Mrs. Fred O'Kelly and son of Williams have been spending the week at the home of Mrs. John Dunnington.

W. R. Coleman, who is home from Alaska on a visit, spent the day in Jacksonville Saturday.

J. P. Wells was a recent Portland visitor, afterwards going to Salem, where he helped on the examining board for teachers' certificates.

Mrs. T. J. Kenney and daughter will move to Medford soon, having rented their home to J. B. Coleman. Mrs. Kenney expects to leave for Alaska about the 1st of February.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Harper and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Ulrich attended a bridge dinner given at the home of Mrs. O. C. King of Medford New Year's night.

Mrs. Mary Miller and daughter of Portland, who have been spending the holidays with William Bybee, were the guests of Mrs. A. I. Eckelson several days this week.

Mrs. Anna Broad has returned from Coquille and is visiting her daughter, Mrs. William Nicholas, at Medford.

Mrs. Lizzie Wilson and family of Ashland and Miss Lucile York of Medford were visitors at the home of Mrs. William Bowen Thursday.

Mrs. Charles Hansen of Medford attended the "Twice Five" Sewing club, which met at the home of Mrs. G. A. Ardner Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Jones of Callahan, Cal., have been visiting the latter's mother, Mrs. Kate Copley.

Miss Elizabeth Reuter left for The Dalles Wednesday evening in response to a telegram telling her of the serious illness of her mother.

The Aronys M. Pirelin was at the

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. One grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

county seal on professional business Wednesday. Miss Clara Wood of Medford spent New Year's day with friends living here. The Fortnightly Bridge club met at the home of Mrs. Harry Lay Wednesday evening. The house was prettily decorated with hyacinths and primroses and after an evening of cards the guests repaired to the dining-room, where a delicious supper was served. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nunam, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Fick, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Harper, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lay, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Ulrich and Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Klum of Medford.

ASHLAND AND VICINITY

Those in and out of town who partook of the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. George N. Anderson at dinner on New Year's day were C. C. Tolman, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Carter, Walter Phillips, Mrs. Belle Anderson and Mrs. Ira Johnson. This gathering was a most pleasant reunion of relatives and friends, all of whom heartily entered into the spirit of the observance of the advent of a happy New Year amid ideal surroundings.

Miss Minnie Foley returned to Stayton on Tuesday to resume teaching in the public schools of that town, after a holiday vacation here with relatives and friends.

James R. Tapscott, well-known attorney of Yreka, recently married his stenographer, Miss Leah Hollingsworth. The newlyweds took a honeymoon trip to San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Lockman of Twin Falls, Idaho, who for the past few weeks have been occupying furnished apartments in the E. B. Shaw residence on B street, have gone to Bend to locate on a ranch in that vicinity.

Statistics from Redding indicate that there were 33 violent deaths in Shasta county in 1916. Mining accidents claimed 6, murder 2, suicide 3, auto wrecks 2, drowned 4, gas explosions 5, railroad casualties 8, and other causes 3.

Lawrence Cardwell of Fort Klamath died suddenly early in the week, aged 40 years. He was well known to Ashland residents in the Klamath region. Burial occurred at Central Point.

Fred Putnam, owner of the fine horse "Chub," which was recently electrocuted by city lighting wires, has filed a claim against the city for $200, an amount which is conceded to be reasonable. The matter is practically settled in Fred's favor, having been referred to Councilman Caldwell, Lamb and Banta, members of the dead horse committee, with power to act, the legal aspects of the case being taken under advisement by the city attorney pursuant to statute governing equine exhumations. The exercise of good horse sense is implied in this speedy settlement.

With the incoming of the new city administration applications are on file from the heads of three departments, providing for disposal of the many antique motorcycles and the substitution thereof of up-to-date 1917 models, the better to expedite movements of superintendents of water, electric light and street bureaus.

Burials in local cemeteries aggregated 61 in 1916, of which number 31 were in Mountain View, 23 in Ashland and 7 in Hargadine, 21 of the total being non-residents.

Registration of local automobiles in 1916 were 147, as compared with 28 in 1912.

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. McNair returned Thursday morning from a holiday outing which extended as far as Portland and Astoria.

The public schools reopen after the holiday vacation on Monday, January 8.

G. F. Billings on Thursday received a postal card, dated at Moscow, Russia, November 29, 1916, from his nephew, Professor Roscoe Ham, who occupies the chair of modern languages in Bowdoin college, Brunswick, Me. The message contained the information that the writer was on a tour of northern Russia from Petrograd to beyond the Urals as agent of the American embassy. The card also bore a pictorial representation of the ancient historic city of the Kremlin.

Rev. J. S. Smith has traded one of his places in this city for San Diego residence property, and plans to leave Ashland with his family on or about February 1 for a permanent residence in southern California. He has been a long-time resident of Ashland and is well known in ministerial and chautauquan circles, also enjoying a wide acquaintance generally, being a prominent member of the G. A. R.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Hiseok were guests this week of Miss Marion Hodgson. The visitors were married at The Dalles the first of the month and were on their way to their home at Colusa, Cal., where Mr. Hiseok is in business. The bride was formerly Miss Elva Lavers of The Dalles, and her intimate acquaintance with Miss Hodgson dates from sorority days when both were chums attending the Oregon Agricultural college at Corvallis.

The Inland Empire excursion, Spokane to Los Angeles, is due through here on Sunday, January 7, at 1 p. m. Over 200 will be in the party.

Mrs. Will Dodge left Wednesday for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Hunt, residing in Portland.

One of the first basketball games of the season was played at the Armory on Thursday forenoon between Homer Billings' high school class of the Methodist church and another team which is practically nameless, inasmuch as it is recruited from a denomination which does not wish to have its name mentioned in connection with athletic sports. The Methodist cohorts, captained by Meredith Beaver, won by 36 to 28. The unmentionables were led by Lyle Sams, captain of the team.

The Grand Army of the Republic and Relief Corps will hold a joint installation of officers at the Armory Saturday afternoon, January 8. This annual event is one of social significance in the history of the dual organizations.

Mrs. M. Stannard has gone to Hawaii to engage in teaching, where her son Edward is likewise employed in Honolulu.

Redding is wrestling with the question of controlling liquor traffic. Several petitions are being circulated seeking to regulate the problem. One faction wants to preserve the status as at present, another suggests a minimum license of $500, while a third element demands that the license figures be placed at $1000. There are only twenty-five saloons in that town.

Leroy Ashcraft is recovering from effects of a coasting accident which he met with a few days ago, at a point near Jacksonville, where the sledging has been unusually good this winter—in fact, so superb that enterprising sportsmen of the county sent town installed an ice carnival which was well patronized by outsiders as well as the home folks. Herb Davis went along with Leroy, and in piloting a big sled on a 50 per cent grade the coasters landed in a ditch almost as dangerous as a trench at the war front.

The remainder of the week of prayer incorporates a gathering at the Methodist church on Friday evening, and one at the Christian church on Saturday evening. On Sunday evening there will be a union meeting at the Methodist church, universal peace and Red Cross activities being topics for discussion, led by Rev. Paul Bondy of Central Point.

By the recent death of William Burns of Grants Pass, elected colonel of the southern Oregon district G. A. R. reunion held here last fall, James Mattingly of this city, lieutenant colonel of the association, succeeds to the colonelcy.

The Business Men's association meets Monday evening, January 8, in Chautauqua hall. Election of officers, the business session to be followed by serving refreshments.

Mrs. Marietta Malt has returned from a visit with relatives in Portland.

Archie Miller, engineer on the Klamath Falls branch, left for Weed on Friday, after a holiday visit here with relatives.

EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

By A. C. Howlett
At Storages of Elk creek, Trail P. O., spent the night with us Tuesday night. He reports the snow at his place seventeen inches deep.

Last Wednesday afternoon after I had written the Eaglelets, Ed Conley and James M. Riley, both of Eagle Point, gave me their subscriptions to the Daily Mail Tribune. Mr. Conley is the manager of the T. E. Nichols general merchandise store, successor to F. L. Heath.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Smith in Eagle Point, December 27, a six-pupped daughter, Dr. Holt reports.

We have had some little excitement in our little town during the past few days: William Thomas of Brownsboro took out a writ of replevin to secure four hogs, from Chas. Henscom, also of Brownsboro, in Judge F. M. Stewart's court a week or more ago and the case was set for last Wednesday, but continued until Thursday, and by two o'clock that morning the three attorneys had arrived and the court house, the town hall, was almost packed with boys and men, all anxious to see and hear the case, for Mr. Henscom had attracted some attention already as a defendant in a suit with Mr. Hoagland to recover two horses, in which he lost out. The plaintiff in this case, Wm. Thomas, had employed Newton W. Borden and H. A. Canady, and the defendant, Chas. Henscom, the first thing to be done was to draw a jury and in order to facilitate business instead of drawing the jury from the jury box, the constable, Leroy Smith, picked the jury up in and around the court room and thus saved time and expense to the party who had the cost to pay. The following persons were selected as jurors in the case from the twelve who were summoned: Timmy Dugan, G. H. Wansley, Sam Coy, Mr. McQuoid, Sr., Wm. G. Knighton and Mr. Swanson. After the jurors were sworn in the court adjourned for dinner and the plaintiff, his attorney and most of the witnesses repaired to the Sunnyside for dinner, and I suppose that the defendant and his attorney went to the Farmers' hotel. By one o'clock p. m. the court room was again crowded with anxious spectators and the proceedings began in earnest. The first witness was the plaintiff Wm. Thomas and he told where he got the hogs and when and how he paid for them, how he had treated them, raised them as pets and all the particulars as to how they were marked, showed that his mark was recorded, etc., and that in changing the mark that the defendant had left some of the mark, next to the head, split in both ears, and then substantiated his statement so far as the purchase was concerned by his brother, Richard, and Cousin Sam Courtney, and his continued possession for nearly two years by Ralph Tucker and his son and his son-in-law, Mr. Staub, and Mr. Hoagland. The defendant, Mr. Henscom, swore that he bought the hogs from Wm. Von der Hellen in a bunch of hogs that Mr. Von der Hellen had bought from a man named Jordan in a closing out sale by the Eagle Point bank, and his former partner, Mr. Ramack, swore positively to the pigs as the property of the defendant. During the examination of the defendant and his main witness Mr. Newbury asked several questions that were ruled out by the court. There was considerable cross-firing between the three attorneys and at last the case was argued pro and con until 5 p. m., when it was given to the jury to decide and in a few minutes they brought in a verdict in favor of the plaintiff. They only balloted twice on the question as to who should have the hogs. The first time the ballot stood four to two for the plaintiff and the next time was unanimous for the plaintiff. It is such a novelty to see three real live lawyers out here at one time, unless it is during a campaign, that the case attracted more attention than it would, had it been a case tried by the justice without such a display of legal talent. Another thing that, perhaps, had quite a bearing on the case was that the defendant is now out on bonds to answer an indictment for the larceny of these same hogs.

Mr. Hoagland has moved from his place near Central Point to his farm near Brownsboro. Mr. Moore, the father of Mrs. David Cincende, came out on the P. & E. Thursday to visit his daughter. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jackson and a son of the late E. E. Smith were on the train on their way to their home in Butte Falls.

H. H. Fox, who is engaged teaching school in the Lake Creek district, was here for dinner Thursday and so was a man by the name of Fuller and his daughter and friend by the name of Cooper. Mr. Fuller is talking of buying a place just above town where Mr. Gorman lives. They are all three from Los Angeles and came as far as Sisson in a Ford, but the snow storm blocked their way.

Jacob Kippel of Portland took the Eagle Point-Perist stage Friday morning for Trail, where he will visit his sister-in-law, Mrs. Henry Kippel, Miss Claire Zimmerman and her daughter, Hattie, went up to Edball to visit friends and have a good time in the snow, taking pictures of the snow-covered scenery. They expect to return today, Saturday.

Mrs. Gus Gorman was in town on business Friday.

Wishing the readers of the Eaglelets a happy New Year, we close the year 1916.

Charley Manning of Peyton came in in the afternoon from Clifton and stayed until after the dance.

Mrs. W. C. Daley of Lake Creek, Mrs. P. J. Ayres of Resse Creek, and Miss Fay Perry of Eagle Point, came out from Medford last Saturday. Mrs. Daley had been caring for her daughter, Myrtle, who has been confined to her bed with pneumonia, and Mrs. Ayres and Miss Fay had been visiting Mrs. Ayres' daughter, Mrs. E. T. Newport, and Miss Fay was visiting her step-aunt. The return trip of the train took fifteen cans of cream to Medford.

Mr. Talbert went to Medford on the same train and so did F. M. and H. D. Carlise of Medford.

There was quite a number of people attended the masque half Saturday night and danced until 1:30 Sunday morning. If our new district attorney will take the trouble to investigate he can probably find several cases of the violation of the prohibition law, for I heard one of our prominent business men make the remark that out of about fifty men, who were there, that he did not think there was ten men who were strictly sober.

Saturday night we had, as guests at the Sunnyside: Carl Von der Hellen, Miss Nell Thompson, Carl Ringer, Miss C. Zimmerman and Harry Lewis.

At Clements, P. S. Anderson, O. Adams of Butte Falls; Robert Coase of Talent, and Glenn Haley and his brother Percy; N. W. Slosser, our barber and jeweler; Ed Cincende and Henry Trautz the mail carrier from here to Perist, were here for breakfast Sunday morning.

William Heoffit, Frank Gillespie, and Mrs. Marie van Reffer were here for dinner.

Ralph Tucker and his son-in-law, Mr. Staub of Brownsboro, came down Tuesday. Mr. Staub brought down a crate of chickens and Mr. Tucker took back two hales of wire fencing.

Gus Stinson and S. K. Ballard, two of the "trouble men" on the electric line, came in Wednesday noon for dinner. They had just come in from McLeod, where they had been repairing the lines that had broken down under the pressure of the snow. They say that they have had considerable trouble in the hills and the snow is so deep that they had to leave their auto and take a team and in many instances had to go on foot as the snow is so soft that they cannot use snow shoes.

DRINK MORE WATER IF KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat less meat and take Salts for Backache or Bladder trouble—Neutralize acids.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach pain, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad. Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys will then get fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is delicious, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.
