

LINCOLN'S COUSINS DECLARE THAT WILSON IS LIKE MARTYRED RELATIVE AND WILL VOTE FOR THE PRESIDENT

Points of Resemblance Pointed Out by Richard Lincoln—Says Wilson, Like Lincoln, Recognized Only One Boss, the Common People.

RICHARD G. LINCOLN

BY MILTON BRONNER
READING, Pa., Oct. 30.—"Yes, my name is Lincoln. Come in, won't you?"
When I stepped into the hallway of the neat little house on North Ninth street in this city, I would have known I was talking to a Lincoln if the elderly man had not spoken a word. He was not tall and gaunt like "Uncle Abe," but he had the eyes and nose and mouth even the chin whiskers so familiar in some of the famous pictures of the martyr president. The resemblance was even more startling than photographs indicate.

Is Third Cousin.
And here was a quaint touch—very once in a while he spoke with a slightly German accent. It turned out that his mother was an American of German ancestry. My host was Richard G. Lincoln, who, with his brothers, Alfred and Harrison, is going to vote for Wilson for president. "I am a third cousin of Abe Lincoln," said my host. "My father was John Lincoln and his grandfather, Thomas Lincoln, was a first cousin of the greatest in our family. I never met Abe. He was born in Kentucky and grew up in Illinois, and I was kept busy working on the farm near Loreane in this county. The place became mine by inheritance and there still stands on it the home of Abe Lincoln's great grandfather, built back in 1733, when the original Lincoln was a prosperous landowner with 1000 acres.

Meets the President.
"On Pennsylvania day at Shadow Lawn I was one of the Pennsylvania pilgrims, together with my brother Alfred. We were introduced to the president and he at once remarked on my close resemblance to the great Lincoln. "The president is certainly not a handsome man, but neither was Abe Lincoln. Judging by his deeds, it seems to me he is a second Lincoln. He is just as passionately opposed to war as was Lincoln. If you know your American history you will remember Lincoln didn't want war with the south. He was always pleading that diplomacy and reason and ballots should decide the questions that were vexing the nation, and not angry words and unreason and bullets.

Lincoln Tender Hearted.
"Lincoln was tender-hearted. It anguished his spirit to think of men wounded and maimed and torn by the shot and shell of battle. You will remember how he visited the hospitals and agonized over the injured and dying men. Well, Wilson is like that, too. He is trying to prevent this country from enduring all the horrors of war and he is succeeding.
"Lincoln was strong for the common people. So is Wilson. He has done everything in his power to help those who have needed friends. He has freed labor, he has made this a freer country. Wilson is like Lincoln in that he recognizes only one boss—the common people. You can't make that too strong. You can't dwell too much on that."

AMERICANS ON SHIP SUNK WITHOUT WARNING AT SEA
The submarine shelled the boat after they had cleared the ship. The vessel was torpedoed at 11:30, sinking at 2:40.
Seven Americans were on board, including five Filipinos and two native Americans, George Murphy of 740 Jefferson avenue, Brooklyn, and Albert Sessler of 42 Sharon street, Boston.

Fifty Americans Aboard
NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Oct. 30.—There were fifty Americans on the British steamship Marina, reported torpedoed without warning in today's dispatches from London, when she sailed from Newport News. The Americans were signed here as passengers. They were all white and gave their homes as in various sections of the United States.

Vessel Torpedoed.
LONDON, Oct. 30.—The admiralty informed the embassy that the Marina was torpedoed, but that it had not been ascertained whether warning was given.
No official information is available whether any Americans were drowned, although only thirty-four survivors have been landed at Crockhaven. The Marina, which was outward bound, was torpedoed twice and broke in two. It is reported that men were drowned while attempting to lower boats. Mr. Frost has been ordered to obtain all possible information in regard to the Americans on the vessel.
The admiralty says the Marina was not under government charter.

Not a Transport.
NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Oct. 30.—At the offices of the United States Shipping company, local agents for the Donaldson line, owners of the Marina, it was said today that the Marina was not a transport in the service of the British government.

"She is one of our regular steamers plying between here and Glasgow," it was said, "and was owned and operated as a merchantman by the Donaldson line. She carried general cargo and some horses for the British government, but she had not been commandeered and still retained her character as a merchantman."

Leaders in Revolt.
But as soon as they got their strength they began to give voice to their indignation and to protest against being delivered into the hands of their old enemies.
In every section of the country leaders of the progressive party in 1912 have declared for Wilson. There are exceptions of course, but it is noticeable and significant that the exceptions are chiefly among the element in the progressive party, headed by George W. Perkins, whose progressivism was always under the suspicion of the great mass of the rank and file.
Roosevelt, Perkins and Raymond Robins are practically all of the progressive party leaders of 1912, who are making an aggressive effort for Hughes' election, while hundreds of men and women who were prominent in the progressive party in 1912, either nationally or in their own states, have declared for Wilson and are working for his election. Among these are John M. Parker, nominated for vice-president by the progressive convention last June, Matthew Hale of Massachusetts, Hainbridge Colby of New York and Jane Addams.

Murdoch Bolts Ticket.
A few days ago Victor Murdoch's newspaper at Wichita, Kan., declared for Wilson and urged progressives to vote for him. Murdoch is the national chairman of the progressive party.
It is known Governor Hiram Johnson of California, candidate for senator, is for Hughes only nominally. He showed his real feelings when he refused to see Hughes when the latter visited California.
There are many things contributing to the Wilson tide—the president's peace policies, his practical sympathy for labor, his fairness toward business, his refusal to truckle to the hyphenates and his record for progressive laws passed, but in estimating the situation, as it exists today, the importance of the reaction among the progressive from the crime against their party at Chicago in June, must be given large consideration.
This is true in every state, but it is especially true in the states west of the Alleghenies including Pennsylvania.

MEDFORD WINS FROM KLAMATH BY SCORE OF 27 TO 0
Medford easily defeated Klamath Falls 27 to 0 Saturday afternoon in the football game played at Jackson field. Hard tackling, hard line cutting and the use of the forward pass at the proper moment are the factors responsible for the victory. In the first period Medford worked her way down the field to the Klamath 30-yard line with a series of line plunges. A forward pass put the ball on the Klamath 10-yard line from where it was carried over in two downs. Brandon kicked goal. From this point on, the game was all Medford's.
Brandon, who did the booting for Medford, showed well in punting, making an average of 15 yards on each exchange of punts.
Gentry, Hannon and Billy Mitchell showed up well in the game. Young also played a consistent game. Bob Fields showed up well in spurs, but also showed a lack of condition and wind.
The Medford team was well supported by both high school and city fans, over 600 persons witnessing the game. The high school and a delegation of rooters did effective cheering from an improvised grandstand.
Medford's next game will be played on the home grounds, on the after-
