GERMAN RAIDER IN THE ATLANTIC

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Persistent reports that a German raider was met in the Atlantic and sunk by a British cruiser yesterday afternoon, were current today in well informed steamship circles. Details are lacking as to the identity of the vessel engaged and the location of the encounter.

Coupled with these reports was a statement by the Lamport and Holt line, owners of the overdue steamship Voltair, that rumors had come to them that their vessel was in one of the ports of Bermuda. The officers of the line said they had heard that the Voltair, after capture by a German raider, had been recaptured and taken to Bermuda, but that their information was unofficial.

The Voltair was last reported to have left Liverpool on November 28 for New York.

DRASTIC PROHIBITION BILL FOR ALASKA

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—At a hearing on a drastic prohibition bill for Alaska before the house territories committee, it was developed that there are 325 retail dealers and 845 brewers in the territory.

Chairman Houston indicated the committee would report the bill favorably and that its effect would be to make the territory "bone dry."

NEXT BAND CONCERT HELD ON JANUARY 17

January 17th is the date of the next concert to be given by the Medford band. The dance that was held after the December concert proved to be a most successful venture, and the band members have decided to follow the concert on January 17 with another popular dance the charge for which will be 50c a couple. A large crowd is assured for next Wednesday's event, over 400 tickets having been disposed of. The program promises even to surpass the excellent standard set at last month's entertainment which was pronounced one of the finest local functions ever staged in Medford. A feature will be the initial show of "Root's Juvenile Orchestra" comprised of over a score of Professor Root's pupils. There will be several additional vocal and instrumental solos between the band and orchestral numbers, and those wishing to enjoy a real musical evening at 25c admission, as well as supporting the band can make no mistake in attending on Wednesday evening, January 17th.

ALL PULL TOGETHER

BY a decisive vote the people of Medford have a second time rejected the Medynski plan of rebonding the city to pay the Baneroff act improvement bonds, adopted the Hanson plan, providing a systematic schedule for financing the city, and elected a city administration pledged to carry it out.

The majority was so overwhelming that there can be no doubt about the will and intent of the people. Medford is nearer united than for many years, which augurs well for the city. Only a united community can progress and prosper.

Mr. Medynski and his following made a valiant fight for a lost cause. November 9, 1915, the Medynski plan was defeated in all three wards by a majority of 112, receiving 648 to 760 against it. In Tuesday's election the vote for the plan decreased to 555, and the majority against increased to 396. The result indicates plainly the sentiments of the people, as does the majority of 613 for the Hanson plan.

It is the part of good citizenship and civic patriotism to accept cheerfully the verdict of the majority. Next to a winner, the world loves a good loser, and it is to be hoped, for the good of Medford, that Mr. Medynski and his supporters of the Medynski plan prove good losers.

It is unfortunate that ill-advised supporters insisted upon Mr. Nordwick's candidacy against his desires, thus unnecessarily complicating the situation, through misunderstandings, and forcing undeserved humiliation upon a most worthy citizen. Attempted injection of the religious issue by fanatics met a deserved rebuke—as it always should.

Now that the election is over, let us forget the petty strife and animosities engendered and unitedly work for a greater and a better Medford, for united we prosper, divided we make for adversity.

PASSING US BY

A SAN FRANCISCO dispatch tells of millions of dollars to be invested in irrigated sections of California in beet sugar factories.

A syndicate represented by White & Co. of New York has planned to erect a factory near Tracy, San Joaquin county. Efforts are also under way to convert the Surprise valley, Modoc county, in which the Mormon church is interested, into a great beet sugar manufacturing district. The two projects are independent, but involve an investment of $8,900,000.

The Western Sugar Refining company, controlled by the Spreckels, has planned a 10,000-acre sugar beet ranch and a $2,000,000 factory at Manteca, San Joaquin county. Some of these millions could and would be diverted into the Medford district of the Rogue River valley if we had irrigation. Not only do we lose sugar factories, but canneries and creameries. Opportunity will continue to pass by and the valley lose every year more than the total cost of putting water on the land, until the land-owners awaken to its necessity.

Having defeated the district plan, it is time for the large land-owners, who claim to favor irrigation, to come forward with a practical proposition for securing it.

When they have studied the question in all its phases, they will probably realize that the district plan is not only the cheapest and most equitable for all concerned, but offers the land-owner the only security of permanency. Meanwhile, the valley marks time, awaiting action.

Logically Speaking

(Editorial in the Jewish Tribune, Portland.)

The Jewish people have always been noted for their patriotism and deep interest in the community of which they are citizens. Thus it has become almost a byword that where Jews reside there business and social conditions prosper and thrive.

The state of Oregon is a commonwealth of wondrous opportunity, and our people residing therein have prospered. Necessarily they take a deep interest in matters that affect progressive legislation and commercial legislation that tend to uplift.

One of Oregon's important industries is that of salmon packing. The Columbia river is the main source of this king of fish. The Rogue river in southern Oregon, also produces a desirable species of the salmon. Two canneries are in operation at the mouth of the river, the industry amounting to a quarter of a million dollars annually. This river was open to fishing since the year 1860 until 1910, when a few anglers secured the passage of restrictive legislation. The title of this when it appeared on the ballot was misleading. This bill was, however, repealed in 1913. Another attempt is to be made to re-enact it. The result would be a confiscation of a quarter million dollar property, the loss of livelihood of several hundred employees and the loss to Curry county, and the Rogue river country of its largest pay roll. This is, indeed, shortsightedness and cannot upon due deliberation be permitted.

We sincerely trust that no radical and harmful legislation of this kind will be introduced or permitted at the coming session of the legislature. We have every confidence in the probity, loyalty and good "horse sense" of our legislators that they will not consider any such legislation—legislation that would mean a death blow to the largest industry in the Rogue river country and would act as a boomerang on the entire state.

The Rogue river is surely big enough for both the angler and the commercial fisherman, and it does not speak well for the sportsman (that the angler is supposed to be) to get the hog and ruin a valuable industry.

LISTER URGES NON-PARTISAN ELECTION BILL

OLYMPIA, Wash., Jan. 10.—The passage of a preferential presidential primary law, of a non-partisan election bill and a law that would bring about absolute prohibition in the state were measures recommended today to the consideration of the Washington state legislature by Governor Ernest Lister in his second inaugural message.

"I am sure," he said, "that the great majority of the voters of the state of Washington desire to be allowed to express their preference for their party nominee for president of the United States and would respectfully recommend the passage of a preferential presidential primary law, so that such expression may be given by the voters."

The governor declared the recent elections indicated that the spirit of partisanship in connection with the selection of public officials was rapidly disappearing, and in recommending the passage of a non-partisan election bill covering all state, county and city officials said: "The people would be better served were partisanship entirely eliminated."

He urged the passage of an additional prohibition measure, which would stop the importation of liquor for personal use now permitted under restrictions.

"The tendency," he said, "is clearly toward nation-wide prohibition; the state of Washington has indicated its views by the advanced steps already taken. The benefit to the people is so apparent that I believe you will be acting wisely if you enact into law at this time a measure that will bring about absolute prohibition in the state."

G. O. P. ELECTORS REFUSE TO SEND MRS. HANLEY EAST

SALEM, Or., Jan. 10.—Despite an impassioned plea by Judge R. R. Butler of The Dalles, that a woman messenger be sent to Washington to carry to the electoral college the five electoral votes of Oregon and east them for Charles Evans Hughes, the Oregon electors selected J. F. Wilson of Multnomah county as the messenger. Judge Butler was the only one to cast his vote for Mrs. Edward B. Hanley of Medford. In his speech favoring Mrs. Hanley, Judge Butler said:

"The large woman vote in this state should be given recognition, and I believe that Mrs. Edward B. Hanley, who so earnestly and devotedly entered into the campaign for Mr. Hughes, should be honored with the position of messenger to carry our votes back to Washington and register them for our candidate."

The electoral college will meet at Washington on the fourth Monday of this month, which will be January 29.

The electors, after their meeting, sent the following telegram to Chas. Evans Hughes and a similar one to Charles Warren Fairbanks, candidates for president and vice-president at the recent election:

"In the democratic desert of the Pacific northwest there is one great oasis of republicanism—the state of Oregon. We, the undersigned electors, take pleasure in informing you, that we have this day cast the vote of Oregon for you for president of the United States and are much gratified to have this pleasure and privilege. We regret exceedingly that this vote is not effective in making you president.

"R. R. BUTLER, WILLIS J. COTTEL, W. P. KEADY, W. C. NORTH, J. F. WILSON. Attest: BEN W. OLCOTT, Secretary of State."

SOCIALISTS EXPOSE U-BOAT WAREFARE

AMSTERDAM, Jan. 10.—The German socialists' vorwaerts association has declared emphatically against unrestricted submarine warfare, according to a Berlin dispatch to the Rheinische Westfahliche Zeitung of Essen. The dispatch quotes Herr Ebert, a socialist member of the reichstag, as saying at a meeting of the organization January 8:

"We expect the German government to leave no stone unturned in support of President Wilson's efforts for peace. On no condition must our relations with neutrals risk being prejudiced by unrestricted warfare."

Clear, Peachy Skin Awaits Anyone Who Drinks Hot Water. Says an inside bath, before breakfast helps us look and feel clean, sweet, fresh.

Sparkling and vivacious—merry, bright, alert—a good, clear skin and a natural, rosy, healthy complexion are assured only by pure blood. If only every man and woman could be induced to adopt the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of the thousands of sickly, anemic-looking men, women and girls, with pale or sallow complexions; instead of the multitudes of "nervy wooks," "rundowns," "brain fags" and pessimists we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere. An inside bath is had by drinking each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds, and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance, awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK. When Mixed with Sulphur It Brings Back Its Beautiful Lustre at Once. Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred fold. Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.
