For a while these big agriculturists didn't know how to take him. They thought he was merely criticizing their proposed bill. He was. He was tearing it to pieces, but before he got through, these men saw that almost at once he had got their point of view and was helping them by putting in a word here, striking out a phrase there, adding one here, helping them draw a bill more efficient to perform the work they wanted than they themselves had devised.

Brings Scholarly Mind.

"President Wilson brings a scholarly mind to business. He knows that good politics and good economics are the same thing. That is why Mr. Wilson is such a good politician, in the highest sense of that much-abused term. And he is fearless! In all my relations with him, direct or indirect, I fail to find anything or anybody he is afraid of."

SOUTHERN PACIFIC GRANTED PERMISSION TO EXTEND TRACK

The state public service commission, following a hearing at Medford, October 10, has granted the application of the Southern Pacific company for permission to construct at grade a railway track across Third street, Medford. The order reads as follows:

"The track, permission for the construction of which is sought, is a passing track parallel with and adjacent to the main line of the applicant company in its station grounds at Medford, Or. The present track layout is insufficient to permit of the prompt and economical handling of traffic at this point and in an endeavor to better operating conditions the company desires to extend and enlarge its present passing track. This action will necessitate the crossing of Third street in such city.

"The topography of the country is such as to preclude a separation of grades at this point by the expenditure of any reasonable amount of money, and the nature of the track, together with the general layout of the city, make it impossible to avoid a grade crossing by a relocation of the track in question. In other words, a relocation of the passing track so as to avoid the crossing at Third street would necessitate the construction of a similar crossing over some other street, equal in importance from the standpoint of the traffic carried. Nothing in the interest of public safety could be gained by such a change. The commission therefore grants the right and privilege to construct such crossing at Third street, in the city of Medford, at grade."

U-BOAT SIGHTED IN PURSUIT OF DANISH LINER

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—When the White Star freighter Bovie sighted an eastward bound submarine in the Atlantic yesterday morning she was apparently in pursuit of a Danish passenger ship, the Hellig Olav, according to observers on the deck of the Bovie, which arrived here today.

The nationality of the submarine was not identified. The Bovie, in fear of attack because of being a freight ship, put on full speed and headed directly west. At the time she passed out of sight of the other two vessels the Danish boat still seemed to be endeavoring to escape from the submarine. The weather was clear and the Hellig Olav was between two and three miles distant at the moment she was first observed, with the submarine about one mile to the Dane's stern. This was about 8:50 a. m., when the Bovie was approximately 200 miles east of New York.

The Hellig Olav left here Thursday for Copenhagen and other Scandinavian ports, carrying 36 passengers in the first cabin, 37 in the second cabin and steerage passengers. Many of those in the cabins are Americans.

At the time she was sighted by the Bovie the Dane was flying no flag, but her identity was distinguished by her name and the Danish flag painted on her side.

Royal Typewriters end the "trading out" expense. The Royal is so constructed that all bearings having to do with the operation of the type bars and alignment may be replaced in five minutes at a few cents' expense. The Royal outside or end keys have just as light a touch as the center keys. Try your machine. We can and will be very glad to demonstrate why the Royal is a better typewriter for you than any other standard and at the same time end the "trade-out." The makers of the Royal do not believe in "trading out," but believe a machine should last a lifetime, the same as a watch.

MILITIA IS STILL NEEDED ALONG THE BORDER—WILSON

practicable upon the organized militia forces. It has already resulted in the return of a number of New York organizations. The 14th and 71st infantry and the first brigade quarters are at present in their state armories, preparing to muster out, the second infantry is preparing en route from the border to the state mobilization camp also for muster out. The first ambulance company and the first regiment of field artillery have been designated to return from the border to their state mobilization camps for muster out, and the first aero company was not sent to the border, but mustered out at Mineola, N. Y. Thus, a substantial number of the New York contingent have either been or are in course of being released from the federal service at this time and as other forces are sent to the border, it may be that General Funston will find it possible to afford New York militia even further relief.

Emergency Still Exists.

"The emergency which led to the call of the militia was, as defined in my call of June 18, the possibility of aggression from Mexico and the protection of our frontier. This emergency still unhappily exists and I am advised by the military authorities that the withdrawal of the militia at any time from the date of its original call up to, and including the present, would in all human likelihood have by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is, by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; since cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

been followed by fresh aggression from Mexico upon the lives and the property of the people of the United States. The militia have therefore been used and are being used to repel invasion and are rendering service of the highest quality and most urgently needed character to their country.

"It would, of course, be impossible to set a date at which the release of the remaining New York units can with certainty be accomplished. I am happy, however, to believe that the condition in northern Mexico is improving and that in the near future we will be able to do even more than has been done to relieve the embarrassments under which these organized military regiments have necessarily suffered.

Shares Admiration.

"I share your admiration, my dear governor, for the spirit in which these men have served and are serving their country and would be very sorry to have it supposed that their retention on the border is for any mere purpose of completion of their military training or any less commanding purpose than the preservation of our frontier from aggression.

"Very Truly Yours
WOODROW WILSON."

ALLIED LOSSES IN MEN ON SOMME OVER A MILLION

BERLIN, Oct. 14.—British and French losses in the Somme are declared to have totalled a million men, declares the Overseas News Agency.

The news agency's military critic writes:

"The heavy sacrifices of the British and French for the recapture of each square yard on the Somme is proved by the fact that in three and one-half months about 90 fresh divisions were virtually annihilated, so that it was necessary to withdraw them forever. (Ninety divisions represents a total of considerably more than 1,000,000 men. There are about 12,000 men in a French division and 19,000 in a British division).

"These divisions disappeared completely from battle. Fifty-five divisions in consequence of their great losses, were able to engage in combat only twice, 15 three times, and only one was able to engage in combat four times. Four divisions had suffered so severely after their second engagement that it was necessary to send them to quiet sectors, but on critical days they were again thrown in."
