EM-TEES

THE CORNET.
The cornet is a piece of wind wrapped up in brass. The fellow that invented the cornet must have been sore at himself. The cornet may sound pleasing to some people, but then a tearache is pleasing a week after it's pulled out.

The cornet is a nice looking article —and so is a peacock, but as yet there are no peacock solo records on the phonograph market. We used to respect the cornet as being a musical machine, but that was before the rummy next door got one. He takes lessons via mail order.

It must take a lot of wind to play the cornet, not overlooking nerve.
Before this goof next door has the evening meal toothpick half chewed he's up in his boudoir pushing wind in the cornet, and when it spills out the other end it sounds like a couple of roosters gargling, with an snarl reposing on a half portion of their windpipes.

FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD
IMPEACHMENT DROPPED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—Representative Lindbergh told the house judiciary committee today he had no direct evidence to support his impeachment charges against the federal reserve board. The affair is considered closed.

FUNSTON'S FUNERAL SATURDAY

is ill and confined to a bed at the home of her daughter, Mrs. F. A.
Eckdahl, here.

Greatest Funeral Cortège.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20.—Major General Funston, the body was expected to arrive at Oakland this Friday afternoon at one o'clock. The cortège probably will meet the flag-draped casket at the ferry building on the San Francisco side and led by General Funston and his staff officers the casket will move across the city to the residence, a distance of five or six miles.

No such funeral cortège as planned has passed through the streets of San Francisco since Major General William Shafter was buried.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20.—Flags on every municipal building in San Francisco were ordered at half mast today until after the funeral here Saturday of General Funston.

Expressions of regret were heard on all sides today from men and women who went through the San Francisco fire and earthquake of 1906 when Funston, then stationed at the presidio, as commander of the western department of the United States army, came to the rescue of law and order with his soldiers and threw open the military reservations to the thousands of homeless citizens.

A GOOD WINTER HABIT

Many people dread winter because the sudden climatic changes bring colds, grippe, rheumatism, tonsillitis or bronchitis. But thousands of well-informed men and women today avoid much sickness for themselves and their children by taking a few bottles of Scott's Emulsion to make richer blood, fortify the membranes of the throat and chest and create body warmth to resist sickness. Soldiers at war receive cod liver oil; it will also strengthen you.

ESPIONAGE BILL
GIVES WAR SPIES
LIFE SENTENCE

Bill Passed Today By Senate Provides Drastic Penalties for Spies—President Given Arbitrary Power to Secure National Defense—Muni-cations and Ships May Be Seized.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—The administration espionage bill, providing severe penalties for spying on matters of national defense and punishing conspiracies to violate American neutrality was passed today by the senate by a vote of 60 to 10.

The bill passed takes in fourteen separate measures suggested by the department of justice and was put through virtually unchanged, despite the opposition of several senators, who declared its terms so stringent as to imperil American liberty of speech and of the press. It has not passed the house.

By Section For Reaching.
The spy section is far-reaching in character, making it a crime, punishable with two years imprisonment or $10,000 fine to approach or enter any place connected with the national defense, to unlawfully obtain information, or to make photographs, blueprints, plans, etc., of things connected with such defense, or to dispose of a code or signal book or model or anything else of national defense value.
Where these things are done for a foreign government in time of peace, "whether recognized or unrecognized" by the United States, the penalty is increased to twenty years imprisonment and in time of war to life.
Any person who in war time, with the intent that it shall be communicated to the enemy, "shall collect, record, publish or communicate or attempt to elicit any information," with respect to the movement, numbers, etc., of the armed forces of the United States or its war materials or its plans of military or naval operations, "or any other information relating to the public defense, or calculated to be," shall be punished with death or by a fine and not more than thirty years of imprisonment. This penalty is reduced to three years imprisonment where there is no intent that the information be communicated to an enemy, but where it might be useful to such enemy.

President Given Power.
The president is given arbitrary power to designate other things and places in addition to those specifically named, which shall be included in the term, "national defense."

The bill includes sections making it a crime to make untrue statements under oath to influence the conduct of a foreign government in any dispute or controversy with the United States, to punish the impersonation of foreign government officials, to regulate the issuance of passports and punish their forgery and the conduct of movements of interned soldiers or soldiers.

May Seize Munitions.
Another important section of the bill authorizes the president to seize, detail or condemn munitions of war and ships, or any of them to carry them, destined to an enemy of a nation with which the United States is at peace and in so doing he is empowered to use the army and navy.

Regulation of the anchorage and movements of foreign ships in the waters of the United States in the case of national emergency is provided in another section, with power given to place guards on such ships to prevent damage. It is made pun-
for any person commanding or in charge of any private, foreign or domestic ship to destroy or injure it or to permit it to be used as a place of resort by conspirators against the United States or its treaties or obligations.

CUBAN REVOLT
HELD ILLEGAL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—It was admitted at the state department today that in another note President Menocal of Cuba has been formally advised by the United States that the liberal revolutionary movement is regarded as illegal and will not be countenanced by this government.
The Cuban president was assured that the leaders of the revolt would be held responsible by the United States for any mistreatment of foreigners or their interests. The note was presented to the Cuban government yesterday by American Minister Gonzales.

COUNTY COURT TO HELP CONSTRUCT
BLUE LEDGE ROAD

By W. W. WATSON.
Superintendent F. W. Carnahan of the Blue Ledge mine announced this morning that the operations on that property had just opened up a vein 30 inches in width that assays 25 per cent copper.

Every rod of depth gained bears out the estimates made so frequently that the ore will grow richer as the ledge is pursued into the mountain. All of the indications on which those estimates were originally made are increasing in favorable development.

A larger hauling force has been put on the road from the mine to the railroad and the rate of pay has been increased. It is the desire of the company to ship at least one carload of ore to the Tacoma smelter each week.

The results of operation of the Blue Ledge since work was last resumed are little less than sensational.
Judge Bartch of Utah, presiding at the increasing richness of the ore as depth is gained. Every indication respected by miners suggested H. D.
R. Rhodes declared, from equal inspection of properties in that district, that it would be so with several nearby claims now being worked.

County Court Ready to Act.
Messrs. A. L. Hill, Blaine Kimb and Vernon Vawter, the committee to confer with the county court to secure its cooperation in the matter of the road work proposed on Commonwealth Copper day, met Judge Tom Velle this morning and are pleased to report that the court is ready to act in concert with any reasonable plan of the Mineral Development league. The proposition to expend the sum necessary to blast the heavy granite formation in one or two offensive places on the Blue Ledge road, so the workmen on Copper day may handle a large cubic yardage in improvement of that highway, received the court's cordial endorsement.

It has been tentatively arranged for the road supervisor in that district and F. W. Carnahan, superintendent of the Blue Ledge, to direct that work.
Vernon Vawter, member of the committee, will complete the details of their participation in the job in a few days.

Therefore, the date for Copper Day has not yet been definitely set, Mr.
Carnahan believing that it ought to be deferred until about the middle of March. It will be possible to approximate the date more closely when that portion of the roadway to be "blown" ed, came in today. The French liner raine left Bordeaux at 1 a. m. today.

PERSHING WILL HEAD SOUTHERN
ARMY DIVISION

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—Major General Pershing notified the war department today that he had assumed command of the southern department embracing the American forces on the Mexican border, which post was held by Major General Funston. Secretary Baker said General Pershing's succession was automatic, he being the next in grade to General Funston.
General Pershing will retain command until a permanent successor is named by the war department. No consideration has been given to appointing a new commander for the southern department.

EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 20.—Major General John Pershing announced here today that he would remain here as acting commander of the southern department pending the receipt of orders from Washington. He will also retain command of the El Paso district for the present.

It was announced at district headquarters today that the body of General Funston would pass through here tomorrow at 5:30 p. m. and General Pershing had his staff at work today preparing a memorial program to be given while the body is here.

Pending the arrival of Major General Pershing from El Paso, Colonel Malvern Hill Barnum, General Fun-ston's chief of staff, will be in charge of the southern department and movement of National Guardsmen to their homes will not be delayed.

According to a cablegram received by the line's agents here. Her destination is New York.
