Proclamation
 By Gov. Withycombe
 "The year 1916 has brought to the people of the State of Oregon the multitudinous blessings of peace and prosperity. In which our good fortune is doubly notable because of its contrast with the unfortunate conditions prevailing in so many other portions of the war ravaged world. There is much in the lives of each and every one of us for which to be grateful, and for which to render thanksgiving unto him who presides over the destinies of individuals, states and nations."
 "I call upon the people of the state of Oregon, on that day, to pause from their labors and render fitting thanks for the bounties and blessings bestowed upon them and our commonwealth."
