NO FREE GARDEN SEEDS THIS SPRING

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Since the home gardening movement began throughout the country as a means to meet the increased cost of food, the department of agriculture has been swamped with hundreds of thousands of requests for free seed. Officials of the department say that unfortunately they have no seeds to distribute. The free seeds provided by congress are distributed as members of congress themselves direct and this year's supply of about $200,000 worth was long ago exhausted. No more free seeds will be available until late in the summer. TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY MONEY TO LOAN—At 6 and 7 per cent interest on good security. HOME VEGETABLE GARDENS ON VACANT LOTS

The high cost of living is no longer a matter which we can sit back in our chairs and just about it has gotten to a point now where it has become a terrifically serious problem. The prices now, as every housewife knows, are exorbitant. Now let's get together and combat the food shortage. How in this way: Turn your non-producing backyards into vegetable gardens. Go to your back window today and nine chances out of ten you will be looking at a back yard full of rubbish and dirt piles. Now let's clean them up. Get the family together today and decide to make the back yard spruce and neat. Then instead of letting noxious weeds grow, plant a productive vegetable garden, and your worry about the high cost of green stuffs will be no more. The possibilities of back yard gardening are almost limitless. There are many acres of them undeveloped. Under cultivation that land would supply enough vegetables for hundreds of families.

If you have a vacant lot you want to donate for a home vegetable garden to someone or if you want a lot to garden phone this office.
