A freight car congestion in the Oakland railroad yards makes it the opinion that the Medford yards in commercial affairs will care for shipping matters. The yards in the Bay district are crowded with cars awaiting motive power to take them over the Siskiyous. The yards in the south have been exceptionally busy for several months past. A shortage of engines on the Siskiyou division, and the recent heavy snow storms in the mountains account for the freight congestion.

HOLDING COMPANIES MUST PAY TAXES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The federal government, in a supreme court decision today in litigation with the Benguet, Sutton and Rosecastle Land companies of Minneapolis, was held to have authority to collect large amounts of taxes under the corporation and income tax laws, from holding corporations which are lessors of mining securities.

The corporations, the court decided, "are organized for profit," and "doing business" within the taxation clauses of the corporation tax law.

The court also sustained the government's contentions that royalties received are taxable gross income, instead of return of capital, as contended by the corporations.

WHITE SLAVE LAW UPHELD BY SUPREME COURT of the testimony adduced and as to certain facts tending to establish the guilt or innocence of the accused. This court does not weigh the evidence in a proceeding of this character and it is enough to say that there was substantial testimony tending to support the verdict rendered by the trial court."

Dissenting Opinion.

The dissenting opinion filed by Justice McKenna, which was not read from the bench, held it was clearly the intent of congress to reach only commercialized vice.

"Immoral is a very comprehensive term. It covers every form of vice. It will be readily conceded that in the sense it is used in the statute there is no uncertainty as to the conduct it describes. It is commercialized vice, immoralities having a merchantable purpose. It is vice for a business in which the law is directed.

Encourages Blackmail.

"The measure that protects the purity of women from assault or enticement or degradation finds an incongruity in one that encourages the cultivation of their immorality. But the judicial function cannot yield to emotion. If the court should not shut its eyes to what everybody knows and everybody knows there is a difference between the accustomed immoralities of men and women and that environment and necessary immorality engendered in the statutes grimly phrased 'white slave traffic.' And it was such immorality that was in the legislative mind and not the other. The other is occasional, not habitual, inconspicuous—does not offensively intrude upon the public notice."

Regarding the contention that the construction given the law by the majority of the court opens the way to its use in blackmail, the dissenting opinion said:

"Blackmailers of both sexes have always, under the terms of the construction now sanctioned by this court, as a basis for their propaganda. The result is grave and should give us pause."

Dupe Married Girl.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15.—Fannie Lowe Cammerer, who, with Maury I. Diggs, was Chief agent for the United States supreme court notary from a white slave commission, is the wife of Anthony Caminetti, commissioner general of immigration of the United States. He is at present on a visit to Amador county.

Diggs, at present, resides in Berkeley with his wife, who was Martha Waterman. She met he rose to Reno, Nev., with Caminetti and Lola Norris in March, 1913. Diggs married Martha Waterman, a sacramento girl, a year ago, after his wife divorced him.

Throughout the prosecution of Diggs and Caminetti, following a raid of dance resorts in Reno, the men maintained personal friendship. They were formerly co-workers.

When Diggs heard of the supreme court's adverse ruling he telephoned John W. Preston, United States district attorney here, and said:

"I'm ready. When do you want me?"

Preston informed him that it would be thirty days, probably before bond formalities had been considered.

"I'm glad of the delay. It will give me time to straighten out my affairs," said Diggs.

APPAM CASE ARGUED IN SUPREME COURT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—On the first anniversary of the sinking by the German raider Moewe of the British steamer Appam, seven months after the Germans had captured the vessel in mid-ocean, one of the oddest single prizes of the war, were argued today before the supreme court. The vessel is now lying at Newport News, Va., and the German claimants are appealing from a decree of Federal Judge Waddill of Virginia, ordering return of the vessel and cargo to the former British owners.

REINFORCEMENTS FOR CARRANZISTS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Reinforcements from the south totalling 10,000 men under command of General Obregon have arrived at Torreon, Mexico, to assist the "primera" faction there against the "convention" forces under Villa and Zapata, it was learned today in state department circles.

BUSINESS COLLEGE CHANGES MANAGEMENT

Grant I. H. Jansen, for several years secretary of the Medford chain of 12 business colleges in California, and general manager of the main college in San Francisco, has been in Medford several days looking over most of Brother Jansen's interests here and has turned the affairs of the all round manufacturer's brother.

The present management will endeavor to widen the scope of work in Medford and it hopes to be able to place students in Medford from as far south as Yreka and Klamath Falls on the north, to Roseburg and Eugene on the west. The neighboring towns of San Francisco, Oakland and the city of Medford will do their teaching under one roof during the year, and students from San Francisco and Oakland will attend the college at San Francisco, the best in Southern Oregon.

MOTHERHOOD WOMAN'S JOY

Suggestions to Childless Women.

Among the virtues of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the ability to correct sterility in the cases of many women. This fact is well established as evidenced by the following letter and hundreds of others we have published in these columns.

Poplar Bluff, Mo.—"I want other women to know what a blessing Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been to me. We had always wanted a baby in our home but I was in poor health and not able to do my work. My mother and husband both urged me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so, my health improved and I am now the mother of a fine baby girl and do all my own house work."—Mrs. Anna B. Timmons, 214 Almond St., Poplar Bluff, Mo.

In many other homes, once childless, there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women strong, healthy and strong.

Write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for advice—it will be confidential and helpful.
