Grieves was a business visitor at the county seat Saturday. Ed Saltmarsh of Buncum has been spending several days in town. Mrs. M. L. Nelson returned from Klamath Falls Sunday, being accompanied by Mrs. Pearl Hollingsworth and her small daughter. Charles Dunford, Jr., came in from Buncum the latter part of the week. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jennings, Mrs. Paul Anderson and Mrs. Tohu Garrett motored to Ashland Thursday. F. J. Fiek was a business caller at Medford Thursday. Those present were: Mrs. Harry Lay, Mrs. F. J. Fiek, Mrs. Charles Nunan, Mrs. B. M. Collins, Mrs. Guy Harper, Mrs. Rowell Hines and Mrs. Lewis Ulrich. ASHLAND AND VICINITY

The 1917 directory of the Masonic bodies of Ashland is out. Membership in the various orders number 1085, classified as follows: Ashland Lodge, No. 23, A. F. & A. M., 200; Siskiyou Chapter, No. 21, R. A. M., 142; Malta Commandery, No. 4, K. T., 179; Hillah Temple of Shriners, 334; Alpha Chapter, No. 1, O. E. S., 229. In addition to its individual membership the Shrine has a dozen honorary members, including temple notables located in territory extending from San Francisco to Boston. Beginning with the present year Hillah Temple has a distinctive directory of its own, containing not only the names but also the addresses of each individual member. Martin Anchobergy, a Frenchman of Lakeview, well known hereabouts as the perpetrator of an atrocious murder in Lake county, and who is serving a life sentence in the Oregon penitentiary, has offered if pardoned to return to France and enlist in the army. The county officials have frowned upon this prospect, although the convict's request was backed by the French consul at San Francisco. Some expressions of sympathy are apparent in behalf of Jeff Tomason, convicted here last week for shooting deer out of season. It develops that his family are in absolute straits for the necessities of life, and sending to jail for thirty days in lieu of a $50 fine only complicates matters. However the sentence was made as lenient as possible under the statute and the peculiarly aggravating circumstances as to plain violation of the same laws. In line with a general agitation over the question the pastor of the Presbyterian church handled the problem of Sunday moving pictures shows in his sermon yesterday morning, taking the stand that they should be absolutely suppressed. Furthermore, parents and teachers in the public schools should set an example before the children by not patronizing the movie shows on the Sabbath day. No objection was made to these entertainments on week days within due bounds.

Miss Helen Moore left early in the week to resume her work as teacher of the Laurel Hill school, a district located near Eagle Point.

Wm. E. Young, husband of Mrs. Alice M. Young who is recorder of Siskiyou county, died at Yreka last week, aged 52 years.

C. W. Root entertained at dinner last Thursday evening at Hotel Austin, a number of Chautauqua officials and their families, the guests of honor being Rev. J. S. Smith, a vice-president of the association, his wife and daughter, who are about to leave Ashland for a residence at San Diego. About a score were present. Speeches were in keeping with fine dining appointments, and Mr. Smith dwelt entertainingly over reminiscences of Ashland's progress along civic and educational lines during his residence here. The best wishes follow this family to their new southern home.

Nearly a score of Shriners left here on Friday evening for Portland, as representatives from Hillah Temple, to participate in the ceremonial to be held by Al Kaden Temple of the metropolis. W. E. Newcombe, potentate of Hillah, headed the delegation, which was reinforced by Henry Vaupel, Hal McInlaur, Tom Simpson and other "sticklers." Before entraining here Vaupel shaved off his mustache, a heroic act which betokened a sacrifice preliminary to undergoing the ordeal of the ceremonies at Portland.

Pictures of Oregon wild birds and animals as exhibited at the Vining last week by State Biologist Finley were greatly appreciated. Many from out of town enjoyed the entertainment in addition to townspeople. Among the number Mrs. Edith Davenhill brought in an auto load of little folks from the Valley View school district northwest of town.

A fire alarm last Friday summoned the department to the Barney residence at the head of Gresham street, where an incipient blaze was extinguished with only minor damage. Dr. Leon Patrick, former Ashland boy, who has practiced in Los Angeles for some time past, is now located at Orange, Calif., with offices in the Smith-Grote block.

Wong Wong, a protegee of Wah Chung, and employed by the latter on railroad contract work in Josephine county, died at the Granite City hospital last Tuesday, aged 68 years. Funeral will be held at Dodge's undertaking parlors Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 31, at 2 o'clock. Interment in Mountain View cemetery.

Trainmen running out of Ashland report that Red Bluff is to have a new local train between that town and Gerber, the Shasta division's terminal near that city.

The nation-wide movement to induce people to repair their old shoes instead of casting them into the discard does not seem to have struck Ashland as yet, judging from the number of pairs of worn-out footwear which were recently thrown at a newly married couple.

Ashland Camp No. 243, Woodmen of the World, installed the following officers last week: H. E. Ewer, consul commander; J. B. Wimer, lieutenant commander; J. P. Roche, banker; J. R. Wick, clerk; C. E. Lane, secretary; T. K. Bolton, manager. On Saturday evening the women's auxiliary of Azora Circle No. 54 also installed, the major officers being Mrs. Anna Meyer, guardian neighbor; and Mrs. Josephine Crocker, clerk. The ceremonies were followed by a social entertainment in keeping with the traditions of the order.

If House Bill 260 becomes a law, Representative Sheldon will be credited with the enactment of a statute which provides that the state parole board shall consist of three members instead of five, and that a parole officer shall be appointed.

Emil Pail, nominally an implement dealer, has imported 165 White sewing machines in one shipment, which will be carried as a side line, he having secured the agency for Jackson, Josephine, Klamath and Siskiyou counties. The machines came direct from the factory at Cleveland, O.

Redding is to have a brand new passenger station, sometime this year which quoting an expression attributed to Supt. Metcalf of the Shasta division, "will be a fine one."

The local postoffice has been dealing out seeds gratis, in line with the government's annual distribution. The appointment was strictly impartial as to extent and variety. If one inclined towards a vegetable diet the prescription included cucumber, endive, lettuce, parsnips and radish. For those who dote on peas, the kohlrabi, arpaoholia, poppy and eschscholtzia were freely available while the supply lasted.

Weakness of the electric current made it very unsatisfactory, when finally Mr. Painter came in with an armful of bed quilts and hung them over the windows, and that made it a little better, but still there was too much sunlight came in, so on the whole the movie was not up to expectations.

Mrs. Henry Kippell of Medford came out Friday morning and took the Eagle Point-Perist stage for Trail to visit her daughter, Miss Alice, who is living on their ranch on Trail creek. J. H. Baker, agent for the Overland automobile, came out Friday and brought Mrs. A. N. Thomas of Central Point to visit Mrs. Howlett. L. D. Hart, a forest ranger of Klamath Falls, came in Friday evening to spend the night, taking the Eagle Point-Lake Creek stage at noon Saturday.

EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

By A. C. Howlett

The last time that I wrote for the Mail Tribune I was so crowded for time that I didn't have time to write all the items I had, so will give a part of them, at least, in the beginning of this letter.

Marsh Garrett, owner of one of the best stock ranches in the Lake Creek country, and Frank Miller, who owns a stock ranch in eastern Oregon, both live in Medford, were here last Tuesday for dinner and to visit their old neighbor and friend, William Holman, who has his leg broken and is stopping at the Sunnyside.

Also C. C. Cate, our county pathologist, Howard Bushnell, Henry Van Hoevenburg, Jr., of Sam's Valley, and Henry Schumann-Heink of Medford were here for dinner the same day. They were on their way up to the A. Corbin orchard. Mr. Van Hoevenburg, Jr., has it rented and is now operating it. Mr. Cate was also here the next day for dinner. He said that he was riding around the country talking to the farmers about the prospect for fruit, etc., this year.

Frank Carlson and Mr. L. Port, two of the forest rangers, spent Tuesday night with us. A man by the name of L. L. Conger passed through here Wednesday with a band of about twenty-five head of cows, on his way to the Big Butte country. And the same day Ben Brophy drove about 125 head of mixed cattle over to the valley to have them fed.

A. B. Cox, a traveling man, who has his headquarters in Portland and is traveling in the interest of four hardware manufacturing establishments, was here the first of the week visiting his brother-in-law, Dr. W. W. P. Holt.

Mrs. P. T. Newport, wife of the Pacific & Eastern Railway agent, of Medford, came out Wednesday evening, spent the night with her brother, Amos Ayres, and wife, and Thursday took the train for her parents', E. J. Ayres, spending the night with them. George Little, formerly of Central Point, but now a resident of California, is here visiting his brother-in-law, David Cingende, and family.

John Reter, one of the tonsorial artists of Jacksonville, was out here for dinner Thursday, and his son Raymond has got to be almost a regular boarder here. He seems to like this climate very much.

J. V. McIntyre, the cashier of the First State Bank of Eagle Point, and wife came in for dinner Thursday. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Davis and C. E. Truett of Talent, and just as they were about through dinner Mr. Findley, the expert forester, and J. H. Dristoll came in for a hurry-up dinner, for they had only half an hour to eat dinner and go to the opera house, get ready to meet an engagement for a movie show at 1 o'clock, and before they were through Frank Brown, one of the firm of George Brown & Sons, came in with J. H. Cookson, a traveling man representing L. Dinkelspiel Co. of San Francisco, and about that time, Miss D. A. Barrenger, representing the Standard Pattern Co., came in, and with Mrs. Murphy, her mother, Mrs. William Holman, Mrs. Ray Harnish, beside the home folks, it made up quite a bunch, but we all got through and some of us started for the opera house to see the movie picture show, and just as I reached the foot bridge I met Mrs. Shesler and about twenty-five of the school children on the bridge, and on an inquiry learned that one of those little woolly dogs that are generally considered a nuisance had followed one of the children to school that morning, and after annoying the teacher, Mrs. Shesler, and the children all the forenoon, had bitten one of the little boys, Heath Childreth, through the lip, but fortunately the bite did not tear out, simply making a painful wound, and at last account the boy was getting along all right. Well, after the matter was talked over with the teacher and the brother, we all went to the opera house to see the show, and there we found that the Brownish school had chartered a team, wagon and hay rack and the Reed Creek school had come to wagon and on horseback; the Weller and Roosevelt schools had turned out, and with our school and the grownups we had the house pretty well filled, and after waiting for over half an hour to get the "juice" hooked up and the machine properly arranged, the movies began to appear, but there was so much light in the room that we could hardly distinguish what they were intended to represent. The daylight coming in and the
