REPLY OF ALLIES GIVES SATISFACTION TO BRITISH PRESS

LONDON, Jan. 12.—The Manchester Guardian says the reply of the allies to President Wilson is "a hotly conceived statement of the position of the allies, which goes a long way towards satisfying President Wilson's request for information as to the specific reasons for continuing the war."

The note is conceived in a wholly different spirit from Germany's reply, according to the newspaper. It believes the reference to the rights of all peoples, small as well as great, to security from great powers refers especially to the vital need of Russia for free use of the passage to the Mediterranean through the Dardanelles, as well as the corresponding need of Serbia and Montenegro of free access to the Adriatic.

This newspaper sees the final breakup of the Ottoman empire in the demand for the expulsion of the Turks from Europe and asks: "Would Americans, who have watched with horrors the massacres of which the Turks have been guilty, think that would be a misfortune to the world?" The article concludes: "The allies put their aims high. They are perhaps the maximum rather than minimum terms. But the allies are careful to state that the ruin or political destruction of the Germanic powers forms no part of their objects which is as it should be. One thing we miss, and that is a clear statement that they look forward to the American proposal of a league to enforce peace as an essential part of the guarantee for the future which are to be included in the condition of peace but this may be implied and we trust it is intended."

REPLY CLARIFIES ATMOSPHERE, VIEW OF LONDON PAPERS

LONDON, Jan. 12.—Commenting on the speeches of Premier Lloyd George and Chancellor of the Exchequer Bonar Law in the Guild Hall yesterday on the reply of the entente allies to President Wilson and on the note issued by the central powers to neutral countries, the Westminster Gazette says it is an advantage to see these events grouped together and to be able to weigh their relations.

Referring to Premier Lloyd George's statement that the Rome conference, the Pall Mall Gazette says: "The note should be a broom to sweep away many cobwebs. The passages which outline the resettlement of Europe are of the most supreme interest. There has been no more momentous announcement for a hundred years. It is a proclamation that will make the world's pulse beat faster and put fresh enthusiasm into the soldiers of freedom."

The Globe says: "We are sure the German people will receive the note in a spirit of welcome and that now the (entente) allies' objects are known, their longing for peace will be more than ever manifest. The Germans now know that none of the allies dreams of that extermination of which they have been taught to expect. What has the individual German to lose by acceptance of the allies' terms? Such reorganization will enable him in common with the rest of Europe to live in security and peace."

The Westminster Gazette says: "These words, we may feel sure, were carefully weighed and they mean that though in our opinion we can prevent the enemy from winning his victory, it is yet to be proved whether we can win ours."

TREPOFF OUSTED BY CZAR IN ORDER TO DEFEAT DUMA

BERLIN, Jan. 12.—The fall of Premier Trepoff of Russia is said by the Overseas News agency to have been occasioned by the decision of Emperor Nicholas to take a decided stand against the radical elements.

The following details, the news agency says, have just been received from Russia: "The involuntary resignation of M. Trepoff and M. Ignatieff (former minister of education) are described as beginning the complete reorganization of the Russian government. Prompted by the assassination of Rasputin, the emperor decided to take the firmest stand against the radical elements."

"M. Trepoff and other members of the cabinet, with the exception of M. Protopoff, minister of the interior, were shielding the murderers. M. Protopoff, who up till that time had received only a provisional appointment, was confirmed in office by the emperor without the knowledge of M. Trepoff. Thereupon the premier and the other ministers hastened to the emperor's headquarters and protested against recent developments. The answer of the emperor was that he had decided to reorganize the cabinet and exclude all ministers who had taken part in the protest. M. Trepoff and M. Ignatieff, who in particular were suspected of liberal views, have left the cabinet."

"The power behind the throne is now M. Protopoff. Prince Golitzine, who nominally is the new prime minister, is best characterized as to his political tendencies by a saying of his which is known all over Russia: 'The duma will keep quiet as soon as it gets a beating.'"

PICKETS SALUTED BY THE PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Although the temperature was 11 degrees below freezing and a cold wind was blowing, the twelve "silent sentinels" again took up their picketing of the white house today to impress their cause upon President Wilson.

When President Wilson returned from golf, the silent sentinels stood at salute with right hands to their hats. The president smilingly returned the salute, noting the sentinels for the first time.

As the day wore on, the sentinels got so cold that they marched up and down in squads with military precision.
