

WILSON SHOULD BE RE-ELECTED SAYS DR. HILL

Lifelong Republican Says Change of Administration Detrimental to Nation—President's Policy for the Interests of Country and Humanity—Will Loom Large in History.

"I am profoundly in favor of the re-election of Woodrow Wilson," stated Dr. J. Lawrence Hill Monday. "I consider his handling of the difficult situations with which he has been confronted to be the wisest and best possible to any statesman. His legislative and diplomatic policies have been carried out, not for the interests of his party, but for the interests of his country and humanity. He is a statesman rather than a politician, a man who builds for tomorrow."

Long Large in History.

"The historian of tomorrow will record the fact that Woodrow Wilson is one of the greatest presidents and statesmen that America has ever had."

Dr. Hill stated that these are the honest convictions of a republican by birth, one who has constantly supported the republican party until the present campaign. Dr. Hill added that both he and Mrs. Hill, after reading the Hughes speech of acceptance, his later speeches and the utterances of Theodore Roosevelt, have come to the conclusion that Wilson will more nearly carry out the progressive principles of the republican party than will Hughes.

"The Mexican situation," Dr. Hill declared, "will work itself out. The executive of the United States has no right to sacrifice American boys for the settlement of Mexico's internal troubles."

Lusitania Case.

"In the Lusitania case, Wilson did all that was possible for a president to do. He gained his point and compelled the German government to recognize the principles of international law on the high seas."

"Hughes, if elected," said Dr. Hill, "if he lives up to his campaign declarations, must declare war on Mexico. There will be no other alternative."

"Women should remember this point in casting their votes and should consider that there is more than mere talk in the statement that 'Wilson kept us out of war.'"

NEWTOWNS NET $1.50 TO $2.25

Four ears of Rogue River valley Newtowns were sold in London yesterday at 11 to 14 shillings per box. This price nets growers $1.50 to $2.25 f. o. b. Medford.

The sale of a car of Anjou pears, described as of very ordinary quality, is reported from New York at $2.62 per box. The poor condition of the fruit was due to its having been held for a considerable time in cold storage in New York before being placed on the market.

PHOENIX BAND TO GIVE MONTHLY CONCERTS

Owing to a conflict in dates, the Phoenix band social of last Tuesday was held, together with the democratic political rally. Twenty-two baskets were sold, netting over $20. The band boys planned a concert for a month from the end of this week, and will give a concert each month from then on. Announcement of the program and admission will be made later.

Tuesday night the Parent-Teachers' association of the Phoenix schools will give their annual Halloween program. The numbers include "Humoresque," Handel's "Largo," Rubenstein's "Melody in F" by the orchestra, a vocal duet by Miss Homes and Mrs. Oliver, and a number of drills, tableaux, etc., of appropriate and ghostly-Halloween nature. A large committee are at work decorating the school assembly room. Refreshments will be served free. The proceeds will be used to enlarge and improve the school stage.

WAR WITNESS TO LECTURE UPON BATTLE SIGHTS

One of the exciting school events of the year will be the coming of Dr. Lincoln Wirt, explorer and war correspondent, when he makes his appearance at the high school building Wednesday evening, November 1, under the auspices of the high school band. Ever since the organization of the band about a year ago the faculty has waited for a favorable opportunity to raise funds to uniform its members. The coming of Dr. Wirt has made it possible to do this. He is on his way to California to spend the winter and it is out of the generosity of his own heart that he has consented to reduce his fee and stop in Medford.

Studied War in Trenches.

On May 1, 1915, Dr. Wirt was sent to Europe by the Carnegie peace foundation to study at first hand the effects of war upon modern civilization. As bearer of personal letters from the secretary of state, he was permitted to pass freely through the jealously guarded military zones, receiving many courtesies from both civil and military authorities in five of the countries at war.

He visited many lines of trenches. Among others, near Ypres and tragic "Hell 60." Here the fiercest fighting was witnessed. An artillery duel was being waged overhead and the battered walls of the "nameless city" were falling about.

He spent much time in the field hospitals back of the firing line. The scientific organization of this military hospital and the treatment accorded many wounded soldiers brought in from nearby battlefields are fully described.

Saw Italy Participate.

He arrived in Rome the day before Italy unfurled the battle flag. He was an eyewitness of the historic scene enacted before the royal palace, when Queen Helena kissed the national flag in the presence of tens of thousands of war-mad subjects, and King Victor Emmanuel assumed personal command of his Roman legions.

Dr. Wirt was also in London during three Zeppelin raids, when hundreds of bombs were dropped from the clouds upon the sleeping city.

In four of the countries at war he discussed with civil and military leaders those terms of rapprochement which would be acceptable to each as a basis upon which to build possible negotiations for cessation of hostilities and the eventual disarmament of the nations.

In Wake of the War.

In his graphic description of "In the Wake of the War," Dr. Wirt tells the story of his thrilling adventures as a war correspondent; of the day the Lusitania was torpedoed not far from his own ship; of his journey over a large portion of Europe and his life in the American ambulance corps. He vividly describes the construction of trenches, redoubts and barb-wire entanglements; he tells of the engagements witnessed and the part played in them by machine guns, shrapnel, bombs, hand grenades, mines, liquid fire and asphyxiating gases.

Describes Conflict.

All this and much more he tells of what he has seen and felt at the front, pointing in the scenes as back-ground against which he throws de-

NON-CRYING BABY THE NEWEST KIND

St. Louis Hospital Uses a System in Handling Babies and Teaches "Do's" for Mothers.

The patented non-crying baby is the new product of St. Louis hospital. Non-crying babies are being turned out at the rate of five or six a day.

System in caring for the child is the reason.

Part of the system is the elimination of caresses from bewhiskered Uncle Exas and lullabies by doing Aunt Lizzies. Relatives may peek at a new baby, but must keep hands off.

The babies are never fondled. They are fed at regular intervals. After the feeding the baby is taken from the mother for a time and put in a separate bed. The babies are bathed every morning and great care is taken at all times to keep him perfectly clean.

When the mother leaves the hospital with her baby, she takes with her a printed list of nurses' "do's." If the baby forms habits of crying at home—well, that's the mother's fault.

MEDALS OF HONOR GIVEN MARINES FOR VALOR IN BATTLE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—First Sergeant Roswell Winans and Corporal Joseph A. Glowin of the marine corps have been commended by Acting Secretary Roosevelt of the navy, awarded medals of honor and $100 cash for extraordinary valor displayed during the battle of Guayacanes in the Dominican republic on July 3.

The following account of the incident was made public today at the navy department:

"The reports show that on July 3, 1916, the twenty-eighth company of marines was engaged with the Dominican armed forces at the battle of Guayacanes. During a running fight of 1,200 yards our forces reached the enemy entrenchments and Corporal Glowin placed a machine gun, of which he had charge, behind a large log across the road and immediately opened fire on the trenches. He was struck once but continued firing his gun, a moment later he was struck again and had to be dragged out of the position into cover. Sergeant Winans then arrived with a Colt gun, which he placed in a most exposed position, coolly opened fire on the trenches and when the gun jammed, stood up and repaired it under fire. All the time Glowin and Winans were handling their runs they were exposed to a very heavy fire, which was striking into the logs and around the men, seven men being wounded and one killed within 20 feet. Sergeant Winans continued firing his gun until the enemy had abandoned the trenches."

Electrician William P. Hayes also was commended for the rescue of a shipmate from drowning in Alaska when the pair were overturned in a canoe while on a hunting trip.

EPIDEMIC OF TYPHUS RAGING IN ZACATECAS

LAREDO, Tex., Oct. 31.—Forty persons die daily in Zacatecas, Mex., from typhus fever, according to the statement of a passenger here today, who arrived direct from that city. He said burials were made in trenches and that wardrobes and other articles of furniture are used for coffins.

DEUTSCHLAND ON SECOND VOYAGE TO UNITED STATES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The Deutschland, Germany's submarine merchantman, is believed in quarters here which should know, to be now on her second voyage to the United States. Knowledge of the date the vessel is supposed to have started from Germany is disclaimed.

News dispatches from Switzerland reporting that the Deutschland, as well as the Bremen, had been lost and that the former started for the United States during September were discredited. It was emphatically declared that the Deutschland was in a German port all of last month.

It also was said today that in the future all German submarines coming to the United States, whether naval or merchantmen, will make either New London or Newport their port of call. No more submarines will enter Hampton Roads, because of the danger of nets being dropped to trap them off the Virginia Capes.

American submarines are usually operating in the waters off New London and Newport at all times of the year. British nets dropped there might endanger American vessels and the lives of American sailors. German officials do not believe that the British would take the chance of netting an American vessel. Consequence-

ANOTHER BIG SHOE MAKER IS FOR PRESIDENT

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Jackson Johnson of St. Louis, chairman of the board of directors of the International shoe company and one of the biggest manufacturers in the world, announced today that he will vote for President Wilson.

"I have balanced the great constructive measures of the Wilson administration against the ill-advised measures of previous republican rule and I have concluded to support Mr. Wilson for a second term," says Mr. Johnson. "Mr. Wilson has faced the most trying times of any president since Lincoln."

"Through his leadership, the inadequate currency measure known as the Aldrich law, was amended by a democratic congress to prevent what would have been the greatest panic this country has ever known."

"In my judgment, the federal reserve act is one of the greatest and most beneficial pieces of legislation ever placed upon the statutes. It has served to advance the business of this country and has done more to bring prosperity to the whole people than all other things combined."

PLENTY OF WILSON MONEY OFFERED BUT FEW TAKERS

A $500 bet was made Tuesday that Wilson would be elected. Other wagers are expected to be posted within a day or two.

At Brown's pool room the following is posted:

- $500 that Wilson is elected.
- $100 that you cannot name twelve states Hughes will carry.
- $1000 to $800, or any part of it, that Wilson will carry Jackson county, Oregon.
- $50 to $100 that Wilson carries Oregon.
- $75 to $100 that Wilson carries Washington.
