on Rogue river, on the Prospect road, and Bert Higginbotham spent Friday with us. George Mansfield came out primarily after six fine registered ewes that his father had had expressed from Sherwin in the Willamette valley. They are of the Shropshire breed and look as though they might be quite an accession to Mr. Mansfield's flock of sheep. He seems to be dealing in fine blooded stock, as I understand that he has some thoroughbred cattle on his farm. Bert Higginbotham came out to bring a load of household goods for William Kelly, who has been living in his neighborhood, Florence Rock. Bert reports that the snow was three feet deep at his place when he left home, but probably there is not so much now, as it was raining this Saturday morning, according to word received over the phone. E. L. Hallan, from California, has moved onto the old Heron orchard, where Newt Gorman has been living for the past few years. I haven't met him but hope that he will prove to be as companionable as Mr. Gorman has been. Mr. E. M. Koenig of Derby and F. O. Stinson of Prospect and Mr. Bering, the Butte Falls fish hatchery man, were on the P. & E. this morning on their way home and Mr. H. P. Berinton of Lake Creek got off here and took the stage for home. While here Mr. Bering renewed his subscription to the Weekly Mail Tribune. In addition to the three already mentioned, Henry Trusty, our mail carrier from here to Persist, Planning Leabo and Dr. W. P. Holt have renewed their subscriptions to The Daily Mail Tribune. E. H. Russell, sales engineer of the Kellogg Switchboard and Supply company, Portland, Ore., was here doing business with our telephone man, W. C. Clements, and while here took dinner with us.
